National and Local Markets

ADVANCES IN CHEESE PRICE SEEN MONDAY

PORTLAND, May 21. (AP)—Advancing tendency in cheese prices continued the main factor in the trade of the east, according to the weekly survey of the Journal. Higher prices were generally forced in the eastern markets, both exchanges at Plymouth advancing 1/2c lb. for the late season with a rather keen demand for all offerings.

Strength of the cheese trade at eastern points and at least steadiness in the local position, suggested the continued dry weather in the chief producing sections of the territory east of the Rockies.

Heretofore the Produce Exchange will hold its meeting Saturday morning instead of Friday afternoon. Present prices on extra butter are out of line with a greater spread on the exchange than on the open market.

Rather strong trading tone was showing for eggs here but without price changes. Receipts continued to decrease while demand was well maintained at all coast points.

Demand for live chickens of all sorts was good despite the renewed attempt on the Produce Exchange to force a lower price in some lines. There was an actual shortage in the lines suggested for lower prices.

Strawberry prices were firm with a short supply comparable with demand. Local shipping call was good. Quality was generally good.

Market for green peas has started climbing here with demand somewhat in excess of supply for the week's opening. Sales were made by jobbers to 4 1/2-5c lb.

For the week's opening there was no change in values on country killed meats. Veal joined other commodities in showing at least a steady tone at late prevailing prices.

A well held deal was showing for asparagus with late advanced prices generally maintained. Shipping call remained favorable and prices reflected this.

Tomatoes in large supply and only best stuff held steady.

All citrus fruits were firmer to higher.

Cantaloupe market was strong to higher again.

White potatoes continued to overtop garnets in price.

Some plums in crates were being offered $4 for four baskets.

Rhubarb getting scarce and prices firmer.

Cabbage was steady to firmer and higher in spots.

Loganberries and raspberries about steady.
