

Klamath Rookie Promising

Johnny Rohr Win a Praise From Cautious Gabby Street of Mission Reds. Speed Ball Dazzling. King Kong's Appearance Outstanding Event of Mat Season. Les Wolfe Returns.

Johnny Rohr, a young man from Klamath county, is source of considerable delight to veteran Charles Street, the manager of the Mission Reds in the Pacific coast league. Gabby, always cautious in his praise for the multitude of youngsters who flock to training camp each year, has described Rohr as a "boy find."

If young Rohr can be polished in the manner befitting a Class AA pitcher, he may find himself on the regular Mission roster. He weighs 216 pounds and stands over six feet. He is but 21-years old, and that, of course, means a long future as a performer.

Rohr was discovered in one of the county's Three-C camps where he played three-trouser baseball last summer. Baseball followers who have gathered to watch the Missions in training at their Woodland, Calif., camp assert he is the hardest thrower since the days when Walter Johnson was in his prime.

Some of the regular Mission hitters, still a little rusty after the winter rest, have actually gone to the mound and asked the youngster to ease up on his speed.

E. R. Saunders, old time baseball player, found Rohr in a sand lot league and staked him to a ticket to the Mission camp. Street plans to send Rohr to a farm if he doesn't make the regular line up.

Ted Cox may be a wrestler or he may be just another broad-shouldered ruffian. His coming to Klamath Falls, however, will be something of an event.

Cox has been the most publicized wrestler in the northwest this season. His activities haven't been exclusively confined to the ring, and frequently his ape-like aggressiveness has carried him into contact with law and order.

His appearance is strikingly brutal, known as King Kong, is tall and heavy—235-pounds—and his arms are as long as a porcupine's. Apparently he is ruthless in the ring.

Prominent notice was given him several weeks ago when he entered the Portland ring to meet Howard Cantonwine of Iowa—his original brawl was fortified by a strip of sheet iron tied securely across his knuckles. Without a doubt, the match was uncomfortable for Cantonwine.

For this infraction of the too liberal rules of wrestling, the Portland commission fined King Kong $100.

Not more than a week ago the Walla Walla police agency levied a $100 fine against Cox for disorderly conduct. The disorder occurred when Cox, restrained by an officer in the Walla Walla armory, ripped off the chief of police's badge. He crumpled it in his hand as though it were a potato.

Verne Harrington, Portland referee, resigned from the profession of "third man in the ring" chiefly because of Cox. Harrington, colorful and efficient, was as much a drawing card as the wrestling in themselves. In the course of several weeks in the ring, Harrington found himself too badly scarred to continue and most of the injuries were administered by Cox.

Maek Lillard has assembled an attractive double main event card for Cox's match with Charley Hansen, the Seattle wrestler who gave Al Karasick his first defeat here in more than a year.

Les Wolfe, young Texan, will return to meet Les Grimes of New Zealand in the second one-hour match.

12 Year Hunt For Murderer Ended Friday

NEW ORLEANS, March 10, (AP)—A 12-year hunt for Francis Savio for the slayer of his friend, ended here Friday with the arrest of Juan Y. Paden, wanted for a double murder in Vallejo, Calif., in 1922.

Paden was arrested on a strawberry farm at Albany, La., today. Police brought him to New Orleans, where officers said he admitted killing two men and wounding two others, all Filipinos, during a fight.

The arrest was made on information supplied by Savio, who had been in New Orleans for a year, seeking out an existence, but refusing to leave because he believed Paden was in this vicinity.

Savio, a Filipino, was a deputy sheriff in Vallejo at the time of the killings. One of the slain men was Francisco Amper, his friend. When Paden, California suspected killer, eluded California authorities, Savio quit his job and took up the hunt alone.

Trojans Win From Huskies

Southern Californians Take Opening Game, 27 to 25.

LOS ANGELES, March 10. (AP)—Southern California's basketball quintet was within one game of the Pacific coast championship today with little assurance it could expect to sail away the title in the second contest of the playoff series with Washington tonight.

Coach Sam Barry's Trojans won 27 to 25 last night by staving off a riotous closing rush of the Huskies after they apparently had tied the victory up in a bundle, in the first half, ready to take home.

Huskies Rally.

The smart ball-possession game, which put Southern California out in front 18 to 7 in the first twenty minutes, suddenly went to pieces in the last five minutes of play but Coach Clarence (Hec) Edmundson's five hit its stride seconds too late.

Joe Webber, a sharpshooting guard, touched off the blaze with five minutes to go after the Trojans had apparently lost interest in the proceeding. He stood deep in the court to drop in a one-handed overhead shot for Washington's fourth field goal of the contest, sending the score up 27 to 18.

Galer Scores.

It was the inspiration the Huskies needed. Bon Galer, leading point scorer of the northwest, cashed in on two gift tosses and Don Wymen contributed two more from the charity line, trimming the lead to five points.

Then Ernie Holbrook, Southern California forward, was guilty of guarding too closely and Capt. Hal Lee as a result added another point from the foul line. There was a minute and a half to play. Taking the ball from the tip-off, Lee desperately let fly at the basket from the center of the court. The ball dropped through the hoop without touching.

Trojans Plans Collapse.

There was less than a minute to play now and the Trojans, suddenly aware that their lead had been trimmed to two thin points decided to play "keeps."

A pass went astray, out of bounds, with seconds left and again Capt. Lee tried to locate the hoop from deep center, but this time the throw was short and the final gun put an end to the wild finish.

While Southern California was holding Galer to two meager points, its own star, Lee Gutero, went on a scoring spree by connecting with seven field goals and a trio of charity baskets for seventeen points.

Coach Edmundson hopes he will have his full strength on the court tonight. Clyde Wagner, rangy center, played through the first three minutes despite a stomach disorder which kept him in bed most of yesterday, but was forced to retire in favor of Dick Merrin, who finished the contest.

San Francisco Seals Among Favorites In Coast League

(Editor's Note—This is the fifth of series on Pacific Coast League teams being carried nightly by the United Press.)

By JAMES O'BRIEN

United Press Staff Correspondent

When favorites are being picked in the Pacific Coast league handicappers will not overlook the San Francisco Seals. The Seals appear to be one of the most formidable and evenly balanced clubs in the circuit.

The pitching staff will match that of any other club; there's a veteran outfielder; the infield is strengthened and the catching department is just about the class of the league.

Zinn Leads Hurlers

Jimmy Zinn, big righthander, and Bill Henderson, "speedball" artist, lead the parade of moundmen. Other hurlers expected to give a good account of themselves when the barrier lifts are Leroy Herrmann, Ken Douglas, the expatriating Walter Mills and Sad Sam Gibson, who saw service with Portland last year. Three other hurlers of whom little is known, but great things expected, are Ken Sheehan, Bert Gugich and Bud Spiesman.

Crippled Tiger Team Defeats Ashland Quint

MEDFORD, March 10. (AP)—Playing with only two regular first string men, Medford high school edged out a thrilling 25 to 24 victory over the Ashland basketball team here last night in a five-minute overtime period.

The Medford win gives each team a game in the three-game division tournament. A third game will be played on a neutral floor next Friday. The winner will represent southern Oregon in the state finals at Salem.

Seven first string Medford men were disqualified last week for violation of the high school code after they had led an expedition which painted the Medford school colors on a building adjoining the Ashland school.

A brilliant rally throughout the second half of the game gave the Fear Pickens the victory. The half ended 15 to 5 for Ashland, and that team was leading 8 to 4 at the end of the first quarter. There were several rough moments in the game.

Walter Neusel Scores Victory Over Levinsky

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 10. (AP)—Walter Neusel, blonde German giant, last night furthered his bid for a world heavyweight title shot, by scoring a 10-round decision over Kingfish Levinsky of Chicago before a crowd of 10,000 in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Neusel weighed 196 3-4 and Levinsky 203 1/2.

The decision which was entirely out of line with the opinion of most of the boxing writers at ringside was greeted with deafening applause.

Decision Not Popular

It was probably the worst fight that Levinsky has made in a New York ring, but even so he seemed to have won by a wide and handsome margin.

The United Press score sheet credited Neusel with only four rounds, the first and the last three, with the other six going to the eccentric Chicagoan.

Levinsky started slowly, with Neusel forcing the fight. The German clearly won the opening round. Early in the second round, Levinsky reached to the canvas for a round house right which clipped Neusel squarely beside the jaw. Neusel spun crazily to the floor, stayed down for a count of four, shook his head and came up.

Again in the third round Neusel seemed ready to go up under. He had stung Levinsky with a right to the head and the Kingfish seemed to go crazy. He swarmed all over the taller but lighter boy and forced him to cover up.

Puget Sound Takes Advantage in Play

BREMERTON, Wash., March 10 (AP)—Puget Sound naval apprentice won their second series in five plays by defeating Mare Island apprentices here, 30 to 27, in the rubber game of the series.

The Bremertonians, led by Captain Con Davies, who scored 11 points, managed to go into half-time intermission holding a scant 15 to 15 lead.

Joe Dimaggio comprise the outfield. Dimaggio is the youth who as a rookie, playing his first season of pro ball, broke the consecutive games hitting record. Sulik and Funk are excellent fly chasers and both stood high in batting averages. Pressing this trio is Mike Hunt, who is also rated as a high class player.

Infield Smooth

Jack Fenton, Lennie Backer, Art Garibaldi and Hal Rhyne make up the smooth appearing infield. Fenton, who before the season started had aspirations to be an insurance agent will hold down first base; Backer will perform at second and Art Garibaldi, third. Hal Rhyne, the only newcomer to the infield, will give the team the benefit of his major league experience from the shortstop position.

Larry Woodall and Hugh McMullen make up the catching department. Woodall, while carting with Sacramento last season, rang up a .312 batting average. McMullen is known as a hard working player, who holds up his end when it comes to batting and fielding. In reserve is Vincent Mendoza, a recent addition.

HANSEN BEATS AL KARASICK

Seattle Heavy Upsets Lion In One-Fall Match

Al Karasick, king of the Legion hall for more than a year, turned over his Klamath Falls prestige last night to big Charley Hansen, "heavyweight from Seattle."

The Russian Lion, victorious in nearly a score of matches, lost the single fall of the long main event. Hansen won his way to the top after 47 minutes and 28 seconds of an evenly wrestled match.

Lion Stages Rally

The victory was disputed to the end of the bout, and the few minutes remaining after the first fall were all in the Russian Lion's favor. More than once he was on the verge of bringing the event to a draw, but each time he neared a fall the husky athlete from Seattle managed to free himself.

Hansen successful in his first appearance here, will be matched against Ted "King Kong" Cox of Lodi, California, in next week's main event. Cox has been the ruling heavy in Portland for several weeks.

Karasick lost the fall when Hansen, apparently groggy, came out of a series of reverse headlocks, lifted the Lion from the floor and then pinned him with a body press.

Kogut Defeated

The Lion was the aggressor in the closing 13 minutes. Hansen nearly lost his advantage in Boston crab holds, but succeeded in breaking the clamps against the ropes.

The result of the match was received enthusiastically by the Legion hall crowd.

Les Grimes of New Zealand defeated Jack Kogut of Montreal in a quickly finished semi-final. Grimes took the single fall with a Boston crab in 12 minutes. Kogut was unable to continue the match, and lost by default. The Canadian was trapped after receiving a hard punch to the jaw.

Richard Warren decisively defeated Cecil Barrick of Grants in a quickly finished main event. Pass in the half hour curtain raiser. Barrick, losing his shoes in the course of the match, was clearly outclassed. The one fall came in 11 minutes with a surt-board.

Williams Named Tennis Captain

PHILADELPHIA, March 10 (AP)—R. Norris (Dick) Williams, who today was named non-playing captain of the 1934 United States Davis cup team, expressed gratification of the honor paid him but refused to discuss this country's chances of regaining the tennis trophy from England.

"It is an honor, too early to talk about our chances," he said. "The team has not even been outlined, much less selected, so what could I say," he said.

Indians Accused of Santa Rosa Murder

SANTA ROSA, Calif., March 10. (AP)—Four drunken digger Indians were accused last night of savagely beating to death P. D. Eckman, 53, former wealthy contractor, whose battered body was taken from Santa Rosa creek.

Byron Tillotson, 25, and Frank Lewis, 22, Indians, were held in jail and a countywide manhunt was launched for Ed Billy, 21.

game exhibition series with their fellow townsmen, the Missions, at the Red Training camp at Woodland today and Sunday. Manager Jimmy Cavney of the Seals, is taking a crew of 25 along on the trip from the training quarters at San Francisco.

Cavney announced the batting order for the series, which will probably be the same when the season opens. Garibaldi will be the leadoff man followed by Funk, Backer, and Dimaggio will bat from the cleanup position. Behind the youthful Joe will come Fenton, and Rhyne, then the catcher and pitcher.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 10 (AP)—A last inning uprising by New York Giant rookies gave the world champions a 5 to 3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the first exhibition baseball game of the major league season.

Bill Terry's champions were behind 2 to 0 going into the ninth. Then Weintraub, Martin, Danning and Leiber hammered young Alton Banto, a Philadelphia rookie from the Oklahoma City club, for four hits and three runs.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 10 (AP)—With Manager Earl McNeely off on a southern training expedition, Catcher Kettle Writs put the Sacramento Senators through a stiff batting and field practice. Bill Balkeld, Sacramento high school boy catcher who had just signed with the Solons, lived up to advance notice in his second practice, especially in connection with long hits.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10 (AP)—Another reluctant outfielder, Louie Almada, signed here with the Mission Reds and will report at the Woodland training camp soon.

CALISTOGA, Calif., March 10 (AP)—Harlan Pool, husky Oakland outfielder, signed his contract with the Oaks and will report at the camp here soon.

TAMPA, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Seattle Feathers, Tennessee university's football ace, hit a home run, and Joe Back, Kentucky grid star, got a triple, for the Cincinnati rookies but the hits were not enough to save the rookies from a 9-5 defeat by the regulars. Adam Comorosky and Tony Piet led the regulars at bat, each connecting for a double and a single.

AVALON, Catalina Island, March 10 (AP)—Home runs by Phelps, Klein and English featured a four inning practice game in which the Chicago Cubs regulars trounced the rookies, 12 to 4.

Warnke, hurling for the rookies, was hammered for nine hits and 19 runs in two innings but was accorded loose support.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10 (AP)—The Boston Braves' pitching roster was completed with the arrival of Ray Starr from Oklahoma.

Nearly 2000 fans were at Waterfront Park to watch the opening scrub game of the season between teams made up mostly of grave recruits and battermen. Frank (Shanty) Hogan and Al Spohrer captained the outfits, with Hogan's team winning 9 to 6.

Franklin Leader In Portland Race

PORTLAND, Ore., March 10. (AP)—None but partisans would bet on any team to win the Portland high school basketball championship.

Franklin was on top today, but still had a tie game to play off. Last night Lincoln high snipped off Jefferson 28 to 19 and left the democrats in second place.

Franklin best Washington 38 to 26; Benson best Grant 24 to 20 and Commerce gave Roosevelt drubbing number 12 with a 24 to 16 shellacking.

Klamath Team Defeated by Sams Valley in Semi-Finals.

ASHLAND, Ore., March 10. (Special)—Chiloquin high school of Klamath county was eliminated from the Seventh Annual Southern Oregon Normal school basketball tournament this morning by Sams Valley.

The little high school from the Medford district upset Chiloquin, 21 to 15.

Sams Valley's victory sent it into the finals against Central Point. Chiloquin will meet Madras for third place position.

Sportsman Dies After Injuries

SEATTLE, March 10. (AP)—Sportsmen of the northwest today mourned the death of Daniel E. Dugdale, 68, one of the best loved baseball men of this territory.

He died last night after having been injured by a truck as he was crossing the street. The coroner's office today started an investigation of the statement of A. A. Peterson, who drove the city light department truck, and said the accident was unavoidable.

Mr. Dugdale was appointed to the last Washington State legislature. His baseball career started in the "Three-Eye" league of Illinois, and then he was a catcher for Washington, Detroit and Boston. He owned the Seattle franchise in the old northwest league, and continued his interest in baseball until his death.

Foxx Finally Signs Contract With Athletics

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Jimmy Foxx, current batting champion and "most valuable" player in the major leagues, today signed his contract with the Philadelphia Athletics after a long and widely publicized holdout dispute.

The A's slugging first baseman is understood to have signed for one year at a salary of $18,000. This represents an increase of $500 over the amount he received in 1933. It is $5,000 more than the $11,000 originally offered this season by Manager Connie Mack.

Because of his excellent 1933 season, Foxx had demanded at least $25,000.

It is understood that a "rider" is attached to the home run king's contract, giving him more money if the attendance at the Mackmen's games passes a certain mark.

Gilmore Five Wins Amateur Hoop Tourney

SEATTLE, March 10. (AP)—The Seattle Gilmore basketball team, winner of the northwest independent championship, sped toward Kansas City today for a try at the national A. A. U. tourney.

En route, they hoped to pick up Ed Lewis of Oregon State college, all-coast college center last year, who started for Kansas City with a Los Angeles team, but turned back when he heard he was ineligible to play with the Californians.

Last night the Gilmore squad trimmed the strong Portland Union Oilers 37 to 30. Yakima taking fourth place and Victoria, B. C. fifth.

KLAMATH WINS FROM REDMOND

Pelicans Take Opening Clash of Title Series, 45-28.

Klamath Union high school was one step nearer the state championship tournament today after defeating the Redmond team 45 to 28 in the north-city last night.

Should the Pelicans win the second game tonight they will have won the southern district championship and a right to play in the state tournament.

"The boys looked good and played one of the best games of the season," Coach Dwight French, stated in a long distance conversation with the News-Herald last night.

Miller, Pelican center was high point scorer with 18 counters. Klamath started the game with the zone defense play and ran the score to 12 to 2 in the first few minutes of play. The system was changed then to a man to man form and the first half of the game ended 24 to 8 for Klamath.

At the opening of the second half, Redmond ran up most of its scores and came close to tying the Pelican score.

"We shouldn't have any trouble in winning the second game from Redmond tonight," French stated.
