CLUBS ENDORSE LOCAL CONCLAVE

Endorsement of the 1935 national convention of 20-30 clubs for Klamath Falls was given by the sixth district of the association in convention in Susanville, Calif., Saturday and Sunday, according to a report from Joe Knudson, national officer, who attended the meeting.

Knudson was joined at Lakeview by Forrest Cooper, national president of the organization.

Cities represented at the district convention were Ely, Fallon, Carson Valley, Yerington and Reno, Nevada, and Susanville, California.

Representatives from Sacramento were also present and approximately 100 delegates representatives and visitors attended the convention.

Knudson returned to Klamath Falls Sunday night.

WEATHER

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy registers an upward tendency for the barometric pressure, and little change in weather is expected.

The Tycos recording thermometer registered a maximum and minimum temperature Monday as follows:

High 74
Low 45

Forecast for the next 24 hours: Generally fair with rising temperatures.

The United States weather bureau reports no precipitation for the 24-hour period ending Sunday at 5 p. m.; 7.80 for the season to date; 10.59 normal; 8.35 last year.

Oregon's Wheat Crops Reduced

PENDLETON, Ore., May 21. (AP)—A fifty per cent wheat crop for eastern Oregon unless weather conditions change, is predicted by J. W. Maloney, collector of internal revenue and former wheat farmer of Pendleton. The present condition was ascribed to the fact that wheat went through the winter without the usual moisture.

A below normal crop was seen for Umatilla county and unless conditions change soon, the yield was expected to be around four million bushels.

Prize Awarded Klamath Girl

Miss Geanne Goeller was presented with a check for $5.00 Monday morning as her award for winning the second division state prize in the state poppy poster contest sponsored annually by the American Legion auxiliary.

Presentation of the prize to the talented young artist was made by Mrs. Fred Heilbronner, president of the Klamath unit of the Legion auxiliary.

SERA Starts Work At Fish Hatchery

SERA work on the Crooked creek fish hatchery was started Monday. This project will complete work started under the CWA.

Manager Will Baldwin of the SERA said that a small crew will go to work on the fairgrounds in a few days. This is also an old CWA project.

EXTRADITION REFUSED

SALEM, May 21. (AP)—Governor Julius L. Meier today denied the request of Governor Martin of Washington for the extradition of Peggy Clapp Kallin, wanted in Seattle on a charge of grand larceny.

One-half of 1 per cent of auto accidents and 4 per cent of the deaths take place at railway crossings.

AMUSEMENTS

Pelican—Now playing, "The Girl Without a Room." Tomorrow, "Looking For Trouble," with Spencer Tracy and Jack Oakie.

Pine Tree—Now playing, "The Big Shakedown." Tomorrow, "Doctor Bull," with Will Rogers.

Rainbow — Now playing, "Wharf Angel." Tomorrow, "The Vampire Bat," with Fay Wray and Lionel Atwill.

Vox—Now playing, "Mystery of Mr. X," with Robert Montgomery, Elizabeth Allan, Lewis Stone and Ralph Forbes.

AT THE PELICAN

Arline Judge and Jack Oakie in "Looking For Trouble"

If it's genuine comedy you like in a picture, you'll find it in "Looking for Trouble," which stars Spencer Tracy and Jack Oakie as the newest team of film funsters and is the attraction at the Pelican Theatre beginning Tuesday.

And there's also some wildly hilarious adventure in this romantic action drama of telephone "trouble shooters" and their sweethearts.

Tracy and Oakie have the roles of two telephone linesmen, in this production. Their love affairs with Constance Cummings and Arline Judge, a pair of wisecracking telephone girls, provide some of the gayest sequences in this thrilling story.

AT THE PINE TREE

Will Rogers returns to the Pine Tree theatre beginning on Tuesday in "Doctor Bull." It is the screen presentation of the famous novel by James Gould Cozens, "The Last Adam," best-seller and recent Book-of-the-Month selection. It is one of the most powerful vehicles the popular philosopher-comedian has had on the talking screen.

The film does not present the story of one character. Like "State Fair," the last of the Rogers screen plays, it deals with many characters, each typical of its kind. It is more than the story of one town. For it is the story of thousands of similar towns all over the country.

AT THE RAINBOW

Lionel Atwill and Fay Wray, co-stars of "Dr. X" and "Wax Museum," will be seen together again in the leading roles of another thriller, "The Vampire Bat," at the Rainbow Theatre beginning tomorrow. In this production, Atwill will be seen in the role of Dr. von Niemann, a physician and scientist, and Miss Wray will be seen as his laboratory assistant.

AT THE VOX

Robert Montgomery feels he is becoming an expert in the ways of crime. He went directly from playing the part of an escaped convict in "Fugitive Lovers" to that of a sauve, gentleman crook in "Mystery of Mr. X," new terror film now at the Vox theatre until Wednesday night.

Montgomery's fine acting ability to inject sympathy, humor and pathos into this type of role, is the reason for this choice, it is reported.

Edgar Selwyn directed the new film and Elizabeth Allan plays Montgomery's leading lady. Lewis Stone, Ralph Forbes, Henry Stephenson, Forrester Harvey, Ivan Simpson, Leonard Mudie and Alec B. Francis have featured roles.

TULE LAKE

TULE LAKE, Calif.—Tule Lake grange held open meeting Thursday night. C. A. Henderson gave a talk on weed and grasshopper control. The singing mothers gave a number. High score in "500" was held by Mrs. Bert Williamson and low by Miss Mary Knopp.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Scheid of Bishop, Calif., spent Sunday night and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamberlain.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buskirk, Mr. and Mrs. Amil Carrows spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. French Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain spent Sunday near Adin, fishing.

Ward MacRostie, who is with the CCC camp at Hackamore, spent Saturday with home folks.

Tells of Aviation Advances in U.S.

A glowing picture of progress in American aviation was painted by Frederick R. Neely, chief of the Commerce Department's Aeronautics Information Bureau, when (as shown here) he appeared before the Senate Airmail Committee in Washington. The operating speed of transport planes jumped from 102 to 129 in six years, he said, and about 53,000,000 persons were served by air transportation in 1933.

EDITOR TO SPEAK AT G. O. P. MEET

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21. (Special)—Charles A. Sprague, editor of the Oregon Statesman, will be the principal speaker at the dinner meeting on May 25 in Portland, at the Masonic temple, climaxing a state wide rally of Oregon republicans which will convene in a business session earlier in the day.

Mr. Sprague, a recognized leader among the new element in the republican party will speak on, "The Republican Party Looks To The Future."

The state wide meeting will be held under the direction of the Multnomah chapter of Oregon republicans, who are acting as hosts at the request of similar organizations in various parts of the state. Reservations are being made through the office of Lowell C. Paget, chairman of the convention committee for the Multnomah chapter, 412 Southwest Stark street, Portland.

Mrs. Lucille McGirt got out of her machine to crank the motor, accidentally leaving it in gear. The the car started, catching her dress in the crank, and crashed through a wall, carrying her into a doctor's office.

You'll find worlds of power at your command ... Gilmore Controlled Power ... when you fill-up with new Red Lion gasoline! Its sensational action parallels that of Navy smokeless powder ... the highly developed propellant that burns slowly, with tremendous energy concentrated on the base of a 1500 pound projectile as it's sent streaking to a target miles away.

New Gilmore gives the same type of masterful performance. There's no knocking! It doesn't explode ... but burns progressively with a Controlled Power "push" on the piston head for the full stroke!

And to this amazing gasoline has been added just the correct proportion of tetraethyl lead ... an ingredient that, with Gilmore, makes possible an even, sustained expansion of powerful gases.

Yes ... just try new Gilmore today ... then you'll get the buoyant feel of Controlled Power!

UNCONTROLLED POWER CONTROLLED POWER

Like TNT, inferior gasolines do not burn uniformly but exert energy in every direction – without giving the piston time to take advantage of the power.

New Gilmore Gasoline has the same Controlled Power action as slow-burning smokeless powder. The "push" is concentrated on the piston head for the full stroke!
