300,000 Oregon Residents Pay Property Taxes

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 29. (UP)—Oregon has more than 300,000 property tax payers, or approximately the same as the number of families, the state tax commission reported today.

Compilation of statements from county sheriffs showed that there were $31,897 real property tax payers and 73,510 personal property tax payers in 1933. There is much duplication in the two lists.

Against these taxpayers was assessed approximately $42,000,000, payment of which is due this year. There were 19,000 payers of income and corporation taxes in the state last year, the commission reported, with a marked increase expected this year because of lowered exemptions.

The income tax this year was expected to return about $2,000,000, or nearly 5 per cent of the property tax. The sales tax, if carried, would raise about $4,200,000, or 10 per cent of the property tax.

Coach Hoc Edmundson's men have played just half of the 16 conference games on their schedule and have won all of them. Four more victories would put the hunting beyond reach of the other members of the circuit.
