

CITY BRIEFS

Portland Visitors — Mr. and Mrs. Margison of Portland, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ward of the Klamath Funeral home early this week.

Ball Players Wanted — Any baseball player wishing to try out for the team being organized by the East Klamath Improvement club, can do so by going to the club ball grounds at South Sixth street and Washburn Way, and reporting to William King, coach, on Sunday afternoon, April 1, according to an announcement from the team manager.

Program Planned — An Easter program has been arranged by the Sunday school of the Latter Day Saints church which is held each Sunday in the city library auditorium. Following the exercises an egg hunt will be given for the children. Any one caring to attend will be welcomed. Services will begin at 10 o'clock, before the program.

Hunting Gustave Brackett — County Judge Grizzle said Saturday he had received word from Portland asking information as to the whereabouts of Gustave Brackett, 45. The judge said Portland authorities are inquiring about his family they want to convey to Brackett.

Change Made — The Klamath Falls Ministerial Association will meet at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, April 2, at the First Presbyterian church, instead of at the First Christian church, as originally announced.

Thompson Visitor — F. E. Thompson, former manager of the Langlois Valley Irrigation district and now land appraiser for the federal government, was in town Saturday after a trip to Idaho.

Return to Eugene — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larsen of Eugene, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Klamath Falls, left for Eugene on Saturday.

AMUSEMENTS

Pelican — Now playing, "As Husbands Go." Sunday, "Four Frightened People," with Claudette Colbert, Herbert Marshall, Mary Boland, William Gargan and Leo Carillo.

Pine Tree — Now playing, "The Man Trapper." Sunday, "The World Changes," with Paul Muni and Aline MacMahon.

Rainbow — Now playing, "Headline Shooters." Sunday, "Wild Horse Mesa," with Randolph Scott and Sally Blane.

Vox — Now playing, "Madame Spy." Sunday, "The Women in His Life," with Otto Kruger, Una Merkel, Isabel Jewel and Ben Lyon.

AT THE PELICAN.
With the exception of three scenes, which were made in the studio in Hollywood, Cecil B. De Mille's latest Paramount picture, "Four Frightened People," which comes tomorrow to the Pelican theatre, was filmed entirely in the wild sections of the Island of Hawaii. The company was located two hundred miles by boat from Honolulu.

posing cast which brings this E. Arnold-Robertson novel to the screen.

AT THE PINE TREE.
Paul Muni, who is one of the few screen stars who has a place in the selection of his film vehicles, read over 50 stories before he selected "The World Changes," which is on view at the Pine Tree theatre tomorrow, as the picture he would like to do. The great reception accorded "The World Changes" by the thousands of film stars over the country where the picture has already played, justifies Muni's selection of this epic of American life.

Supporting Paul Muni in Warner Bros.-First National's "The World Changes" are Aline MacMahon, Mary Astor, Margaret Lindsay, Guy Kibbee, Donald Cook and Gordon Westcott.

AT THE RAINBOW.
Zane Grey's famed action-romance, "Wild Horse Mesa," done into a movie with a cast headed by Randolph Scott, Sally Blane, Fred Kohler, Lucille La Verne, Charley Grapewin and Jim Thorpe, has been booked for the Rainbow theatre, where it will open tomorrow.

AT THE VOX.
Otto Kruger appears as Attorney Kent Barringer in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "The Women in His Life," playing at the Vox theatre Sunday. probably has had one of the varied lives of any motion picture actor. Kruger has been a telephone linesman, a U. S. forest ranger, an engineer, and a job in Uncle Sam's navy. He is an excellent musician, a talented magician and knows more trick golf shots than any other film player. Kruger is now appearing in his second Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture in which he plays the part of an attorney. The first was "Beauty for Sale."

His second, "The Women in His Life," was directed by George B. Seitz and has a cast that includes Una Merkel, Ben Lyon, Isabel Jewel, Roscoe Karns, Irene Hervey, C. Henry Gordon and Irene Franklin.
