of Eastman to aid in composing the differences. Whitney repeated labor's demand for a restoration of the old pay scale and an increase of 10 per cent on July 1.

F. R. SEES COUZENS. WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—President Roosevelt today discussed the automobile strike situation with Senator Couzens, republican, Mich., who said later the chief executive has a proposition to submit to the disputing employers and employees. Meanwhile, word was awaited from railway leaders as to whether they would join the railroad managers in agreeing to continue for six months the present wages. The White House was silent on plans for negotiations on the threatened motor strike. Whether the automobile manufacturers would be called in today or invited to join tomorrow's conference with labor representatives was not made known. Senator Couzens, himself a former automobile executive, declined to discuss the president's plans or to venture any opinion about the dispute.

STRIKE DELAYED. CLEVELAND, March 21. (AP)—Taking their cue from automotive workers in Michigan, some 7,000 members of the automotive workers union in Cleveland plants held their projected strike in abeyance today.

Most of them are employed at the Fisher Body company and the Winton Engine company, General Motors subsidiaries. "We will go along with the request of President Roosevelt and hold off our strike until after the conference in Washington," said Paul Miley, president of the local union.

Replying to criticism of the cancellation, Bulwinkle termed the administration of Former Postmaster General Walter F. Brown a "spurious mass of petrification" likened only to the "Teapot Dome scandals."

Turning to cancellation of the contracts without first giving the air mail companies a hearing, he argued that "any contract or agreement between two or more parties always has been and always will be vitiated by fraud."

THIRTY-THREE DIE IN TRAIN DISASTER

MOSCOW, March 21. (AP)—Thirty-three persons were killed and 68 injured in the wreck of two trains near Sverdlovsk revealed here belatedly today as the latest in soviet Russia's recent epidemic of serious railroad accidents.

The wreck occurred nine days ago, but word of it did not become public here until this morning.

LOWER HOUSE POST SOUGHT BY WILLIAMS

the voters in May, regardless of the success of the recall petition circulation.

"I don't feel I can afford to give more time to the commissioner work," said Williams. "But I can get away for the time necessary to go to the legislature, and I feel I can give Klamath county real service in the lower house."

Here for Eight Years Williams has lived in the county eight years. He was appointed county commissioner to serve out the unexpired term of Horace Dunlap and has since served a term in his own right. He is the second candidate to announce for the legislature. The other is Harry Bolvin, who is on the democratic ticket. The other strong prospects are W. C. Van Emon, republican, and Harry Semon, incumbent, who is expected to file as a democrat. Semon was elected as an independent in 1932.

On Monday night at 8 o'clock at the courthouse the young democrats will launch a program which they hope will develop a harmonious and influential political organization. All registered democrat voters between the ages of 21 and 35 are invited to the session.

Delegates to Report There will be a report by delegates to the Bend meeting of democrats of five counties, Saturday. Both old and young demos will attend the Bend session, sponsored by the Deschutes County Young Democratic League. At least a dozen young democrats will attend from Klamath county, according to Bryant Williams, chairman of the Klamath League.

Mayor W. E. Mahoney, democratic gubernatorial candidate, will be principal speaker at the Bend meeting. Although the young democrats of Klamath are sending delegates, they have taken no stand on the Mahoney candidate, Williams said. Those expecting to attend the Bend meeting should get in touch with Chester Langseth at 908 to get tickets and arrange transportation. Veterans Active Another organization that is demanding recognition in this campaign is the Veterans Political League. The league has at least 175 members, and among families of members there are some 500 or 600 voters. It has been holding regular meetings and just now has a committee investigating candidates. Eventually, the league is expected to endorse a candidate for each office and will go to work for those it approves. The Mahoney situation here is a matter of great interest. The mayor is out of town on a vote-seeking tour of the north, and his absence is being taken advantage of by the "sitting on the lid" while his candidate is elsewhere.

New Converts Join The most interesting angle just now is to be found in the activities of the Mahoney converts. Some of the mayor's outstanding supporters are from groups which were far from his camp in the mayoralty campaign of 1932. They seem to have traded places with some of those who were up front in the Mahoney campaign of 1932.

Head of local Mahoney forces now is Percy Murray. It is generally conceded that the mayor's strategists were on their toes when they maneuvered Murray into the leadership. Murray has never been known as a Mahoney man. He is not a politician in the sense that he runs for office, but he is keenly interested in politics. He had a hand in the stroke of smart politics that put Harry Semon in the state legislature as an independent. Murray is a business man, civic leader and is in close touch with farmers.

Roycroft Replaced Lee Jacobs, who assumed temporary chairmanship of the Mahoney organization movement here before Murray was appointed, was ousted by the mayor to a place on the boxing commission Monday night. The other new appointees on the commission is Dr. C. E. Morrison. Leaving the commission are Dr. O. J. Johnson, local dentist, and Lynn Roycroft. Roycroft, incidentally, was secretary of the Mahoney club back in 1932 and helped hold the fort here in the period after the November election that year when the mayor-elect was out of town oodging process servers.

How strong Mahoney may be in Klamath county is a subject of considerable speculation. Al Graham, chairman of the county democratic central committee, says Mahoney ought not to lose 100 votes in the county. Others see a different picture. The mayor himself possibly isn't over-concerned about this matter. If he should carry the democrats of the county two to one over Martin he would have only a margin of around 1000.

On the other hand, any candidate seeking office hopes to have a strong show of support at home where he is known best, and Mahoney supporters here expect to do considerable work in that direction.

BURNS KILLER LOSES APPEAL TO HIGH COURT

the budget for this work had been exceeded. "That brings up the recall situation," said the judge. "The taxpayers' league is after us because we spend too much money. You fellows are after us because we don't spend enough."

Perry protested the R.W.P.A. was not working for the recall movement. "I don't know just what that means," said the judge. "I do know your members have been circulating recall petitions."

In a discussion of the adequacy of relief, Andrew Collier, member of the committee, said that under the last year of the Hoover administration $110,000 of government money had been spent for relief in Klamath county. Under the new administration, he said, far larger sums are being spent.

Records in the case showed that Riley and his wife, Hilda, separated early in September of 1932, and she with her two children went to reside with her parents in Burns from the Riley home in Portland, and shortly later filed suit for divorce. They were married in 1924.

After sending several threatening letters, Riley visited Burns the last week in October. The morning of October 31, the records showed, he started shooting after his wife's father, Carey Thornburg, declared she did not have to return with him if she did not wish to. In the shooting, testimony revealed, Carey Thornburg and Mrs. Riley were shot several times and killed, and Mrs. Thornburg wounded.

station for questioning, he said he was nine blocks away when the fire started. Brophy said the man could not have seen the fire if he had been where he said he was, and the fire marshal ordered him sent to Bellevue hospital for observation in the psychopathic ward pending an investigation. Brophy said the man told him he had an "invention" for curing insanity.

ANCIENT TROLLEY MOVED ON TUESDAY

Back on wheels once more, the old Linkville trolley was moved from its vacant lot "graveyard" near the old Holland house Tuesday. The ancient horsecar was taken down Spring street to the McCandless and Riggers welding establishment, where it is to be put into shape for exhibition on Thursday along with the Union Pacific's new streamlined train.

All that is to be done on the trolley at present is to strengthen it sufficiently to hold it together during the exhibition. It is hoped that later sufficient funds may be raised to restore it to its original appearance and make it a permanent historical exhibit in some prominent place such as the courthouse lawn.

A general tightening of body bolts, spring shackles and engine bolts will do away with many bothersome noises and raise your opinion of your car.

ALTAMONT P.-T. A. PRESIDENT NAMED

Mrs. Bert Schultz was named president of the Altamont Parent-Teacher association at an election held Tuesday evening. Other contestants were H. Mohr and Mrs. Taylor. A large crowd was present for the meeting.

Mrs. Schultz was the local school committee candidate for the P.-T. A. leadership. Mohr was candidate of the Home Protective association. The election, it was understood, was somewhat involved in a controversy that has prevailed in the Altamont district over the question of dancing in the school building and other matters.

Speaker at the general meeting Tuesday night was R. C. Groesbeck, local attorney.
