

NO PAYMENT TO BE MADE ON WAR DEBT

agreement of the existing war debt settlement."

FINLAND TO PAY
WASHINGTON, June 5, (AP)—The twelve billion dollar war debt Europe owes the United States became a badly frozen asset today.

Now that Great Britain—for the first time in the proud history of that empire—has decided to default, other countries are believed likely to follow suit. Only little Finland has announced it will pay its full installment of $166,538 on the line June 15. Except for talk of a possibility that one other debtor might pay something, the prospects for much cash on $474,000,000 due or overdue in mid-June was considered extremely remote.

The British refusal to pay—announced in a note delivered to the state department last night—heralded a virtually complete collapse in a situation that has filled the international scene with bitter recriminations for years.

By The Associated Press
The approach of June 15, on which date 13 nations once promised they would pay the United States a total of $174,047,439.19 finds the likelihood that a total of $166,538 will actually be paid.

That amount has been promised by Finland as the complete installment on its war debt. Great Britain announced that, since a "token" or partial payment of the $35,670,765 due from her would not prevent her from being regarded as a defaulter, she would pay nothing at all.

France, which for two years past has made defaulting on her war debt to the United States a policy, received the news of the British default with jubilation. Paris newspapers hailed the British action as proof that France was right all along in refusing to pay what she owes.

The amount which France would be required to pay June 15 is $59,000,215.

Semi-official circles in Italy indicated that the nation probably would take the same action as Great Britain. The Italian quota due is $14,741,593.

Other nations whose payments fall due but which are regarded as likely to default are Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES ENTERS SECOND DAY

The case of Louise Short versus Lost River Dairy et al, went into its second day in circuit court Tuesday with little prospect that the plaintiff would complete her case by court adjournment Tuesday evening.

In the afternoon, members of the jury went to the scene of the accident on South Sixth street in which Miss Short allegedly received the injuries for which she asks $25,000 general damages and $867 special damages.

Much of the testimony introduced by plaintiff's attorney, D. R. Vandenberg, Tuesday morning was of a medical nature, dealing with the injuries received by the plaintiff. Among the morning's witnesses was Mayor W. E. Mahoney, who testified that Miss Short was working as his secretary at the time of the accident and had been unable to return to her duties.

Miss Short is the daughter of Mrs. Mae K. Short, county clerk. The defense is represented by Henry E. Perkins.

Members of the jury are A. C. Edsall, Otto Ballin, Arthur B. Keenan, Carl Schubert, J. M. Justia, Horace Dunlap, Charles Ager, Harry Goolley, William C. Ewell, Hugh D. O'Connor, W. L. Williams and Fred Cofer.

Pine Tree—Now playing, "After Tonight," with Constance Bennett.

Rainbow—Now playing, "City Limits."

Vox—Now playing, "Riptide," with Norma Shearer, Robert Montgomery and Herbert Marshall.

AT THE PELICAN

George Breakston in "No Greater Glory"

Frank Borge, director of "No Greater Glory," showing at Pelican theatre today, is twice winner of the Photoplay gold medal. Borge first captured this prize in 1920 with "Humoresque." Some years later, he did it again with "Seventh Heaven." He considers "No Greater Glory" his finest achievement and hopes to snare the award again.

"No Greater Glory" is an adaptation of the famous novel, "The Paul Street Boys," by Ferenc Molnar.

AT THE PINE TREE

Constance Bennett, who plays what is said to be the most intriguing role of her entire career as a secret service agent in "After Tonight," at the Pine Tree theatre today, introduces a new song hit, "Buy a Kiss." In the production, The number, which Miss Bennett sings while disguising her spying activities as a cafe entertainer, is a Viennese waltz composed by Max Steiner, head of the RKO-Radio music department.

AT THE RAINBOW

If rapid-fire action and hilarious comedy comprise your idea of the elements that a good motion picture should contain, then don't fail to see "City Limits," the fast-moving Monogram comedy drama playing at the Rainbow theatre today.

"City Limits" has both ingredients in elaborate profusion, starting from the moment that Ray Walker, as a star reporter, is assigned by his city editor to get the story of a big railroad merger, until the final fade-out when Frank Craven, as president of the railroad, entertains two hoboes at his palatial estate.

AT THE VOX

Robert Montgomery supports Norma Shearer romantically for the fifth time as her play-boy courtier in "Riptide," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle now at the Vox theatre. Among his first film roles was the part of Miss Shearer's sweetheart in "Their Own Desire." In "Divorcee" he was her party pal and in "Strangers May Kiss" he was the chap who waited in vain for her to switch her affections. "Private Lives," in which he was her divorced husband, was their last appearance together.

Robert Montgomery shares leading man honors with Marshall in the new Shearer picture which has a smart Continental background with many lavish scenes staged at Cannes and St. Moritz.

on, to continue throughout the week.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, holding their annual convention in connection with the jubilee, heard James E. Van Zandt, national commander-in-chief, describe plans for rehabilitation and for aid of the unemployed. Last night Joe E. Dunne, republican nominee for governor, addressed the veterans. The ladies auxiliary of the Foreign War Veterans sponsored their convention yesterday afternoon. Cecile Hardie of Portland presided. The sessions continued today.

Round-Up Show Starts

The daily Round-Up show started today, and cowboys from all parts of the West were represented in the events. The jubilee committee announced that an auto caravan of 100 cars from Redding, Calif., and other Northern California points would arrive Wednesday noon. The Redding caravan will be joined at Ashland by an estimated 250 autos from Klamath Falls and Klamath county and Lakeview and Lake county. A hundred members of the "Lakeview Buckaroos" are included. Caravans are also due tomorrow from Bend and other Central Oregon points, and from Crescent City and Eureka, Calif.

Party Politics Take Limelight

McCall's term will expire late in the year, and it is generally anticipated a good democrat will be handed this plum.

Lee Eyes Post
County Assessor W. T. Lee is rumored to be eyeing the postmaster's job with renewed interest. He will not be in the race for assessor in the fall.

Graham has long been regarded as a candidate for the postoffice job, and so also has Burt Hawkins, former sheriff.

New names now mentioned in postmaster rumors are Emil Dreher and J. R. Shaw. Dreher ran for county commissioner in the recent primary and Shaw is former police chief here.

Another angle that may have some bearing on the democratic situation is political relationship with Mayor W. E. Mahoney. In the recent primary, democrats were naturally divided in their support of Mayor Mahoney and Congressman Martin, and some supporters of both men are members of the central committee. Whether this divided sentiment will carry through now that the governorship race is decided, remains to be seen. Mayor Mahoney is not a member of the committee.

On the republican side, Arthur Schupp is talked as a strong possibility for county chairman. Schupp has been state committee man, a job for which Arthur Praulx, Chilquin publisher, is talked.

District Attorney T. R. Galloway, who is a possible candidate for Jay Upson's state senate seat, is expected to be active in the party organization. P. B. Vandenberg was secretary of the old committee and has called the meeting for Monday night. Clarence Underwood, retiring chairman, did not run this year for a place on the committee.

The local republican club, which is separate from the county committee, is getting underway. The group is headed by William Kuykendall.

Sugar Processing Levy Announced

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Rexford G. Tugwell, as acting secretary of agriculture, today set the processing tax on sugar at a half cent per pound.

This is equal to the reduction in duty on Cuban sugar and will go into effect at the same time, June 8.

small grains heavily damaged, watched for rains to save forage crops.

Idaho estimated its water supply only 55 per cent of normal. Double the $250,000 drought relief fund granted the state was declared necessary to have imperiled districts.

In Utah the water supply was from 10 to 40 per cent normal. Its $500,000 drought relief program was estimated to make up only from 15 to 20 per cent of the deficiency. A plan was considered of moving farmers out of the worst drought areas.

Stock Feed Exhausted
The Wisconsin state department of agriculture reported livestock feed virtually exhausted, other states being looked to for the purchase of supplies. The grasshopper menace in northern counties was as great as the lack of moisture.

The Iowa department of agriculture cited clutch bugs as the most serious threat to their crops. Heavy rains within 10 days would save the corn crop.

In Nebraska the feed situation was the most serious, assuring some forced reduction of cattle supplies.

Total Loss Feared
Wheat was virtually a total failure in Western Kansas, but the crisis was not reached in the corn crop. Stockmen hauled water.

Abnormal rains in Wyoming were held by Arnold King, department of agricultural statistician, as the only hope for cattle and crops. A foodstuffs emergency removed the danger of famine.

Farmers in New Mexico were receiving surplus commodity feed and food for cattle and inhabitants. The water situation generally was not acute.

Government purchase of cattle relieved the condition on badly burnt ranges in Eastern Montana, and regular relief generally was underway.

In Ohio the condition was described as the worst in 20 years, with corn, wheat and oats more than 50 per cent retarded.

Heavy rains were the hope of the Illinois corn crop, as a state survey was underway to place Illinois farmers under the federal work relief program. Damage to crops and pastures was general in Indiana.

The situation was described as near the danger line in Michigan, California, Arizona, with feed danger the most serious. Texas was described as in "pretty good shape."

longshoremen confer with waterfront employers.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 5, (AP)—Toledo's automotive strike which brought on rioting, the killing of two men and heavy property damage, had a peaceful end today.

The plants of the Electric Auto-Lite Co., the Bingham Stamping & Tool Co., and the Logan Gear Co. reopened under agreements approved by union workers and company officers.

Officers of the union said that under the terms of the agreement 84 strikers will return to work today at the Auto-Lite plant and that reinstatement of strikers will begin in the Logan Gear and Bingham plants during the day.

WASHINGTON, June 5, (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson said at a press conference today he was seeking to have the steel industry establish a plan similar to that of the automobile industry for handling its labor relations and meeting the present strike threat.

"I am concentrating on trying to get concessions out of the steel companies," he said.

"I talked to W. A. Irvin, president of the United States Steel, for several hours yesterday, but he could not speak either for the Iron and Steel Institute or his own company. He went back to New York, and I probably will hear from him later in the day."

DRUNKEN DRIVING APPEAL REQUESTED

ROESBURG, June 5 (AP)—In an appeal from a conviction for drunken driving, the Oregon supreme court will be asked to decide whether a policeman has authority to force a prisoner to go before a physician to determine if the prisoner is intoxicated.

R. S. Clemmons, convicted and sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $150, declares a state officer compelled him to appear before a physician. Clemmons' attorneys have contended that the clause of the state constitution providing that a man charged with a crime cannot be compelled to give testimony against himself or damaging to his case, was thereby violated.

tional forest today as the result of a June "blizzard."

Forest officials said a snow storm of yesterday in the high country was whipped by stiff winds to resemble a December blizzard were it not for the fact flowers were out in bloom and grass was high. As much as four inches of snow piled up in some places. Most of it melted quickly because the ground was so warm and little was expected to last beyond tonight.

CALIFORNIA HAS RAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5, (AP)—Forest officials, city water engineers and livestock owners of the Pacific coast looked gratefully today to leaden skies that had brought unexpected rain relief, while fruit growers watched fearfully the clouds that may mean great damage to their crops.

Unseasonable showers that swept in from the ocean yesterday to drench the coast were hailed as of great benefit to grazing land for fire protection by Deputy California Forester W. B. Rider.

However, continuing rainfall today may damage the berry, hay, barley and fruit crops, observers said.

RANGE PROBLEM FELT

PORTLAND, Ore., June 5, (AP)—Although the situation now is not described as "critical," range conditions in southeastern Oregon are becoming serious, it was pointed out here today by Paul C. Newman, assistant federal crop statistician.

Already in Harney and Malheur counties, an area embracing the great livestock country of Oregon, ranges have seared and dried and the stock water supply is diminishing. Recent rains have materially aided the wheat crop in Eastern Oregon.

Newman said conditions in Washington are generally favorable and there seems to be no danger of any serious trouble there unless the summer is exceptionally dry and unusually prolonged. The lower mountain ranges are drying there and the season is about a month early, but considerable hay was left over from last year and there is no water shortage.

ROAD PROGRAM BIDS EXAMINED ON THURSDAY

SALEM, June 5 (AP)—All jobs under the original $6,500,000 public work appropriation of the federal government for Oregon highways will be under contract by July, it was announced by R. H. Baldock, state highway engineer today. After the opening of bids Thursday in Portland, and three jobs will remain to be let at a later meeting.

"This will leave us in excellent shape to start immediately upon road projects under the authorization of the Curlewright bill," Baldock said, "if and when we obtain additional federal funds. Projects for which this money could be spent have already been listed and all we need is the money for continuation."

The three jobs remaining to be let following the award of six projects Thursday, which will be made in addition to opening bids on the last two Oregon coast bridges to be paid for out of federal loans and grants, are the Milwaukee under crossing, the North Bend over crossing and reconstruction of the highway through Toledo. All will cost about $125,000.

The commission will meet in Portland Thursday to open bids. The bids on the two coast bridges, over the Siuslaw and Umpqua rivers, will total in excess of $1,000,000. Awarding of these projects will await funds from the national capital and place the spans in the same status as the Coos Bay and Newport bridges. The first of the spans awarded and under contract is the Alsea bridge at Waldport.

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., June 5, (AP)—A slight earthquake was felt here at 1:54 p. m., today. No damage was reported.

Fire losses in Klamath Falls during the month of May totaled only $112, according to the monthly report submitted to the city council by Fire Chief A. Bardell, Monday evening.
