

DEADLY SPIDER MENACE GIVEN SERIOUS STUDY

The deadly spider and presented literature suggesting methods of control. Telegrams were received from public health officers and laboratories on the coast urging vigilance and public education to eliminate the possibilities of serious consequences from spider bites.

Publicity Recommended

Although the council took no formal action, it recommended immediate publicity to the dangers. Dr. Soule was instructed to contact entomologists to learn the most effective methods of destroying the new found pest.

Officials and residents pointed out that the most serious infestation had been found in the Hot Springs districts where the ground was warm and apparently conducive to the growth of the spider. It was reported that both spiders and nests had been found in rock gardens, drains, sewers, old cans and, in one instance, in a garage.

There was some discussion of ordering the fire department to burn off grass and weeds but no formal approval was given. Persons, however, who had found the spiders were urged to spray with heavy oil, kerosene or some other effective solution, the more penetrating the better.

Communications Read

Telegraphic communications regarding the spider were received from Dr. K. F. Meyer of San Francisco, the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Dr. J. C. Geisler of San Francisco and Dr. F. D. Stricker, Oregon state health officer.

Dr. Stricker's telegram was as follows: "Bites of genus Latrodectus mactans may cause alarming symptoms seldom fatal. Small spider with yellowish spots, sometimes red. No treatment except blood of recovered person. Have advised U. S. department of entomology."

Bites Often Fatal

In connection with this, Dr. Soule pointed out that the bites was often fatal and cited instances of its dangers.

Dr. Geisler, San Francisco health officer, said: "Field control measures practically impossible. Urge education of public as to dangers."

It is possible a representative of the entomology service might be sent to Klamath Falls to investigate.

The council was strong in its recommendation that citizens make an effort to clean up their yards and basements in a direct effort to remove the spiders.

MEDCO'S EXPERIMENT RECALLED

UNIVERSITY, Ala., May 29. (AP)—The plight of Dr. William Erkenbeck, 54, Idaho physician, recalled the experiment made here last November by Dr. Alan W. Blair, 33, University of Alabama medical school faculty member, who purposely let a "Black Widow" spider bite him to determine the effect on human beings.

Dr. Blair had made a study of the insects several months, watching the effect of their bites on mice, rats, guinea pigs, and other small animals, and injecting the venom hypodermically.

The results still left the question in Dr. Blair's mind as to whether the venom was poisonous to human beings.

After keeping a specimen for ten days, he let the glossy, black, red-spotted spider bite his left little finger.

Then he recorded his symptoms. The bite was followed by a stinging sensation. Pain rapidly followed in his hand, then the forearm, and up to the arm.

The pain in the arm was followed by cramps in the abdomen, dizziness and sub-normal blood pressure. Dr. Blair refused treatment until the effect on the heart muscles had been recorded on the electrocardiographic table.

He then went to bed and his pain was relieved by opiates.

For two days he was unable to eat, but after three days his strength began to return, and today he is hale and hearty.

But a question still remains: Does the bite of the spider immunize the person bitten?

TWO AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS OCCUR

Two minor automobile accidents were reported to police bureau Monday. A collision between machines driven by Gordon W. Graves of this city, and Fred L. Cochran of Keno, occurred between the junction of the Greensprings and old Keno road, and the Klamath View auto camp. Minor damages were reported.

Shortly after 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon a large sedan believed to have been driven by D. O. Castel, and registered to Hamm Crawford, crashed into a telephone pole at the corner of Oregon avenue and Delta streets.

Although the driver could not be located when traffic officers arrived to investigate the accident, it was learned that he had sustained only minor injuries.

Both Crawford and Castel are connected with the Altamont dance hall.

PORTLAND, May 29. (AP)—Charges of transportation and possession of high explosives in violation of a city ordinance were filed last night against John Hittie, 29, unemployed electrician, in whose automobile 204 sticks of dynamite and a firing device were found Friday night.

Hittie was set at $1,000. Hittie has insisted he knows nothing about the dynamite, and that two men stole his car. Hittie was reporting the car stolen when police discovered the dynamite in the machine which was parked in the waterfront district.

PENDLETON, May 29. (AP)—In addition to holding up wheat and flour shipments to east coast points, the strike of longshoremen is affecting construction of Pendleton's new airport, although it will be dedicated Saturday.

The large beacon light for the local field is held up at the Oakland pier with other cargo which can not be moved.

A code light will be installed on the field for temporary use, however, so that the airport when the first air mail flight will be made.

POLICE COURT FINE H. E. Smith was assessed a fine of $15.00 and five days in jail Tuesday by Police Judge Richmond on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct. John Franzen and Leroy Edmond were given fines of $10 and five days in jail.

COMPROMISES TURNED DOWN IN BAY CITY

land by telegraph than steps were taken to oppose them. Spokers appeared before groups of strikers, urging rejection of the compromise.

Details of the voting on the proposal had not been arranged here at noon, spokesmen for the I. L. A. said, but it was assumed the balloting would start Wednesday and be completed by Thursday night.

The success or failure of the week of negotiations at San Francisco depends solely on the outcome of the vote to be taken at all coast ports by the longshoremen.

COMPROMISE REJECTED SAN FRANCISCO, May 29. (AP)—The strikers' committee here today flatly rejected a compromise proposal of the ship-owners and in a statement declared "the strike of longshoremen has just started."

The statement was issued after a hurried meeting of the international longshoremen's executive committee which followed a riot yesterday on the waterfront here in which seven men were injured.

Waterfront employers had offered a proposal whereby committee of employers and the I. L. A. would bargain and formulate rules and regulations for the operation of the disputed hiring halls.

"Regarding the proposal of the steamship owners, which was read to the strikers' last night," said the strikers' statement, issued by Ralph Mallon, chairman of the I. L. A. publicity committee, "the committee discussed the proposal thoroughly and came to the conclusion that it was futile even to discuss it."

"First, it means that longshoremen would return to work under worse conditions than ever before. Second, strikebreakers now working would be retained by the employers or they could discharge them one day and re-hire them the next."

The waterfront employers also issued a statement, declaring there was a note of optimism in the waterfront situation here and in other Pacific coast ports.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, conducting settlement negotiations, also announced that a spirit of cooperation had been displayed in the meetings to arrive at a peaceful settlement.
