PLEA STARTED FOR BUS LINE TO CHILOQUIN

CHILOQUIN — Chiloquin people are starting an agitation to get the Great Northern to run their Bend-Klamath Falls bus into Chiloquin. Since the discontinuance of the regular stage service between this city and the county seat there has been no way for passengers to travel back and forth. Times of the S. P. trains are such that people wishing to reach Klamath during daylight hours find it impossible to do so.

The proponents of this plan to have Great Northern busses come in here to this city point out that it is only three miles longer to come in here to Chiloquin than to drive straight on through.

The matter will be taken up with the proper officials of the company and it is hoped that favorable action can be secured from the railroad. Chiloquin is on the main line of the Great Northern railroad and it is pointed out that that company should be willing to give bus service here to augment their

PLANS CONTINUE FOR WINTER CAMP

Boy Scout winter camp registrations are filling up the quota rapidly, according to information from the scout headquarters at the chamber of commerce. Older scouts who wish to be considered for this camp should register immediately. The boys expect to leave Monday morning, December 28, and return Thursday, December 31.

Camp will be established at the Weyerhaeuser logging camp near Keno. Indications are that there will be from a foot to 18 inches of snow for skiing and other winter sports.

All bed clothes will be furnished with the cabins, and scouts will eat in the regular mess hall of the logging camp. The boys will need to take only personal equipment, such as first aid kit, several pairs of extra socks, towel, soap, tooth brush, etc., and skiis or toboggan. Scouts without snow equipment will be able to borrow some at the camp.

Requirements for scouts planning to attend camp are that they must be first class scouts and 14 years of age. A number of scout leaders, including Dr. D. E. Standard of Phoenix, and Scout Executive O. E. Hoover, will attend. The camp is limited to 30 older scouts, 15 from Klamath Falls and 15 from the Rogue River valley.
