LUMBER YARD
ISSUE CLAIMS
CITY INTEREST

Lengthy arguments relative to proposed operation of a retail lumber yard to be managed by J. P. Duke and W. T. Dean in an uncompleted building belonging to Dean at 2101 Hadcliffe street, occupied a major portion of the city council meeting Monday night.

Petitions against the operation of such a plant, signed by neighboring property owners, were read, and the council finally took action against Duke's and Dean's proposed operation on the grounds that certain machinery located in the building rated the project as a manufacturing plant instead of business venture, when the property in located outside of the manufacturing zone.

Due to an extended drive-up on traffic violators who have been given tags for overtime parking, the city has run out of traffic tickets, and after due deliberation the council voted to order a new supply of these omens of bad news to motorists.

Clean-up Discussed
An assignment from Dr. A. A. Soule, health officer, turning over all of his present and future claims against the city by Jennie Lang of Dorris, was read to the council. The assignment had been drawn up by Don Hamilton, Mrs. Lang's attorney, and was objected to by City Attorney A. L. Leavitt upon the grounds that no amounts were cited in the instrument. He declared that Soule would have to name specifically the amounts before a legal opinion as to its validity could be given.

L. Orth Risemore, representing the Junior chamber of commerce, which is sponsoring the move, spoke on behalf of the proposed clean-up week, and a future meeting was arranged with the council health committee to discuss plans relative to garbage disposal and a clean-up of city properties.

A resolution relative to bids for city tires was passed by the council stating that at no time had the members considered, or conveyed the impression, that E. E. Bonner of the Smith Tire company had violated the NRA code in submitting a low bid for the city's tire business. The matter of this bid, already awarded to the Black and White Tire company, was submitted to the council as a whole for further study.

Bowling Alley Proposed
A tentative approval of a proposed bowling alley to be constructed by William A. Barron in the basement of the Kerns building was granted by the council. Barron's check, with an application for a beer license, was filed with the council along with several others.

Because of a change in radio wave lengths by the federal radio commission, it was voted to purchase a new crystal for the police radio station.

The police judge was instructed to notify the owner of a partially burned building on Eberlein street that this place constituted a nuisance, and would be torn down by the city at the owner's expense if immediate action was not taken. The owner has been notified several times of the condition of his property, Fire Chief Art Bardell reported.
Notices to other owners of partially burned properties were filed with the police judge. More drastic action will be taken with these buildings if the chief's requests are not complied with, it was stated.

Willard Peyton, owner of property adjoining the hall, wrote the council complimenting the body upon its action in cleaning up the city hall building and lowering the Fifth street sidewalks. "Now that your face is bright and shining, may I suggest that you wash behind your ears, and clean up the lot on Walnut street behind the city hall," wrote Peyton.

Boxing Commission Named
The heavy traffic ordinance limiting such traffic to designated streets was adopted with amendments, and the hotel license ordinance setting new fees on hotels and apartments of varying size was passed to the second reading to be taken up at next week's meeting.

Appointment of a new boxing commission, consisting of George Kincaid, Lee Jacobs, Ralph Ben-trim, Dr. C. E. Morrison and Frank Hamm, was announced by Mayor Willis E. Mahoney, and the personnel approved by the council. A balance of $1,000 on hand with the boxing commission was announced.

A report from City Engineer E. A. Thomas on CWA projects in which the city of Klamath Falls has been directly concerned was read. With the completion of the airport and the old high school wrecking job, a grand total of $99,298.00, of which CWA has contributed $33,701.00 was reported. These figures represent the CWA program directly affecting the city, and do not include school district projects, the engineer stated.

Rainbow—Now playing, "Moonlight and Pretzels."

Vox—Now playing, "You Can't Buy Everything," with May Robson.

AT THE PELICAN

Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable in "It Happened One Night"

Just why San Francisco demanded that "It Happened One Night" be held over three extra weeks will be understood by Klamath Falls audiences today when it is seen at the Pelican theatre. The story offers possibility for a good picture; the Colbert-Gable combination lends probability of a good picture and the direction of Frank Capra makes it inevitable that "It Happened One Night" reach its public 'mid the plaudits of the fans and the furiously excited laudation given it by the press in the few metropolitan centers that have had an opportunity to see it.

In an interview following his return from San Francisco, Mr. May of Moe's Women's Store, was praising "It Happened One Night."

"Has it a happy ending?" someone asked.

"Happy ending? It's happy all the way through!" was Mr. May's enthusiastic reply.

Briefly, "It Happened One Night" is a comedy of the type that will make it the foremost picture for weeks to come, for although it has been shown in only a few of the larger cities it is already branded one of the year's greatest hits.

AT THE PINE TREE

Human interest—the kind that gets right under your skin and clutches at the heart—is the keynote of "Broken Dreams," which plays today at the Pine Tree theatre. Olga Printzlau, author of the story, and Maude Fulton, scenarist, have taken a simple story of real life, and dramatized it for the screen with a sympathetic understanding that makes a powerful appeal to the emotions.

Directed with keen understanding by Robert Vignola, and enacted by players of genuine ability, "Broken Dreams" supplies entertainment of a type that every member of the family can enjoy.

AT THE RAINBOW

Composed by four of America's ace songsmiths, the tuneful melodies in "Moonlight and Pretzels," the backstage musical romance, at the rainbow theatre today, reflects the spirit of the times in a manner unique for screen musical comedy. At least three of the numbers in the score may truly be said to be descriptive of the present American scene. In "Moonlight and Pretzels," more than in any other of the recent screen musicals, the composers have followed the precept of the fellow who said "Let me but write the songs of a nation and I care not who makes its laws."

AT THE VOX

May Robson dallies with high finance, mother-love, and here and there a comedy interlude, in one of the remarkable roles of her screen career, in "You Can't Buy Everything," the gripping drama of a woman financier on Wall Street, now playing at the Vox theatre.

Miss Robson plays the role of Hannah Bell in "You Can't Buy Everything," which was produced by Lucien Hubbard and directed by Charles Riesner. The cast also includes Jean Parker, Lewis Stone, Mary Forbes, William Bakewell, Reginald Mason, Tad Alexander, Walter Walker and Reginald Barlow.

This picture is now playing in Portland under the title "The Wolf of Wall Street."

—about Cigarettes

Practically untouched
by human hands

WE'D like you to see Chesterfields made. We know you'd be impressed by the absolute cleanliness of our factories.

The tobaccos are the best that money can buy.

Expert chemists test for cleanliness and purity all materials used in any way in the manufacture of Chesterfield cigarettes.

The factories are modern throughout. Even the air is changed every 4 1/2 minutes.

When you smoke a Chesterfield you can be sure that there isn't a purer cigarette made.

In a letter to us an eminent scientist says: "Chesterfields are just as pure as the water you drink."

Inspectors examine Chesterfields as they come from the cigarette making machines and throw out any imperfect cigarettes.
