

RELIEF WORK BOLSTERED AT KLAMATH MEET

cluded the Taxpayers' league, the Parent-Teachers association, the Library club, the League of Women Voters, the chamber of commerce, banks, timber interests, city officials, county officials, service clubs, schools, outside communities, Salvation Army, governor's relief committee, public service corporations, Ministerial association, organized labor, fraternal organizations and others, as well as many individuals representing lines of business and professions.

Committee Representative

On the executive committee, Gordon is president of the First National bank, Kelly is publisher of The Herald and News, Morrison is secretary of the Taxpayers' league, Rice represents organized labor and Kimball represents timber interests.

The meeting was called by a group of citizens interested in the relief situation and in the need for bringing a more general realization of its seriousness, it was stated by Groesbeck in opening the session. In increasing demands for relief and decreasing resources, lies a combination that promises to tax the community's greatest effort in the next three months. He emphasized that the program ahead should not be one of charity, but one of common duty of the community to its members in distress. The intention of the meeting, he said, was not to criticize work that had been done, but to assist in developing an adequate program for the future.

Figures Cited

Groesbeck then cited facts and figures in connection with the state highway commission's unemployment relief in Klamath county. These having been obtained from C. C. Beely, resident engineer, with the consent of his superior.

Klamath county was allotted $27,700 of the original $1,000,000 bond issue. Of this sum, there was expended prior to November 15, 1931, for clearing of right-of-way, $2,700 on the Green Springs highway and $5,000 on the Crater Lake highway.

The balance of the appropriation, or $20,000 was allotted to widening and re-aligning of the Dallas-California highway between Barsley springs and Modoc Point where exposure, type of work, character of rock and haul are of such nature as to make winter and hand work possible. The original estimate is here on $1.25 per yard for rock and $1 for intermediates or all other materials. The actual cost to December 23 was $3.13 cents per yard, regarded as a good record for hand work with unskilled labor.

Under the present set-up, approximately 280 men are given six days employment each month at $3 per day. There are four crews organized with 70 men each, working in rotation, and 20 skilled state highway employes. The balance of the money otherwise would be out of employment at this time.

The cost of this work to Saturday, January 18, was as follows:

Engineering	600.00
Superintendent	84.04
Labor	11,266.92
Equipment, rental	1,068.75
Equipment, labor	1,163.85
Equipment, supplies	493.99
Tools	785.00
Total	$15,240.00
Unexpended	$3,629.00
Appropriation	$18,000.00

Not Adequate

Of the amount expended to date, about one-half has gone to the men actually employed. At the rate of present employment, this would care for the existing program until March 1, although it was pointed out that this was not by any means taking care of the unemployment need.

On the basis of state highway mileage in Klamath county, Groesbeck said, Klamath county should receive at least $60,000. Klamath county has 298 miles of state highway in a system of 4,443 miles in the state, or 6.94 per cent. In this connection, it was further brought out by Gordon that this is the second largest industrial center in the state, Portland being the largest, and that conditions here warrant special consideration by the state. If the second issue is floated, the matter of seeking a just appropriation for Klamath county will be handled by the executive committee.

Suggestions Outlined

Groesbeck outlined tentative suggestions that had come to him prior to the meeting, including the bond issue matter, the question of distribution under a paid executive, the reduction of the daily wage to care for a larger number of people, payment in scrip redeemable in supplies from a general depot, and county aid through the road or other county funds.

H. E. Bradbury, who is in general charge of the governor's relief committee program, then explained the work as it has been carried on. Three days a week, systems have been established to prevent duplication, and that the Parent-Teachers' associations have done excellent work in making investigations to determine the needs of families applying for help. A list of lists are also checked with the time-keeper to make certain the applicant is out of work.

Family Lists Long

The governor's relief committee has a family list of 455, and the Salvation Army has a list of 170. He said that food distribution has cost as high as $129 in a single day, and that records are kept of all items going out of the store. There are two county road crews employing a total of 32 men, three days a week, who have been given credit for food amounting to $3 a day. Questioned by Kelly, Bradbury said Klamath county has received $240 from the state employes' relief fund. Assistance from public employes locally was set at 170. He said that by March 1 the unemployed list would total 1500.

"Our work is limited," said Bradbury. "We should have more work for these men to do, and they are willing to do it. I could put 500 men to work in two days on city jobs or any other jobs available." He said widening work could be done on the Rock creek road.

Ready to Match Fund

County Commissioner C. R. Williams said the county was ready to match a state appropriation for $10,000 to be spent on market roads. It was said, also, that the large program under way on the state highway between Modoc Point and Barsley Springs could provide work for from 800 to 1000 men, and that if the state would double the appropriation for its part of the work in Klamath county, no food doles would be necessary.

The work of the Salvation Army in caring for transients, and the help of the Parent-Teacher association in providing clothing and investigators was warmly praised by Williams and Bradbury. Mrs. Dwan, head of the P-T. A. work declared that it is money that is needed now, and that clothing donations had been so heavy little more could be expected.

West Proposes Committee

Merle West then moved for the appointment of an executive committee and further discussion centered largely on that motion. Williams said that such a committee could do much good work, and its effectiveness in getting a fair share of the state appropriation was cited by Gordon and Richard Hovey.

After passage of the committee resolution, E. B. Hall proposed another putting the group on record in favor of the highway bonds.

Gordon said that private, as well as public employes, should be asked to make donations of one day's salary a month. Gene Hammond of Merrill said that not only should such donations be asked on Main street, but that ranch employes should donate likewise.

City Might Help

Kelly suggested city officials be asked to give consideration to expending funds, such as street money, in helping to relieve the work shortage.

Gay Merrill, police chief, then explained the police milk fund and the operation of the transient camp on South Sixth street. He said that $307 was expended for milk last month.

The question of the use of scrip in payment of state highway employes, in line with the grocery credits given the county workers, was brought up. Hovey asked Williams if he thought the idea feasible, and the commissioner said he did, although the county has not asked the state to use the appropriated money in any particular way.

GIANTS JUBILANT, LINDSTROM SIGNS

NEW YORK, Jan. 21, (AP)—Every follower of the New York Giants, from Manager John J. Joseph (Little Napoleon) McGraw to Willie Hergenschimer, 1413 Hogan's bluff, heaved a sigh of relief today when it was announced that Freddy Lindstrom, outfielder and infielder, had signed a contract for the 1932 baseball season.

Lindstrom, who has done about everything for the Giants except pitch and catch, threatened for a time to become one of baseball's bad boys. He balked at the first contract offered him. It called for a salary reduction of approximately 25 per cent. He said that time he would accept a 10 per cent cut but that was his rock bottom price.

His refusal to sign today announced by Bill Terry, Freddy Fitzsimmons and Mel Ott that they were dissatisfied with the 1932 contracts offered them. Here was the biggest half of the ball club holding out and McGraw began wondering what he was going to use for ball players.

BOXER KILLED BY BLOW TO HEART

BELLINGHAM, Jan. 21, (AP)—George Bell, 20-year-old Bellingham boxer, died here last night less than seven minutes after he had climbed through the ropes for one of his few professional appearances.

An autopsy performed shortly after, disclosed, physicians said, that "death was due to paralysis of the heart caused by a direct blow."

Bell's opponent, Richard Howard, 16, was placed under technical arrest, after firemen with a lungmotor worked over Bell for more than an hour in the dressing room in an effort to revive him.

Hundreds of spectators who attended the American Legion card, cheered other fighters, unaware that Bell had died.

The fighters had entered the second round of the curtain raiser and had been mixing it up only a short time when they clinched and Howard hit Bell twice. Bell backed away and was prepared to go on with the fight, when he fell to the floor and was carried from the ring.

"The Finest Non-Premium Motor Fuel Ever Offered"

—says Barney Oldfield

"I have just finished making a series of road tests on New Union 76 Gasoline.

"On steep grades I find that this fuel gives me a great deal more power. I notice it particularly in the hills. With Union 76, I shift two or three hundred yards further up the hill than with any non-premium gasoline I have ever used.

"In traffic, when I push the throttle to the floor, I reach forty miles an hour quickly and smoothly without spitting or knocking.

"In my opinion you have in New Union 76 Gasoline the best non-premium motor fuel ever offered here or elsewhere."

Barney Oldfield

Secret is Increased Anti-Knock Rating

The reason for the improved performance of New Union 76 lies in its anti-knock rating or Octane value.

New Union 76 has the greatest uniform anti-knock rating (Octane value) of any non-premium fuel ever offered.

Because it eliminates knocks, both audible and inaudible—steps up power—and improves mileage, this new gasoline has been judged the most economical and efficient sold on the Pacific Coast.

A New Aroma and Color Identifies the Quality

The aromatic compounds which are responsible for the higher anti-knock qualities in gasoline have a pleasing odor. New Union 76 can be easily identified not only by this aroma but also by the rich orange color. Thus for the first time there is preserved in this motor fuel the full inherent anti-knock quality thereof. Watch for the aroma and the rich orange color—it is your proof of the greatest anti-knock (Octane value) non-premium fuel sold in the West today.

Watch for the 76!

Turn in for this new fuel where you see the orange banners with the 76—the trade name of this New Union Gasoline. Be sure that the pump where you fill has a big 76 on the side. Every pump that dispenses the genuine New Union 76 gasoline is labeled for your protection.

MORE HORSEPOWER—
With increased anti-knock comes extra horsepower. This chart shows plotted horsepower curves for medium priced high compression cars using New Union 76 and average non-premium fuel.
