FARM PRICES SHOW BETTER INDICATIONS

Business conditions appear to be favorable for maintaining at least the present level of demand for farm products through the next few months, according to the current summary of the agricultural situation and outlook report just issued by the extension economist at Oregon State college.

Prices paid by farmers for commodities bought, including interest and taxes paid, have not changed much recently. The composite index was last estimated at 128 per cent of the 1910-1914 level. This is one point lower than a month previous and a point below a year ago. While these prices paid have tended to remain about the same or go a little lower, the prices received by farmers have risen in recent months, the report shows. As a consequence the relation of prices received to prices paid is now the highest in more than five years.

The general level of farm prices, both in the country as a whole and in Oregon appears to be higher than at mid-September when it was 107 per cent of the pre-war average. This was up one point over the month previous and four points higher than in September, 1934.

Highest among the individual commodities on the index was meat animals at 131, chickens and eggs at 127, dairy products at 103 and truck crops at 101. Grains stood at 97 and fruits at 82, both lower than a year ago.

The index of Oregon farm prices, which is based on the 1926-1930 average instead of the pre-war period, shows a three point gain from 64 to 67 since September, 1934. A parity level, to use the familiar AAA term, would be an index of 96 per cent. Highest in the list of Oregon commodities, as compared with the 1926-1930 prices, are horses, hogs and eggs, while lowest are sheep, potatoes, hops, barley and apples.

The general level of farm wage rates has shown the usual seasonal advance and is now nine points above a year ago and the highest in four years. Some decline in the supply of available farm labor appears to reflect the recent pick-up in industrial employment.

"Hinges" Now Extend Across the Golden Gate

The old query about how the hinges of the Golden Gate were oiled can come a little closer to being a fair question, because the structure that is to carry a span across famous entrance to San Francisco Bay now extends from the San Francisco shore in the foreground, to the Marin County mainland, in the Redwood Empire, as the cable spinning gradually strings 80,000 miles of wire to support world's longest single span.

Martin Won't Call Another Session
SALEM, Nov. 6, (U.P.)—Governor C. H. Martin Tuesday set at rest recurrent rumors he would call another 20-day special session of the legislature when the present one expires Saturday night.

Martin urged the assembly to complete its capitol program by Saturday.

"I am sure the taxpayers would not sustain me in calling another session, thereby entailing expense and upsetting business conditions which calling of the legislature more or less entails," said the governor.

Anglo-Italian Accord Nearer

ROME, Nov. 6, (U.P.)—A new proposal to ease Italy-British tension by reducing Italy's troops in Libya and Britain's warships in the Mediterranean was reported by British sources to have been discussed at a conference between Premier Benito Mussolini and British Ambassador Sir Eric Drummond.

A foreign office communiqué said: "The head of the government received Sir Eric Drummond and conferred with him about one hour. The topic of this conference, as well as that which occurred on October 29, was the Italy-British situation in the Mediterranean."

It was understood that Duce was willing to withdraw another division of troops from Libya—making a total of two withdrawn—if Britain would recall one squadron of battle cruisers and one squadron of destroyers.

The suggestion was said to be under consideration in London. Renewal of effort to warm Italy-British relations follows severe anti-British rioting in Rome streets and violent newspaper attacks upon British foreign policy and government leaders.

Britain has insisted heretofore that the Italian press must change its tone before any warships can be removed from the Mediterranean.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Nature put over 15 miles of day tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than three pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of waste is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of uric acid, headache, loss of sleep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and distention.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day.
