INCORPORATION OF TULELAKE SOUGHT

TULELAKE, Nov. 28 — Recommending incorporation as the next business move of the townsite of Tulelake for the Tulelake water commission to carry out its program to secure clean drinking water and a promise to be of further aid to the project, officials of the Southern Pacific railroad at San Francisco were most cordial in their meeting with Charles K. Wiese, H. R. Wolf and Walter L. Chandler last Friday.

Incorporation of the townsite into a municipality has been a foreseen trend of affairs as the water commission progressed with its work on the well.

It has been pointed out and further confirmed that without an incorporation federal funds are unavailable as there is no civic body to become responsible for their use. The railroad officials also were of the opinion that such a move should be made for this purpose and that the sooner the incorporation was consummated the better off everyone concerned would be. This has been the tentative advice of their legal staff for some drew the gun and began shooting.

A bullet penetrated Lalo's right wrist, and creased his stomach.

Another tore a hole in Mrs. Lalo's dress and landed a burn on her skin as it swished by. She fled from the house, as did Lalo, who was later taken to the Agency hospital.

Parish is Disarmed

Arkell was called and went to Chilquin from Klamath Agency. He went to the Hough house, where Mrs. Hough had been held virtual prisoner by Parish.

The officer entered and without difficulty disarmed Parish and took him to the jail at Chilquin.

Deputy Sheriff Rex McMillan and State Policeman Arthur Curcio went to Chilquin Thursday morning to investigate the shooting. In cases where an Indian is injured by a white man, the state assumes jurisdiction.

Parish is about 35 years of age. He has lived at Chilquin several years.
