

Oregonians Make Grade In East

Johnny Kitmiller and Bill McKalip Selected on Second All-Star Team in National Professional League

By JOE PIGNEY

Johnny Kitmiller, something of a football immortal on the Pacific coast, has carried his name to the headlines of the Atlantic seaboard and the middle west. Johnny, the University of Oregon "Flying Dutchman" from Pennsylvania, was the first and only choice in the National Professional Football league for the "best first year player" in a game where cash is an open and honorable reward for gridiron excellence.

While Kitmiller was starting at fullback for the New York Giants, another Oregonian, Wild Bill McKalip, sensational Oregon State end, who finished his college career at the close of the 1930 season along with the Dutchman, continued his stunning play as an end for the Portsmouth, Ohio, pro eleven.

Both Kitmiller and McKalip were selected on the second all-star team, and that is one mythical squad thoroughly reliable for inclusion in the first 22 men were Ernie Nevers, Stanford; Red Grange, Illinois; Barranger, U. S. C.; and supplementary lists of former college stars brilliant since their first pulled on football uniforms.

There has been many a good-natured argument over the responsibility for Kitmiller's greatness as a football player. Kitz was a magnificent player for two years under Captain John J. McEwan, and for one year under Dr. C. W. Spears. He was a finished product, apparently born to football, and often the difference between an Oregon victory and an Oregon defeat depended entirely upon Kitmiller.

There can be no exaggeration in saying Kitmiller still would have been the ball carrier he was even though he had played under the most inferior coach in the country, and McEwan and Spears anything but inferior coaches. McEwan turned over to Spears one of the nation's finest football boys, and Spears knew it. There wasn't a more unhappy man on the University of Oregon campus the night before the Webfoot-Beaver game at Corvallis in 1930, when Johnny Kitmiller was definitely pronounced unfit to play. Kitz had injured his ankle in the U. S. L. A. game the Saturday before.

And there was never a more unhappy man in the world than Captain McEwan in 1929 when Kitz, after kicking Oregon State almost single-handed on Hayward field, fractured his ankle at the close of the first half.

Kitz entered that Oregon State game of 1930 for two plays. He sat huddled in the rain while the Orange rolled up a score in the first half, and then, just before the gun ended the second half, Spears rushed him in for a goal-line drive. The first play Kitz went six yards on his famous off-tackle smash. The second play his weak ankle collapsed in the soft mud and he fell at the line of scrimmage as the half ended.

When Johnny rose off the bench to enter that game the crowd at Bell field rose with him and cheered — Oregon State fans and Oregon, alike. The State team was shaken to see the man who had beaten it for two successive years limp out onto the field.

Kitz put up a brave but futile effort to get that one touchdown across, and if morale ever won a victory, a victory was won that day.

It was this Wild Bill McKalip who wrecked the Oregon team in its 15 to 6 defeat of 1930. With Kitz out Spears assigned the kicking job to Steve Fletcher, a long distance punter, but a slow one. The soup-like gridiron and the slippery ball gave Fletcher a tragic four quarters, and the two Oregon State touchdowns and the safety followed from blocked punts.

The man who blocked the punts was McKalip, time after time drifting past Oregon's big fullback, Ed Mueller. It was McKalip's day.

And now these two traditonal rivals meet again as members of the same professional all-star team.

Elliot's Resignation Thought Before Board

GROUP SILENT ABOUT RESULT OF CONFERENCE

Bill Elliott late Tuesday night informed The News and Herald he would inform the boxing commission Wednesday of his resignation as Klamath Falls promoter. Elliott declared his decision was prompted by criticism received in the newspapers.

Illness prevented Elliott attending the meeting of the boxing commission Tuesday. If the boxing commission of Klamath Falls moved into action at its meeting Tuesday afternoon, members of the group subscribed to a general silence on the results. No formal announcement came out of the conference, but it was understood the commissioners had gathered to discuss the tentative resignation of Bill Elliott, promoter.

The purpose of the meeting was side-tracked when the promoter did not attend. It has become possible that another promoter is under consideration, but the commission was not ready to verify the rumors of his identity. The man under consideration conferred with members of the commission, Tuesday, it was believed.

Talk of Elliott's possible resignation has followed his outright resignation several weeks ago. At that time the controversy was over the commission's percentage on the gate receipts. When that was patched up, Elliott resumed his duties upon the request of the commissioner. A definite announcement probably will be released within the next few days.

Yankees Bolster Infield by Purchasing Young Players

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Dec. 23, (AP)—Having spent a bundle of cash to bolster a wobbly infield, the New York Yankees should present a stronger front in the 1932 American league race.
Jack Saltsberger, brilliant young second baseman from St. Paul, and Frank Crosetti, who brought a fancy price tag with him from San Francisco, are the pair on whom manager Joe McCarthy is banking to bolster his troupe higher than third place.

Saltsberger's introduction to a Yankee uniform, it is predicted will mark the passing of the illustrious Tony Lazzeri at second base.
Gehrig, Ruth Stay
Crosetti is destined to fit in either at shortstop or third base. If he makes the grade at short, Lyn Lary will be shifted to the hot corner.

Lou Gehrig and Babe Ruth again will supply the big punch. Ben Chapman, the league's leading base stealer, promises to give the fans more and better thrills. The consuming subject of the bambino's new contract is not bothering club officials. They expect him to sign for less than $50,000 and enjoy another fine year.

Gardner's Balanced
With Ruth, Chapman and Earle Combs holding down the regular outfield and Sam Rice, Byrd, Myril Hoag and Allen Cooke in reserve, the ruppertmen offer a splendid balanced set of gardeners.

The catching staff, with Bill Dickey and Arndt Jorgens again ready to divide the work, leaves McCarthy nothing to worry about. Vernon Gomez, the cool castellan, who last year in his first full major league season was the second most effective pitcher in the American league, already has officially been appointed the club's "ace" for 1932.

He should receive some valuable help from Charlie Ruffing, George Pipgras, Gordon Rhodes, Ed Wells, Henry Johnson, Herb Pennock and a trio of newcomers, John Murphy, John Allen and Walter Brown.

Allen, recalled from Toronto, was the International league's leading pitcher last year and looks ready for faster company.

Gonzaga Signs Stater's Eleven

SPOKANE, Dec. 23, (AP)—With the signing of a two-game contract with Oregon State college for 1932 and 1933, Gonzaga university has four Pacific Coast conference football games on next year's schedule.

William Mulligan, Gonzaga graduate manager, said Oregon State would come here September 7, opening Gonzaga's season. The 1932 game will be played either in Portland or Corvallis.

Pair of Jacks Hit Each Other In Verbal Tilt

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 23, (UP)—Two famous Jacks, Dempsey and Sharkey, who once battled it out with fists are now engaged in a bitter verbal engagement.

Chapter 1: Salt Lake — Dempsey declared Sharkey is the "easiest mark of all the present group of heavyweights," that he was "soft and couldn't take a punch."

Chapter 2: Boston — "If I'm such an easy mark," answered Sharkey, "why doesn't Jack take me on... I think the public has heard enough of Dempsey's comeback. Actions speak louder than words and it's about time he did something about the comeback."

Chapter 3: Salt Lake — "Oh," remarked Dempsey when shown Sharkey's reply, "Jack's just looking for a bit of cheap publicity. If he were so good, why couldn't he knock Carners out after having him sprawling on the floor a couple of times?"

Japanese Make Rapid Strides In Baseball

NEW YORK, Dec. 23, (AP)—The Japanese are making rapid strides in baseball but they have some distance yet to go before they can rival Americans, says Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees. Gehrig was one of the major league group which recently completed a tour of the Orient.

"The players have progressed marvelously in a defensive way," he said. "But they lack the hitting strength and power of the American players."

And then there were the carrier pigeons in the pressbox at Tokyo. "Somebody would hit a triple or a home with meek here," he remarked, "and before the cheering had died down the pigeons would be on their way to the newspaper offices with a message about the hit."

CONNIE MACK REACHES 69; KEEN, ERECT

By EDWARD J. NEIL

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23, (AP)—Connie Mack, erect and keen as ever, entered his 70th year today, noticing only that birthday's seem to come faster and the years to shrink as time rolls along.

"I can't believe it," he said. "I don't feel as though I'm 69. I have just as much work to do as ever. More I guess."

In the 47 years he has given to baseball, he has seen the game develop from a rowdy pastime of elastic rules and heroic, comic opera figures, into a big business and a national sport, watched the mighty men of the past and present come and go.

Some Finesse Gone
There were great players in the old days just as there are today and the changes in conditions prevent any real contrast of their abilities.

"Today we have fellows like 'Pepper' Marlin, who dominates a world series show, and Ben Chapman, the Yankee who stole more bases last year than my whole team did this year," he said. "But they lack the hitting strength and power of the American players."

And then there were the carrier pigeons in the pressbox at Tokyo. "Somebody would hit a triple or a home with meek here," he remarked, "and before the cheering had died down the pigeons would be on their way to the newspaper offices with a message about the hit."

Former Boxer Dies in Fight

RAYMOND, Wash., Dec. 23, (UP)—The belief that he could "come back" after 21 years retirement from boxing brought death Tuesday to Hugh Bigelow. Bigelow promoted a fight card Monday night, and when one of his fighters failed to show up he asserted that he was just as good as ever.

DIXIE TEAM BAFFLED BY TROY PLAYS

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 23, (UP)—Southern California plays used by the second team completely baffled the Tulane university football squad here today when 23 players worked out for more than an hour in preparing for the Pasadena Tournament of Roses game with Southern California on New Year's day.

The stars of Tulane lost yardage consistently before the onslaught of mock opponents, directed by Ted Cox, line coach, who scouted the Southern California-Georgia game which the Georgians lost 69 to 0.

A hint of a smile was on the face of Coach Bernie Bierman, however, when the team entertained for Pasadena immediately after the workout. Some observers suspected he might be striving to develop over-confidence on the part of Southern California, but Bierman refused to discuss that matter.

"I'm satisfied," he said. "The boys are in the best of condition and are ready to give Southern California everything they have. We will be beaten, but it won't be as bad as I once thought. We may lose by two or three touchdowns, but the Green Wave is ready to put all it has into the game."

Dairymple to Start
Although Bierman insisted Jerry Dairymple, Tulane's great end, had fully recovered from a ruined kidney, he was on the field for just a few minutes and did not exert himself.

Dairymple will start the game, Bierman said. The 22 other members of the squad were reported in excellent condition.

Harper Reduces Joe Hall's Lead

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23, (UP)—A brilliant rally by Robert H. Harper of Denver in the second block of his national amateur three-cushion billiard championship with Joe Hall of San Francisco whittled down the latter's strong lead to a mere six points here last night.

Hall had amassed a 50 to 26 lead last night, but his opponent came back with many sensational shots. He secured the high run of the match when he scored eight points, besides having two runs of five. Hall's high mark was 70-2. There were 59 innings.

Great Shattering of Marks Predicted For Olympic Meet

NEW YORK, Dec. 23, (UP)—The greatest shattering of Olympic and world's records ever to occur in a single meet was predicted today for the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles by Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U.

It is expected that the list of starters will be the smallest since 1908, Ferris said, and only the top-notchers of each nation will be able to compete.

This is due to a general international lack of funds which will compel the nations to reduce the number of their representatives.

"Eighteen countries have definitely accepted the invitation to send a full representation, but latest word has it that the German delegation will be only half its original size."

The number of trial heats and qualifying rounds will be smaller than in recent years because of this tendency on the part of competing nations to cut down the number of athletes they will send here. As a result, Ferris said, those who reach the finals in their events will have encountered far less grueling tests than would ordinarily be the case, and should be able to turn in better performances.

Japan sees its opportunity to capture the team title and is sending the largest delegation of any of the visiting nations. The trip to Los Angeles will be much shorter than recent excursions to Europe, and Japan plans to have men or teams in every event on the program.

Germany had also intended to send a full representation, but latest word has it that the German delegation will be only half its original size.

England and Finland are planning to send over only track and field men, according to the A. A. U., while Sweden will base her hopes of Olympic prominence on the success or failure of her wrestling team.

"But with so many nations concentrating on individual championships instead of team strength as a whole," Ferris said, "world's records are sure to fall."

LADY BOWLERS END SCHEDULE TUESDAY

The Ladies Bowling league concluded its schedule of 20 games at the Klamath Recreation last night.

Clifton's Store team won the championship, with 24 points won and 6 lost. The team was composed of Mrs. Earl Whitlock, Mrs. Schieferstein and Thelma Gunn.

Second place went to Low's Sherifettes, with 20 won and 10 lost. The Masses Simmons, Wolfe and Cammeron made up this team.

Rey's Chills took third place, with 15 won and 12 lost. Mrs. Barron, Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. Dahlgren comprised the team.

Swan Service Station team came next, with 16 won and 14 lost. Mrs. Wilbur Jones, who captained the team, finished high average player of the league. She had with her on the team Miss Crawford and Mrs. Schupp.

New City Laundry kept out of the cellar position by breaking even, 15 won and a like number lost. Mrs. Glover, Mrs. Haupt and Miss Matthews formed the team.

Klamath Recreation did not win a point all through the season, but showed genuine gamesmanship in sticking throughout the schedule. This team was made up of Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Stewart.

The individual averages follow: Mrs. Jones, 129; Mrs. Whitlock, 138; Mrs. Haupt, 126; Miss Matthews, 126; Miss Wolfe, 125; Mrs. Simmons, 120; Mrs. Barron, 120; Mrs. Schieferstein, 120; Mrs. Dahlgren, 115; Mrs. Burnett, 116; Miss Crawford, 105; Miss Gunn, 104; Mrs. Carr, 103; Mrs. Hart, 102; Mrs. Stewart, 93.

Prospects Good For Full Trojan Eleven to Play

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 23, (AP)—Prospects were good that the University of Southern California football team would be at full strength again today as Coach Howard Jones continued drilling the Trojans on defense against the invading Greenies of Tulane.

Orville Mohler appeared in suit yesterday, but didn't do much work, while Tom Malloy, the other back, watched the practice huddled in a heavy overcoat on the sidelines. Both have been suffering from bad colds, and the adverse weather for practice caused the coaches to keep them off the soggy gridiron.

Coach Jones, who is revamping Southern California's defense for the Rose tournament game at Pasadena New Year's day, expected to spend today's session behind locked gates on more dummy scrimmage. The Trojans will see no real scrimmage before the contest.

The Favorite of Millions—

No newspaper feature yet produced can rival the universal appeal of the famous comic, "Out Our Way," by J. R. Williams. Kids read it. Mother and Father enjoy many a reminiscent chuckle at those uncannily accurate portrayals of family life known as "Why Mothers Get Gray." Grimy men in shops and factories turn to it after a day of toil for a laugh at the "Bull of the Woods." Leather-skinned cowpunchers follow it for the adventures of Curly and his hardbitten crew. And in United States Army barracks Jim Williams' "Out Our Way" is a by-word.

All these things Jim Williams has been—cowboy, soldier, worker. A son of the soil, and a rover. And in later years an artist. The kind of artist who is a favorite among other artists, which means that he is a great one.

His greatness lies in his naturalness, in his understanding of people who are "folks." Newspaper people call it "human interest." Call it what you will, there's nothing quite like "Out Our Way," and it appears daily in

LOMSKI KAYOES D. LENHART IN FIFTH ROUND

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 23, (AP)—Leo Lomski, 166 pounds, Portland, knocked out Benny Lenhart, 176 1/2, Portland, in the fifth round of their scheduled six round bout here last night. Lomski, in perfect condition, held the upper hand from the start, both outboxing and outpunching his opponent. Lenhart fought back gamely. In the fourth round Lenhart went down from a fierce hook for a count of nine. This was followed in the fifth with a long right hook and left to the chin for the knockout.

Ray McQuillan, 155 pounds, Portland, quashed himself into a six-round decision over Paul Delaney, 152 1/2 pounds, Tacoma, in the liveliest bout on the card.

Teddy Fox, 135 pounds, Salem, smacked Al Cadena, 134, Los Angeles, 80 hard with a right barman near the record by knocking him out in the sixth round but that Cadena swallowed his rubber mouthpiece and the bout had to be stopped. Fox was given a technical knockout.

Turkey Red Yarnell, 156 pounds, Eugene, added another knockout to his record by knocking out Bobby Dolan, 152 1/2, Portland in the second round.

Ernie Peters, the Cherokee Indian of Chicago, made short work of Billy Ryan, Portland, knocking him out in 15 seconds before Ryan had a chance to get his hands up. Both weighed 122 1/2 pounds.
