National and Local Markets

EGG INCREASE FAILS TO COME AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND, May 19, (AP)—Expected advance in the price on butter materialized here during the weekend session of the produce exchange but only extras were affected. Demand for storage continued to huge volume and while churning operations continued at the flush there remained a shortage as compared with the increasing call.

While the report was that butterfat prices were unchanged, some were paying 1 cent above established quotations.

Market for eggs continued to reflect a generally steady to strong tone locally but without price change at the weekend. Quality as a whole remains favorable.

Despite the good call for supplies, the price on colored chickens was reduced 1 cent while similar broilers were cut 3 cents a pound. Both were out of line with actual supply and demand.

Scant supplies of dressed turkeys were now catching the local trade with resulting strengthening of the tone although no further change in the price was suggested.

It was difficult to sell cherries at this period and especially so as regards the early soft varieties from Pacific Northwest points. Buyers purchase slowly and it has been the rule to return supplies the next day.

Market for country killed calves showed a good tone along the wholesale way with prices inclined to rule a trifle stronger in spots. Other country meats were unchanged.

Great scarcity of cabbage was now showing here with a further advance forced in the price as a result. Shipping demand was good to northwest points.

Strawberry prices were higher for processing with one local plant offering 5 cents a pound for supplies at the weekend. This is an advance of 1 cent a pound over what was being paid during the last few days.

Advance in the canning price comes as a direct result of the actual shortage of berries as compared with the demand.

There was not only a strong demand from canners and barrelers for strawberries but the shipping call was extremely good and was not being supplied.

Chinese Bandits Ask Huge Ransom for Rev. Smith

SHANGHAI, Saturday, May 19. (UP)—Ransom of $100,000 was demanded today for the release of the Rev. Howard Smith, Pennsylvania missionary kidnaped by bandits in Szchuen province, it was learned here.

Smith was kidnaped 10 days ago at Penghsien, authorities of Szchuen province informed the foreign office at Nanking that their efforts to obtain his release had failed.

Smith's wife and child were escorted to Chungking under bandit guard and delivered safely to an American naval detail. They were taken to Wuchang where Mrs. Smith's father resides.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON, May 19. (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Because of the relatively low prices quoted on fleeces compared with the firm asking prices on the bulk of the western grown wools, interest in the wool market during the past week was centered largely on the new clip in the fleece wool states. Little was done in spot fleeces here, but dealers bought a few of the lower priced lots offered from the country.

A few mills were bidding, but their offers were reported to have secured only occasional carloads.

Where Mark Twain Started Career

A bronze plaque in front of the historic Territorial Enterprise, in Virginia City, Nev., notes the fact that it was to this office that young Sam Clemens came from the Esmeralda mining camps in 1862 to write for the paper and begin his immortal career as Mark Twain. The plaque was placed by the University of Nevada Press Club, and Edward Montgomery, the president, is shown affixing the plaque to an ancient iron column in front of the office.
