COUNTY FUNDS IN GOOD SHAPE, SAYS OFFICIAL

Accounts of Klamath county showed a better balance at the end of the year 1931 than at the end of 1930, the annual report of Clara Calkins DeVaul, county treasurer, show. Although the balance on hand appeared to be larger December 31, 1930, the balance showed $688,589.15, which included a sale of $160,000 during the latter part of 1930, leaving an actual balance, with bonds figured, of $74,118.98 in excess of the actual 1930 balance of $528,589.15 on December 31, 1930 with the bond issue counted out.

Only five accounts, totaling $929.34, were overdrawn at the end of 1931, including Chiloquin Road, $22.37; Enterprise Irrigation District Bond and Interest, $348.86; Langell Valley Irrigation District General, $10.43; Pine Grove Irrigation District Bond and Interest, $494.55; Willow Valley Irrigation District Operation and Maintenance, $48.13.

The road bond interest fund showed the largest balance with $127,731.43 on hand and the current expense fund was second with a balance of $42,126.04 with the exception of the special armory bond fund which had $45,621.03 on hand.

Cash on hand June 30, 1931 amounted to $708,596.95 while receipts totaled $1,925,128.15 for the last half of 1931 with disbursements of $1,214,917. Receipts for the last six months were: from taxes $780,870.85; from state in motor licenses, forest rentals, etc., $116,216.63; from fines $7,924.85; from interest on deposits in banks $6,122.34; from sale of bonds $11,217.89; from fees of clerk and sheriff offices $8,478.22; from sale of county land $8,116.76; from Oregon-California Land Grant $8,728.25; and from miscellaneous receipts $91,122.64.

Disbursements included $895,309.92 for warrants, interest coupons and bonds; $15,304.22 for drainage districts upon reports; $63,746.13 for school districts upon receipt; $121,593.55 for cities and towns; $56,175.93 to the state of Oregon; $3,574.09 for prohibition enforcement; $24,213.16 for taxes distributed.

The report of the treasurer shows that $261,764.62 was expended during the month of December 1931 although transfers of funds left $208,171.55 in turnovers.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK

PORTLAND, Jan. 23 (AP)—Cattle, calves 65 for the week. Weakness developed in the major lines during the week, followed by a loss of up to 25c in the better grade steers, heifers and cows, but bulls and calves appeared unchanged, as did the lower grades of the former lines. High medium to good steers scaled $15.75, latter being extreme top; off grade moved at extreme of $13.50 and then down; medium to fairly good heifers were $4.75 to $5.25, with strictly good stuff quotable to $5.50; cows moved around $1.50 to $4.50, while canner to good bulk were $2.50 to $2.75; weaners and calves ranged $4 to $6.

Hogs 4007 for week. Market closed with a loss of 10c in killer stuff generally. Top and bulk light butchers early in week were $5.25, but later $5.15 was top for carloads, but nothing above $5.10 was available for drive-ins. Strong weight and heavy sorts scaled as low as $4.50, with packing sorts $4 to $4.25, while slaughter pigs were $4.25 to $5; feeders appeared steady with most desirable sorts $1.25, but extreme quality was 10c better.

Sheep 2574 for week. There was no change in general prices or trade conditions for the week. Good to choice lambs scaled $4.50 to $5, which included some 74-lb. shorn stock at $5; less desirable lambs were $3 to $4; yearlings were quotable $2.75 to $3.50, with ewes again $1 to $2.

Wool Trade Better Throughout World

PORTLAND, Jan. 23 (AP)—General betterment in the undertone of the wool trade is reflected in practically all parts of the world. While price changes recently have by no means been marked, they have been sufficient to register the improvement in demand in leading trade centers.

Buying by the mills has been of decidedly better character. A small increase of interest among dealers is also apparent. Offers to pay advances on the 1932 clip are more noticeable while a short time ago they were conspicuous by their almost general absence. Decreased world's sheep supplies are generally indicated by late surveys of both the domestic and foreign situation. With smaller bands of sheep, a loss in the world's shearing total is quite natural. Perhaps this is what has caused the recent increase in buying both at home and abroad.

FROSH BEAT SALEM

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 23 (AP)—University of Oregon's Freshman quintet defeated Salem high 21 to 19 here last night, with a second half spurt that was not to be denied. The Capital City youngsters drew within six points of the yearlings in the closing minutes, but the stirring attack of the latter settled the issue. The Frosh led 14 to 7 at the half.

The United States protests that Japan's invasion of Manchuria is illegal. But Japan probably knows that Uncle Sam has been protesting for several years about selling liquor, too.

MARKET STEADIES, TONE STILL HEAVY

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—The stock market steadied somewhat in a quiet week end session today, but was unable to throw off the heaviness of the previous session.

Declines were moderate compared to yesterday's, and in the middle of the morning, there was a temporary upturn in the rails, but several prominent issues were off a point or more at the close, and the final tone was heavy. The turnover was only about 700,000 shares.

Halls fluctuated uncertainly as the wage negotiations at Chicago dragged on, but railway financing quarters remained confident of a reasonably satisfactory conclusion.

Week end business and trade reports indicated some seasonal pickup here and there. A further gain in steel output is expected for the Youngstown area next week. On the whole, however, these reports were not sufficiently impressive to influence the market.

BUTTER ADVANCE FAILS

PORTLAND, Jan. 23 (AP)—The advance expected by many in the price of butter on the Produce Exchange for the week end session failed to materialize. This was generally forecast, inasmuch as the trade here has been afraid to boost quotations through fear of forcing considerable alien stock in this direction. With prices here practically all a party with other centers, there would be no incentive to ship butter to Portland, at least from a distance.

POTATO CALL SLOW

PORTLAND, Jan. 23 (AP)—Demand for potatoes is very slow on the East Side Farmers' wholesale market. For the week end session offerings were restricted, but there was no keenness in the call. Prices remain sluggish at the low point.

MELHASE REPORTED SLOWLY RECOVERING

Al Melhase, well known pioneer of Klamath Falls who is a patient at St. Caroline hospital in Redding, Calif., was reported Friday night as slowly improving. He is still unconscious most of the time, according to word received here by relatives. Physicians have voiced hope for his complete recovery.

Melhase, his wife and son, were injured in an auto collision when returning to Klamath Falls from the south last Friday night. Melhase suffered severe injuries, including a fracture of the skull.

Dr. Soule, local physician, who was called to Redding last week, returned south again Thursday night to attend the patient. Mrs. Melhase is reported improving. Their son, John, will return to his home at Berkeley, Sunday.

RIVERSIDE SCHOOL WINS GLEE CONTEST

After a close vote, six judges in the fourth annual city grade school glee club contest conducted at the Fremont school Friday night, awarded first prize to the Riverside school and second to Fairview.

The prize winners were the smallest schools in the city to compete in the contest.

For the past three years Fremont school has won the contest, receiving permanent ownership of one trophy. The second trophy will be in possession of the Riverside school until next year.

Five glee clubs participated. They were Fremont, Roosevelt, Fairview, Riverside and Mills. Numbers were directed by Miss Lillie Darby, school music supervisor. Judges were Mrs. Don Zumwalt, Mrs. George McIntyre, Mrs. C. A. Henderson, Mrs. Madge Hampton, Miss Harriet Baldwin of Medford and Mr. Warren Cronin.

Judges based their decision on pitch, quality, poise, memory, diction, accuracy, attack and interpretation. All of the groups were so nearly perfect that the judges found it difficult to reach a decision. Quality of tone and accuracy of pitch aided Riverside monsters in winning the first prize. The specialties were equally well presented.

Walter Sheets acted as accompanist. Music teachers of the city school who assisted with the contest were Agost Frigaard, Fairview; Forrest Schneider, Fremont; Mrs. Nova De Spain, Mills; Mrs. Fern Peak, Riverside; and Miss Dorothea Brown, Roosevelt.
