the masses of Townsend followers who are at fault in this matter.

YOU can't blame anybody past 60 for wanting $200 a month. And you can't blame anybody who believes it is possible to pay 24 billion dollars a year to the 10 million who are past 60 for going after it.

The fault lies with those who have made millions of innocent old people believe that such a thing is possible when it ISN'T.

The favored beer of working men

A working man knows that his eye may be fooled, but his TASTE—never! Unerringly he selects the hoppy tang—not bitter, not sweet—flavor of Blitz-Weinhard as his standard for beer comparison. He knows that it's a natural beer—with all the elements that make for robust health and strength, blended so correctly and carefully, that there are never any "mornings after." From the working man came the Blitz-Weinhard slogan... "It hits that thirsty spot!"
