AMUSEMENTS

AT THE VOX.

JOHN DARRYMORE, LIONEL BARRYMORE, MARIE DRESSLER, LEE TRACY, BILLIE BURKE, WALLACE BERRY and JEAN HARLOW in "DINNER AT EIGHT"

Vox—Now playing, "Dancing Lady," with Joan Crawford and Clark Gable.

Pelican—Now playing, "Chance at Heaven," and on the stage Walt Galloway and his orchestra, with vaudeville acts.

Pine Tree—Now playing, "The Fighting Code," with Buck Jones. Rainbow—Now playing, "Blondie Johnson," with Joan Blondell and Chester Morris.

AT THE VOX

For sheer entertainment value it is doubtful if any motion picture has ever been devised which carries the interest, color and excitement of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's stupendous production of "Dinner at Eight," which opens Sunday at the Vox theatre for one week.

It is easy to understand why "Dinner at Eight" achieved its long-run popularity as a stage play. Its ingenious arrangement of plot and subplots which rise to undermine the happiness of marital life are matters of engrossing interest.

Even if the play were not as clever as it is, the mere spectacle of seeing so imposing an array of celebrities in one film as Marie Dressler, the two Barrymores, Wallace Berry, Jean Harlow, Lee Tracy, Edmund Lowe, Billie Burke, Madge Evans, Jean Hersholt, Karen Morley, Louise Closser Hale, Phillips Holmes and May Robson would be enough to stimulate one's cinema appetite.

AT THE PELICAN

Walt Galloway and his Ten Happy Band Boys come to the stage of the Pelican theatre again this evening, with a new bill of feature entertainers, Sonny Lee, Broadway colored comedian of such hits as "Seven Eleven" and "Blackbirds of 1928," and also the screen success "St. Louis Blues," is billed top. The Business and Professional Women's Glee club, consisting of 20 voices, and Jack Penney, singer and imitator, complete the stage billing.

An unusual screen program for both afternoon and evening, consists of "Chance at Heaven," by Vina Delmar, author of "Bad Girl," with Joel McCrea, Ginger Rogers, Marian Nixon and Andy Rogers.

AT THE PINE TREE

A new and exciting adventure tale with the redoubtable Buck Jones in the main role and lovely Diane Sinclair providing the romantic love interest begins an engagement at the Pine Tree theatre today. The film is "The Fighting Code," Buck's latest in his series of action-dramas for Columbia.

Buck Jones again displays his daring horsemanship and prowess with a six-shooter and his hammer-like fists.

Director Lambert Hillyer has imparted an actionful tempo to the story which is considerably enlivened by Buck's able performance and his exciting adventures.

Boy Cleared For Shooting Father

WENATCHEE, Wash., Feb. 23. (UP)—Lawrence Heller, 15, who shot his father in the back with a .22 caliber rifle when he feared his mother would be harmed, will not be prosecuted, authorities said here today.

The lad said his father was drunk when he returned home late yesterday and threatened to harm Mrs. Heller. The lad said he shot his father when he followed his mother into a barn, where she was busy with chores. The elder Heller was not seriously injured.
