FIRST CROSSING MISHAP REPORTED

BIEBER, Calif.—The first grade crossing accident in this vicinity on the new Great Northern railroad line occurred Monday afternoon on the state highway two miles southeast of Bieber. A railroad light "pender" struck an automobile driven by R. Torson of Pondosa, of McCloud River Lumber company logging camp. The speeder jumped the track. The automobile turned over against the crossing sign which warns motorists to look out for the cars. Nobody was hurt.

Though the highway is heavily traveled and was built before the railroad, the tracks entering the Great Northern terminal were permitted to be laid across the road at grade. The state highway commission posted signs saying the highway may at some future time be elevated to cross the tracks.

INDIANS ESCAPE INJURY IN WRECK

BIEBER, Calif.—Five Indians, including one woman, escaped without serious injury Monday when a sedan in which they were riding went off the grade at the West Bieber corner on the state highway and rolled down an eight-foot embankment, landing on its top.

Bridge material was placed by the county this week, preparatory to re-opening the old direct road to West Bieber that was abandoned in part when the present state highway was located. The re-opening will shorten the route by half a mile to West Bieber, and the joint Western Pacific-Great Northern livestock shipping yards there.

Friendless Boy at County Jail in Need of Ranch Job

With no father or mother, no friends and no money, and the Klamath county jail his only shelter, 15-year-old Donald Moore longs to find a home on a ranch where he can work for his board caring for sheep and cattle, and doing general chores. The boy "hit the freight" last summer at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and came west hoping to find a job. He was picked up by Sheriff Low in Klamath Falls about three weeks ago, when, with an older man, he asked for food at the door of a local residence.

The older man was sent on his way by authorities, but Donald was kept by tender-hearted officials at the jail.

Becoming restless, he wanted to leave, but hated to part with the kindness he had found, so slept outside the county jail.

He was found the next morning, and was brought inside with a severe cold and a high fever. The orphan was then taken to the county infirmary, where he spent several days. He is now back in the county jail where he is fed and treated kindly, but he longs to be self-supporting and work for his "keep." For the past two days he has sold The Evening Herald and Klamath News on the streets of the city, and is proud of having earned a few cents toward his support. The boy is small for his age, and looks out on a none too cheerful world with big dazed blue eyes and a lovable but timid smile.

Anyone in the country or city who knows of a place Donald could work for his board during the winter, is asked to communicate with the county jail.

FIRE AT HARNEY'S

A smudge fire in grass under a house at 219 Washington, occupied by J. O. Harney, was blamed on children playing under the house by city firemen who answered the call Wednesday. There was no damage, the firemen said.

Al Capone attended a football game with his bodyguard recently. He certainly likes to be around when somebody "kicks off."

Amusements

The Pelican—Now playing, "Devil to pay," with Ronald Colman.

The Pine Tree—Now playing, "Politics," with Polly Moran and Marie Dressler.

The Rainbow—Now playing, "Her Man," with Helen Twelvetrees.

The Vox—Now playing, "Dancing Dynamite," with Richard Talmadge.

"Her Man"—After winning enthusiastic praise from local picture fans since its showing at the Rainbow theater on Tuesday last, the Pathé picture, "Her Man," a thrilling story of the scarlet streets of Havana, will close its record breaking run at that theater today.

The popular verdict regarding this tremendous story of slum life in the Cuban capital, is that it will rank as one of the outstanding pictures of the current season. The admirable portrayals of Helen Twelvetrees, Marjorie Rameau, Phillips Holmes, Ricardo Cortez, James Gleason and Franklyn Pangborn, the featured players, have evoked the warmest praise.

"Dancing Dynamite"—Why motion picture producers do not do more of the photographing of pictures with beautiful and romantic backgrounds is an inexplicable mystery. The producers of the latest Richard Talmadge talkie have set a splendid example in the filming of "Dancing Dynamite," at Catalina Island, in the Pacific for, in this swift moving action story all of the famed beauty spots of beautiful Catalina Island are shown.

"Dancing Dynamite" opens at the Vox theater today. A well rounded supporting cast adds to the value of the yarn. Folks who crave action and thrills will find them aplenty in "Dancing Dynamite."
