

EAST MOUNTAIN AIRWAY PLANS GAIN SUPPORT

By WEBSTER A. JONES

Development of a federal airway between Klamath Falls and The Dalles, with a chain of lighted airports and emergency landing fields, a line of beacons, radio stations and weather reporting stations, has been assured by the airways division of the department of commerce, Allan D. Greenwood, inspector of aeronautics for Oregon, reported Saturday night at the meeting of the Oregon State board of aeronautics at the Willard hotel.

This announcement of the plans for construction of a project which has been sought by air transport operators, fliers, and many groups and individuals interested in aviation was the highlight of the meeting of the board—the first ever held by the board in Klamath Falls.

Chain of Airports
"Establishment of the Klamath Falls-The Dalles airway will mean that we will have transport planes using the all-year around route frequently," explained T. R. Gillenwaters, acting chairman of the board, in explaining the significance of the assurance.

"It will mean a chain of flying fields which will draw hundreds of transient planes over the central Oregon country. It will mean payrolls for personnel to man the airway stations. It will be an important and worthwhile aviation development."

Route Long Favored
The airway will be used by air transport planes through the winter and spring seasons when the route down the Willamette valley is forged in.

"Ten years ago Oregon's most famed flier, Tex Rankin, pioneered the use of the route and urged its development. All of the fliers in Oregon realize its importance—now we have it assured."

Present plans call for work to start on the route after January 1, and for its completion by the end of 1936. Works Progress administration heads in Oregon have been instructed to place the development of this route first in the airport and airways program for Oregon.

Gillenwaters Presides
In opening the meeting, Chairman Gillenwaters, who has served as master of ceremonies for the six hearings held by the board in different parts of the state, explained that the new board acts as an organization to further the development of all phases of aviation in Oregon and that the purpose of the meeting was to obtain from residents of Klamath Falls and nearby cities information on how the board could assist in their programs.

"The board's program is divided into three main phases," he explained. "First, we are very interested in obtaining for Oregon the $15,000,000 army air base provided for by the Wilcox bill. Second, we wish to obtain Oregon's share of the $116,000,000 allotted for airport development. Third, we wish to develop a system of rules for the regulation of private flying and amateur plane building which will give them the greatest leeway with protection to the public."

Ground School Projects Planned
Two aviation ground school projects will be placed in Klamath Falls this autumn in the federal program to stimulate interest in flying, reported Mr. Greenwood. The Oregon state board of aeronautics is sponsoring and working to further both of them. One project will be the establishment of a free ground school in flying for all adults, with classes held twice a week in a central location. Theory of flight, rigging, elementary engine mechanics, air traffic rules and regulations and other aspects will be presented by the instructor. The school is scheduled to start near November 1. Plans have been made to have Tex Rankin and six other members of the board, in addition to well-known pilots, open and present lectures at the schools through the year. The only requirement is that the student furnish his own text. The system is directed by C. A. Howard, state superintendent of education.

Local Officials Speak
The other project is the establishment of a ground school course in airplane motors and mechanics for high school students, with a licensed mechanic directing the work. O. D. Adams, state director of vocational education, will handle this phase of the program.

E. A. Thomas, city engineer, and Bill Randall, airport manager, spoke briefly on airport and flying problems in Klamath Falls. Members of the board attending the meeting were Arthur W. Whitaker, Dr. Raymond H. Staab, William H. Turner and Mr. Gillenwaters. Tex Rankin, chairman of the board, is in the east representing the board in Washington, D. C., on the work of obtaining funds for Oregon aviation developments. Webster A. Jones, secretary of the board, attended the meeting. Dr. Staab and Mr. Turner made a trip to Klamath Falls from Portland by airplane, with Mr. Turner as pilot, flying the distance in two hours and 30 minutes. All members of the board are fliers.

Christian Science Church

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 20.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Whoever seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us. Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God" (Heb. 12:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. . . . Truth is overcoming error in your daily walk and conversation. You can finally say, 'I have fought a good fight. . . . I have kept the faith.' This is having our part in the atonement with Truth and Love" (pp. 18, 21).

Rooks Defeat Gonzaga Frosh

PORTLAND, Oct. 21. (UP)—Oregon State college rooks, fired by the variety victory over Southern California, defeated Gonzaga University freshmen 9 to 7 Saturday at Mulholland stadium.

John Alexander, 158-pound, 5-foot-8-inch field general from South Pasadena, Calif., led the rooks to victory with long gains through tackles. Alexander scored a touchdown in the second period on a 23-yard run, after the rooks got into scoring position by Mercer's interception of a Gonzaga pass.

Battering Ben Ell, Portland full-back, hammered the Gonzaga line for long gains. It was Ell's kick for a field goal from the 26-yard line in the third period that provided the rooks' margin of victory.

Cards May Lose Star Fullback
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 21. (UP)—Stanford's football stock severely hit by the loss of Frank Alustiza, took another drop today with word Bobby Grayson, star fullback, is recovering slowly from an injured ankle, and may be unable to play against Washington at Seattle Saturday.

AT THE RAINBOW
A human, lovable story of four grand characters . . . a spell-binding baker, a swell girl, an "elegant" baby and the inimitable "beschnozzled" Durante, opens at the Rainbow Theatre tomorrow. It is "Carnival," Columbia picture featuring Lee Tracy, Sally Eilers and Jimmy Durante. You'll smile at their hilarious adventures, you'll sigh at their heartbreak romance, you'll laugh at them, you'll love them. Here is a real hit.

I. O. O. F. OFFICIAL WILL MAKE VISIT

At the last regular meeting of Klamath Lodge No. 137, I. O. O. F., on Friday evening, October 18, word was received from Grand Master F. M. Sexton of the State Grand Lodge that he would make an official visit to the lodges of this district soon, and that the date for the visit to Klamath lodge was set for the evening of October 28. A special meeting was called for this date.

The annual roll call meeting of Klamath lodge being due in a short time, it was decided at the meeting of Friday night to make arrangements to hold the roll call meeting at the same time, and on account of the limited time, to give notice of this by publication instead of by personal letters on this occasion.

Committees were appointed to arrange for the banquet and other entertainments for the evening at the meeting just passed, and all necessary arrangements will be attended to by those appointed for the various duties.

Members of Darius Lodge No. 4, Junior Order I. O. O. F., will participate in the proceedings, and members of that branch of the order are notified to be in readiness to do their part.

Visiting brothers will be welcome, and all members are urged to make every effort to be present on this occasion.

Potato Shipments Rise With Return Of Fair Weather

Potato shipments from the Klamath basin, which showed a marked decrease early last week because of general rains, took a marked rise Friday, with 23 cars leaving various shipping points.

Continued increases in shipments are expected unless another storm holds up digging operations now in full swing in the entire area.

Daily shipments tabulated from Friday, October 11, by Ross Aubrey, federal inspector, have been announced as follows:

October 11, 20 cars
October 12, 12 cars
October 13, 11 cars
October 14, 12 cars
October 15, 14 cars
October 16, 10 cars
October 17, 19 cars
October 18, 23 cars

CONCERT TICKET BOOTHS PLANNED

Booths for sale of tickets to the Olga Dane concert, scheduled for the new Klamath Armory November 7, have been offered by La Pointe's and Montgomery Ward and Co., according to Mrs. A. J. Vore, president of the Business and Professional Women's chorus, which is sponsoring the event.

The booths in these stores probably will be ready for ticket sales within a week. In the meantime, Mrs. Vore stated many people have been calling her for reservations, and she is confident there will be a large ticket sale. If this concert is successful, the Business and Professional Women's chorus will

Reynolds Rejects Offer From Idaho

Earl C. Reynolds, secretary of the chamber of commerce, has turned down an offer from the Boise chamber of commerce to take the secretaryship at the Idaho capital, it was learned Saturday.

Reynolds admitted that the offer had been made early in the week, but he said that he had rejected it.

"I'm satisfied where I am," said Reynolds.

It is understood the Boise chamber made the offer particularly attractive financially.

If you have searched for cigarette mildness, mark the words of George Lott, the tennis champion, and the 7-goal polo star, Cyril Harrison. "Camels," says Mr. Harrison, "are so mild they don't upset the nerves or affect the wind. And when I'm tired I get a 'lift' with a Camel." And Lott adds: "I found a delightful new experience in Camels. I understand that more expensive tobaccos are used in Camels. Naturally the cigarette that is blended from more expensive tobaccos is going to be easy and gentle on the throat. And Camels never get my wind. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!" Camels are made from more expensive tobaccos than any other popular brand. Turn to Camels and enjoy to the full the pleasure that comes from costlier tobaccos.
