

CLUB HISTORY RECALLED AT LIONS' LUNCH

Dr. Paul Sharp presided at the luncheon of the Lions club Tuesday at the Hotel Willard and presented a Lions International Founder's Day program after which the club was entertained by the Arkansas Wranglers.

Lion George Stewart of Medford was present at the meeting and told of the relief work being carried on in the neighboring city by the Lions club.

Lion Chet Moore was presented with a key membership in Lions International for his active work in the Klamath dem.

Dr. Sharp opened the meeting with a short resume of the life of Melvin Jones, founder and organizer of the Lions International organization. Founder's day is January 13, as Jones was born in Fort Thomas, Arizona on January 13, 1874. In 1914 Jones who had moved to Chicago, studied law, formed an insurance agency and became active in a number of societies and organizations concerned the idea of organizing various existing groups into Lions International association. The organization has grown steadily since that time with 2628 clubs now members, and an average of one club organized each day for the last four years.

WORK COMPLETED ON BEND GRADE

BEND, Ore., Jan. 13, (UP)—Last construction crews on the Great Northern railroad's new million dollar grade south of Bend were removed last night by contractors.

Although the grade over the lava beds is complete, no steel has been laid.

Construction work on the northern line's project which extends from Bend 17 miles south toward Klamath Falls, replacing the former Shelvin-Hixon logging line, was begun several months ago. Unconfirmed reports received at Klamath Falls Tuesday indicated that the work was held up because of heavy snowfalls in the vicinity of Bend. Workmen are now laying steel in the Great Northern yards at Bend.

T. F. Dixon, superintendent of the Great Northern in Klamath Falls, is expected to return Wednesday from Bend where he has spent several days on business.

Roads Dangerous After Rain Storm

BEATTY, Ore.—The recent thaws and rains which have visited this vicinity, together with the freezing nights, has caused ice to form covering roads and trails, making traveling difficult. The Klamath Falls-Lakewick highway, over the Bly mountain, is almost entirely ice-covered, from the Whiskey creek side to Wild Horse.

Installation Held By Langell Grange

LANGELL VALLEY, Ore.—The Langell Valley grange held a regular meeting last Tuesday night and installed the new officers. The new master, Alfred Keller, took the gavel for the remainder of the meeting.

It was voted to accept Willard Nobel into the grange and he will be initiated at the next meeting along with Ralph Powers, Mrs. Johnson, Herbert Johnson and Alma Brown. Those to be initiated attended the public part of the meeting.

GAME COMMISSION TO VISIT KLAMATH

The board of directors of Modoc chapter Isak Walton league will meet with the board of directors of the Klamath Sportsmen's association in Veterans' headquarters in the basement of the county court house Friday evening, to compile recommendations on local and state game problems on their visit to Klamath Falls, January 19.

All sportsmen have been invited to attend the January 19 meeting, which will take place at the Willard hotel. Delegates from Lakewick, Bonanza and Merrill will attend. It is expected that from 200 to 300 sportsmen will be present at this meeting which has been called for the purpose of taking into consideration suggestions of local sportsmen regarding changes in game laws, game limits, opening and closing of fishing waters, dates of season openings and other similar problems. At Tuesday night's meeting of the Isak Walton League two reels of Alaskan pictures were shown.

Anxiety Quieted by Cummings' Return

Anxiety over the absence of A. C. Cummings, who lives with C. J. Fraley, at 1934 Orchard street, was quieted Tuesday morning when Cummings, 82 years of age, returned to Fraley's residence about 11 p. m.

Fraley had reported to police about 10 a. m. that Cummings left their house at 6:30 Monday night and had not returned. Fraley did not explain to police where Cummings spent the night.

David Hamilton married Almee Seiple McPherson and she gave him a job. Which might be a suggestion to the Prince of Wales.

Whitlock Given Verdict In Case of Moreno Estate

Judge A. W. Ekwall was affirmed in an opinion of the supreme court, written by Chief Justice Bean, in the case of Earl Whitlock, administrator of the estate of S. M. Moreno, deceased, vs. the United States Inter Insurance association.

Whitlock, as administrator, sued the insurance company to enforce contract on life insurance carried by Moreno. The action was filed against the individuals, firms and corporations, subscribers at and inter-insurers under the name of the United States Inter Insurance association. The defendant appealed the decision of the lower court to the state supreme court.

Jack Fensler To Be Taken Home

Jack Fensler, of Tule Lake, aged 11, was able to be moved to his home Tuesday from Hillside hospital where he has been a patient since December 29 when he was injured in an automobile accident.

Jack, with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Fensler, was returning to Tule Lake early in the evening, when Fensler, driver of the car was blinded by the lights of an on-coming automobile, and crashed into the rear of a hay wagon driven by A. E. McCoy. At first it was feared that Jack had sustained a fractured skull, but it developed that the injury was a slight brain concussion, from which he has fully recovered.
