

FOOD, CLOTHES NEEDED FOR NEEDY HERE

During the present unemployment emergency, minor dental work for children will be done free of charge by Dr. O. J. Johnson, dentist, with offices in the Oregon Bank building, according to an announcement from the governor's relief committee after their Saturday morning meeting, at which Dr. Johnson made his offer.

About 450 men have applied to the governor's committee for employment up to the present time, according to an official report. Rations and groceries have been issued by the governor's food depot to 24 families, and the Parent Teachers' association has done much to alleviate distress by the distribution of clothing and food-stuffs.

Ed X. Kendall, who has been appointed by the committee to solicit donations, will present a detailed report at a meeting of the most and vegetables donated for relief work, at the next meeting of the committee, it was stated Saturday.

Judge Fred R. Goddard, chairman of the committee presented a report Saturday morning at a recent conference with State Highway Engineer Roy Klein. Judge Goddard declared that the state highway commission is endeavoring to work out a plan for emergency employment on secondary roads. It is probable that this plan will be completely formulated, and in working order in the near future.

Donations of wheat and flour would be welcomed by the governor's committee, as their present supply of these staples is inadequate, according to reports. Donations of carrots, onions and other vegetables are not plentiful enough to supply the demand, members of the committee stated.

Any one wishing to contribute any of these provisions for relief work may either leave them at the supply depot in the basement of the Moe building, at Room D at the court house or at the P. T. A. service shop on Klamath avenue.

A. P. MAN TO SPEAK
NEW YORK, Nov. 30, (P)—James P. Howe, chief of the Associated Press bureau of Tokyo, will describe the Manchurian situation and the task of reporting it for American newspaper readers in a 15 minute talk at 6 p. m., eastern standard time, today over a nation wide hookup of the National Broadcasting company. ## Pelican to Show Varied Programs

New show season, starting at the Pelican theater Tuesday with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in their latest comedy sensation "Caught Plastered," will also bring many short subjects, including comedies, novelties and travelogues.

ART EXHIBIT IS OPENED SUNDAY

One of the most interesting art exhibits ever shown in Klamath Falls, in that it represents talent of local people, was placed on display at the Sacred Heart Academy, Eighth and Jefferson streets, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 29, 30 and December 1.

The exhibit consists of 100 oil paintings of various sizes in landscape and still life; china of the latest designs in enamels and lustres; three fire screens in applied art and one Oriental screen of exquisite coloring and originality. Of special interest are the picture frames which are the work of pupils in the applied art class.

Students exhibiting art work are: Mrs. Fred Houston, Mrs. J. H. Driscoll, Mrs. W. D. Miller, Mrs. P. Hill Hunter, Mrs. G. I. Stebbins, Mrs. Irving E. Keatonson, Mrs. H. Joyaux, Mrs. G. A. Graham's Home—Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Graham returned Saturday morning from San Francisco and San Jose, Calif., where they spent the holidays. They spent Thanksgiving day in San Jose with Mrs. Graham's sister, Mrs. Bradley, and attended the St. Mary's-Oregon football game in Moraga. Graham is district freight and passenger agent on the Southern Pacific railroad. They make their home in the Linda Vista apartments.

TURKEYS WILL BE SHIPPED DECEMBER 10

A second shipment of turkeys produced by the Klamath Turkey Growers' association has been announced for December 10 and 11, at which time 2,500 turkeys will be shipped from Klamath Falls to eastern markets, according to E. M. Hauser, assistant county agent, and secretary of the association.

Recent clear cold weather has been beneficial to turkeys, causing them to mature rapidly, and it is expected that the quality of the next shipments will be better than those sent to market before Thanksgiving. A high percentage of prime birds is anticipated, according to Hauser.

No estimate of prices local growers will receive for their birds has yet been made, as the market is rather uncertain at present.

Klamath turkey growers expect to be notified during the coming week as to the prices brought by the Thanksgiving turkey pool. A meeting of the board of directors of the Klamath Turkey Growers association will be held in the county agent's office in the Klamath county court house on December 5, at which time final arrangements for the shipment of Christmas turkeys will be completed.

Logs Hauled For Relief Workers

Douglas J. Pickett of Keno has started hauling in logs from the Rock Creek district to the Salvation Army and the Klamath county fairgrounds. The logs will be used in winter relief work. Pickett has two trucks bringing the wood into the city. He started hauling two days ago.

Mail Fraud Worker Bound Over to Jury

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30, (UP)—Accused of working the old "obituary mail order" fraud, E. C. Tothe was bound over to the grand jury today.

To the allegedly clipped names of persons from obituary notices, then sent articles of small value C. O. D. to the homes of the dead persons. Relatives in some instances paid the large C. O. D. amount in the belief their dead kin had ordered an article just before death, it was said.

MANAGES PIRATES

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30, (AP)—George Gibson, of Toronto, today was named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Gibson, former manager of the Pittsburgh National League club, succeeds Jewel Ems.
