CONFUSION ENDED ON BRAN

New Ruling Makes Labels Accurate

To protect the buying public, the United States Food and Drug Administration has advised that every package of cereal labeled "Bran" state on the label exactly what it contains.

Before this ruling, even part-bran products were sometimes mistakenly referred to as "Bran." It was not easy for the purchaser to distinguish between a cereal that was entirely bran, or all bran with flavoring, and another that was mostly wheat.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is labeled "ALL-BRAN. Deliciously Flavored with Malt, Sugar and Salt," a statement which describes the product fairly and honestly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has won millions of friends because it corrects most types of common constipation safely and pleasantly. It furnishes generous "bulk" needed to promote normal elimination.

However, ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Certain types of intestinal disorders should be treated only on a physician's advice.

When you buy a bran cereal, for the relief of constipation, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Make sure by asking for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It furnishes "bulk" in a form for satisfactory results.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green packages. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

RICE FIXING CHARGE HEARD IN CODE CASE

resenting mill operators of the Willamette valley, declared those mills, which ship by rail into California, "cannot possibly compete with water-borne shipments under present conditions, and without the $5.00 rate charged by the Pacific Coastwise conference."

Lumber is being carried on the coast f.o.b. the mill, plus actual freight cars, under an order of the lumber code authority which is being made the subject of bitter attack.

Answering Larson, Denman declared the Willamette operators "now have and always have had" a practical monopoly of all California business north of Stockton. We can't compete with them in that territory despite all their protests.

mittes that the comptroller of the currency did not act on his reports of bad conditions in the Guardian banks of Michigan "because he was told by the higher command not to do anything to rock the boat and not to have any more bank failures."

He explained later he meant the secretary of the treasury and the White House by the expression "higher command."

Flood Roars Baby's First Lullaby

Her first feeble cries drowned by the roar of flood waters, Baby Lucille Sharp, shown above with her mother, came into the world as a violent storm raged around her marooned home in La Crescenta, Calif. A fire engine, rushed to aid of the mother, was halted a half mile away, and firemen carried a tubful of water over storm wreckage and mud to the house for the baby's first bath.

LABOR SITUATION TENSE IN SOUTH

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12. (P)—An increasing strike menace in the Southern California food industry had reached the point today where the governor had been asked to be prepared to call out the state militia.

Although labor conditions in this immediate area, where disputes first sprang up in the milk industry, were more or less peaceful, the situation in Imperial valley to the southeast was less tense.

DISASTER PREVENTION. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12. (P)—Five San Francisco schools were closed today by orders of the board of education pending alterations to bring them in compliance with the state safety code and proof against earthquake shocks.

Office Set Aside for CWA Manager

Redecoration of the office in the northwest corner of the third floor of the courthouse, for the use of Manager Will Baldwin of the CWA, has been approved as a CWA project.

Mrs. Stephen Sabo has been named Baldwin's secretary. Space on the third floor of the courthouse, once used for the county jail, is now virtually exhausted by the CWA and county relief agencies. Former cells are in use as relief consultation rooms, and the large center rooms are filled with a busy staff of workers. Remodeling for these purposes was carried out as a CWA project.

COUNTY VIEWS OREGON LEVY FOR SCHOOLS

tax issue, but have not reported their decision. The question is due to come up for consideration at several meetings in the next two weeks, among them a general discussion meeting to be held at Henley January 20.

Interest centers on the attitude of the granges in Klamath county on the tax, in view of the fact that the state grange leadership is pledged to oppose the levy to the last ditch. No grange action has been reported here as yet, and it is possible the grangers, because of their contacts with school teachers and the schools, will act individually rather than as groups in their support or opposition.

Dana Stirs Interest. Reverberations were still being heard here Friday from Marshall Dana's mid-week visit. The regional public works advisor is a leading northwestern democrat, and local democratic circles were stirred by his visit. He spent some time in conference with Mayor Mahoney, whose political ambitions are a matter of cogitation and conjecture whenever his name is mentioned. It is not known whether Mahoney and Dana spent their time talking about politics or public works.

Incidentally, the two large Portland papers in their weekly political reviews haven't been mentioning the name of Mahoney in recent weeks, which may or may not mean anything. The third Portland paper, on the other hand, recently said in a political article that the Klamath mayor is the key figure in the state democratic set-up at this time. The mayor is not saying what his plans are, if any, but the time is getting short.

er hand, recently said in a political article that the Klamath mayor is the key figure in the state democratic set-up at this time. The mayor is not saying what his plans are, if any, but the time is getting short.

There have been no announcements for local political candidates, but we have one denial. Henry E. Perkins states unequivocally that he is not in the race for circuit judge. A large number of lawyers are being mentioned as possibilities for circuit judge and district attorney.

Circuit Judge W. M. Duncan is expected to run to succeed himself, but District Attorney T. R. Gilgewater has other ideas. He is interested in the state senatorship, which Jay Upton may vacate to run for congress. What Upton intends to do about resigning is a matter of considerable speculation here.

R. E. Bradbury left Thursday night for Portland, where things are reported doing with regard to the rumored co-ordination of relief and public works activities. Bradbury may be slated for a post if political appointments are to be made in the reorganization, but he stated while here that he is not interested in any way in a possible position in Klamath county.

It is now mid-January, and May is close enough that campaigns and candidacies may be in the news within a short time.

Lindbergh Willing to Attend Inquiry

NEW YORK, Jan. 12. (P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh is willing to testify at any time before the senate committee investigating air mail contracts concerning his aviation financial transactions.

The remains are being brought to Halsey, Ore. Interment will be in the Pine Grove cemetery.

For Hard Coughs or Colds That Worry You

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds. It combines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety. But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold. Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake.—(Adv.)
