BEA LUGOSI and JACQUELINE WEAVER in "THE BLACK CAT" UNIVERSAL PRODUCTION
Two of the screen's best-dressed women appear as sisters in "Rip-tide," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film which opens Sunday at the Vox theatre for one week.

They are Norma Shearer, starred in the lavish production, and acclaimed by stylists as leading the screen's fashion parade.

In the new film, directed by Edmund Goulding, Miss Shearer and Miss Tashman introduce many new modes designed for the picture by Adrian, noted fashion creator.

AT THE PELICAN
"Gallant Lady," the 20th Century picture starring Ann Harding, which opens at the Pelican theatre today, presents one of the most dramatic and appealing stories which has come to the screen this season.

Noted for her understanding portrayal of feminine character, in this picture this capable star has a unique opportunity to exercise to the fullest her ability to rise to emotional heights. The story deals with a young woman, mother of an illegitimate child, who is forced to assign the child for adoption immediately after its birth, agreeing never to see it again.

The play is climaxed in a tensely dramatic scene which gives full play to Miss Harding's histrionic capabilities.

AT THE PINE TREE
Of all the motion pictures depicting wild animal life, never has one been arranged to show the life of the animal after its capture. Now at last "Taming of the Jungle," coming to the Pine Tree today, will show you how the animals are captured, and then goes beyond to show the transporting in cages to this country and their taming and training. In making this picture the services of such world renowned trainers as Chubby Guilfoyle, Melvin Kootze, Olga Celeste, Dean Fox and many others were utilized.

AT THE RAINBOW
With the operations of kidnapers, racketeers and embettlers rampant in the land, it is inevitable that their machinations should furnish material for highly colored screen productions. How so many of them get away with it—evade the police and virtually disappear without a trace—is the subject of "Ships of Wanted Men," a Showmen's picture featuring Dorothy Sebastian and Fred Kohler, which comes to the Rainbow theatre today.
