ALL SPORTSMEN ARE INVITED TO TUESDAY MEET

Tuesday night, December 8, Modoc Chapter Isaac Walton League, will hold its regular session, at which time officers for the ensuing term will be elected and take office. All members of Modoc chapter are requested to be present, as on the selection of officers and the support given them by the members depends the success of the organization.

Action of importance to every lover of field and stream will be up for consideration, in response to a letter from the State Game commission to the sportsmen of Klamath county, as well as to the sportsmen of the state, it was stated.

For this reason all members of the Klamath Sportsmen's association of Klamath county, as well as all lovers of field sports who are not affiliated with any organization, are invited to meet with Modoc chapter, and give their views on the matter.

An excerpt from this letter will show the importance of the matters to be considered, and it is to be hoped that the sportsmen of Klamath county will attend the meeting, so intelligent action may be taken, officers said. The excerpt follows:

"In its effort toward conservation and propagation, the Oregon State Game commission has been faced with the question of the advisability of reduced bag limits on game fish.

"Various arguments, pro and con, have been advanced on this subject. It has been suggested that for fish, this limit be reduced to 15 fish. Before any action is taken, it is our duty to obtain the views of the various sportsmen's organizations throughout the state, and this office would greatly appreciate an expression from your association in this regard.

The State Game commission holds its regular meeting on the second Monday of each month. The Klamath County Sportsmen's Association holds its regular meeting on the third Monday of each month. For this reason the officers of the two organizations decided to make a joint meeting, to be held at the Modoc chapter of the Isaac Walton League, in order to have the matter before the State Game commission at its next regular meeting.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock in the rooms of the Spanish War Veterans, in the basement of the court house.

to deliver it to President Hoover. The marchers arrived at the White House after a slow trek through back streets.

Benjamin asked Jervis that they be permitted to present their petition personally to President Hoover.

Jervis refused. As Benjamin insisted that it should be done, Jervis said:

"If you have a written petition, I will take it and see that it is handed immediately to President Hoover. That is no use arguing further."

Benjamin apparently accepted this ultimatum and went to get the petition.

After a brief conference with other leaders, however Benjamin refused to give Jervis a petition, either oral or written.

Jervis informed them his decision was "absolute and irrevocable."

Benjamin, hemmed in on all sides by policemen told Jervis: "If the President cannot see even so humble a delegation we will make our views known in the park across the street."

He referred to Lafayette Park, across the street from the White House grounds.

Howard Reversed On Byers' Ruling

school superintendent, and a hearing was held at Salem September 19. At this hearing four women teachers testified that Byers had "placed his hands on them." Byers had been teaching school for 13 years, and the defendant counsel stated, and this was the first time any charges of this type had been made.

The statement of the majority of the board of education followed:

"That the testimony has disclosed on the part of Appellant Byers undue familiarity with women teachers; that he has been guilty of certain acts of impropriety and indiscretion, and that his habits and characteristics have been personally offensive to members of his teaching staff.

"That we do not find evidence in the testimony sufficient to substantiate the charge of immorality in its accepted sense, and the penalty of revocation with its attendant implications being in our opinion too severe for the nature of the offenses testified to, do therefore hereby reverse the decision of the superintendent of public instruction, revoking the certificate of the said David Lee Byers."

"That in the opinion of this board the Appellant Byers has by the aforesaid acts of impropriety and indiscretion terminated his usefulness as a school leader in community where this action originated, and we recommend that he forthwith resign his position."

RUBBERERS ON NEW SERVICE GET JARGON

Words upside down will shortly be hurrying daily through the air to Hawaii.

This was made known today by A. G. Goehring, manager for The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, on the receipt of word that the new trans-Pacific radio-telephone circuit to Hawaii would be equipped with an "inverter" or "secrecy machine."

Telephone service to Hawaii will be ready in about two weeks, it was announced.

The "inverter" is necessary for secrecy. It changes the vibrations of words, making them unintelligible jargon. On the receiving end another "secrecy machine" changes this jargon back to plain English.

If one eavesdropped on the trans-Pacific radio-telephone circuit when someone said "Pacific Telephone Company," the words would sound something like this: "Ta-thith-uk play-to-teen crink-a-jay-out."

Farmers Organize To Obtain Relief

organize agriculture; strengthen and coordinate our service organizations, to get greater collective bargaining power; to strengthen and perfect our market system, that the American farmer may have the benefit of the tariff.

"Let us adopt a permanent, long time national land policy; secure a better financial system for agriculture, provide a more equitable tax system and a fair representation of agriculture in all government agencies; and a coordination of all agricultural forces in a common program."

"To carry out that program we must have a huge array of men and women throughout the nation. The only voice that is heard in the nation today is the voice of organization. We must be aroused and organized. It is our only salvation."

President O'Neal said the only ones opposed to the farm board were those previously in "undisputed control of our marketing system and who have profited greatly thereby." While complimenting the work done by the board, O'Neal said "We insist that the marketing board should and must be amended by Congress which almost at this minute is being called to order. We insist that this Congress give the federal farm board authority to charge all units of any given commodity, moving in the channels of trade, their proportionate shares of all necessary natural costs and losses resulting from the control of crop surpluses."

He said the federation was against the present system of corn and grain exchanges because, without regulation, "a small group have profited by market manipulations for many years."

As to the cry of "get the government out of business," in connection with agriculture, he said "American agriculture is perfectly willing to get the government out of business if it gets out of business for everybody."

"The equalization fee," he continued, "will in fact definitely take the government out of business. The cost of the marketing program utilizing the equalization fee will be borne by the farmer himself and not by the government."

The present administrators of the farm loan association, he said, needed to be changed because they were unsympathetic with rural needs and ideals. He also proposed relief of the taxation burden on lands withdrawn from production, and reduction or rescinding of taxes on legume lands, also a broad soil-erosion control program.

Difficult Coughs and Colds Need These Seven Helps

Cremulotion is a better help than to do the utmost. In coughs and colds that hang on it is essential. One does not trust such coughs to any lesser help. But don't you think that any cough calls for
