A patrol wagon and several squad cars arrived at the market as reinforcements. The crowd of strikers and bystanders milled about shouting at police.

Police in Victory

Police in Victory Nearly 500 strikers swooped for clubs. Twelve police cars were rushed to the scene and the fight was on. Strikers were clubbed and returned the police its with clubs. Ambulances were rushed to the scene. The first battle resulted in victory for the police as two rucks moved out, under police deliveries. A second rot broke out at the C. Thomas stores headquarters, when an army of nearly 400 strikers blocked the Thomas gar-age. They stoned two trucks, brinders blocked the two trucks, brinders blocked the two trucks, brinders blocked the two trucks, brinders blocked to the scene. Fire Causes Big Loss at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., May 18. (#) Locs attinuited by the fire mar-shall at about $100,000 was caus-ed here today when fire ruined the D. N. & E. Walter company building. Portland's heaviest fire fighting equipment fought a los-ing battle for two hours. A stock of linoleum, draperies, curtains and Oriental rugs was lost and only the exterior of the building was left standing.

Crowds Flock To Al G. Barnes Circus (Continued from Page One) there has never been anything to compare with it. Through its ab-sorption of the Great Sells-Floto circus, the amalgamation has re-suited in the world's largest trav-circus, the amalgamation has re-suited in the world's largest trav-eling amsement institution. Its visit constitutes a veritable muni-cipal holiday with the schools in-terrupting their sessions that pu-plis may avail themselves of the unequaled opportunity to study natural history. Each season the enlarged AI G. Barnes circus makes two complete transcontinental trips across the American continent. New York, Chicago and the larger citles are visited by the stupendous enter-prise. Its predominating char-acteristics of housety, truth and progress cellpses in magnitude, magnificence and variety every other tented undertaking. With speed and precision the tents nosed their way into the air soon after the arrival of the first red wagon on the show grounds. Like an army, the circus figura-tively moves on its stomach. Geo. 5 Tipton, the circus chef, had a pip-ing hot breakfast for the first con-tingent of the 1.080 employees. 30 minutes after the commissary wagons were spotted.

Attougn the Al G. Barnes cir-cuts is a peculiarly and typically American institution, more than 90 per cent of its performers are foreign. In Europe the struggle for existence is so sharp that peo-ple will attempt exploits which imparting the and which ple will attempt exploits which imperil life and limb, and which no American would think of un-dertaking. They have come across the water by scores. There are 400 performers with the show, representing 18 foreign countries. Childhood's dreams promise to be gioriously realized in the huge spectacle the "Fiesta of the Rio Grande" which serves as a pre-lude to the main performance. In-terpreted by 600 persons, 100 singing and dancing girls, caval-cades of horses, camels and elecades of horses, camels and ele-phants. It was presented in a series of radiant visions, vast tab-leaux and moving spectacles of irridescent splendor and was by far the most notable achieve-by far the most notable achieve-ment in spectacular and dramatic amusements in all the long his-tory of the famous circus. "Poodles" Hanneford, prince of riding clowns, heads the human personnel. Freeh from a four year conquering conquest of Eu-rope, this famous bareback rider promises to uncork unheard of thrills. The Flying Clarkonians, champions of Europe were pit-ted against America's representa-tive aerialists, the Ward family. Altogether more than 60 of the world's celebrated aerialists will be seen this season. From Italy comes the Cancestrellis family of equilibrists whose work on un-
