League President Exonerates Referee

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 3 (AP)—Bernie Morris, exonerated by the Northwestern Ice Hockey league president of incompetency charges, will referee the Vancouver-Portland game here Sunday.

Dr. Gordon B. Leitch, president, said his investigation of the protest by Guy Patrick, Vancouver manager, indicated that Morris showed no incompetency in connection with the play resulting in injuries to Johnny Clark of Vancouver in a game against Seattle.

"It appears that Clark's injury was entirely accidental, caused when he lost his balance when he jumped into the air to clear a puck," Dr. Leitch said.

Klick, Ambers Meet Tonight

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Instituting a search for a possible successor to Tony Canzoneri as lightweight champion—or for someone who can give Tony a real scrap for his title—Madison Square Garden presents tonight an all lightweight card, headed by Frankie Klick of San Francisco and Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y.

Klick, already beaten by Canzoneri four times, encounters the youthful Ambers in the 10-round feature bout. If either can win decisively, Canzoneri has promised to meet him in the spring.

MADRAS HOOPSTERS WILL PLAY MERRILL

MERRILL, Jan. 3.—Following a custom of several years standing, Merrill's high school basketball squad has invited a team from outside Klamath county to meet them on the home court. This season's challengers are the fast Madras hoopsters, semi-finalists in their district tournament last season.

Two games will be played, Friday and Saturday evening, January 17-18, with predictions of that these will be two of the liveliest tilts to be witnessed by hoop fans on the local court this year. Last year's court guests came from Lakeview.

Coach Brookman is putting his squad through intensive practice in preparation for meeting the Klamath Wildcats Friday, January 10, at Klamath Falls, but is in the dark.

Pre-conference contests will be played at Chiloquin Friday night when both A and B squads travel.

GAME BRINGS FEW INJURIES

Star End Under Observation After Report of Blurred Vision

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 3. (UP)—All American Jim (Monk) Moscrip, Stanford end, lay on a hotel bed Thursday, under observation of physicians for an injury that may impair the sight of his left eye.

The injury, only serious casualty of the Rose Bowl game between Stanford and Southern Methodist yesterday, in which the Indian warriors from Palo Alto, Calif., won by a 7-0 score, was disclosed while Moscrip was in the Stanford dressing room after the game.

He said his sight was blurred, and the eye was found to be bloodshot. Dr. Fritz Roth, team physician, examined it and said he did not believe the injury was as serious as that which nearly cost the eyesight of Frank Allstina, Moscrip's team mate on the "vowing freshman team," which closed its football career yesterday.

Allstina suffered a ruptured retina, which ended his playing days.

Dr. Roth insisted Moscrip remain in his hotel room until Saturday, under close observation of physicians. The Indian end said he felt a blow in the temple from someone's elbow when he was going down under a kick.

BAUGH YEAR'S BEST PLAYER

Football Coaches, Critics Hail Young Player From Texas Christian.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 3. (UP)—The almost unbelievable exploits of Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian university's quarterback, in the Sugar Bowl game caused coaches, critics and just plain football fans to hail him as one of the year's greatest gridiron players.

Until Baugh led Texas Christian to a 3-2 victory over Louisiana State Wednesday his national reputation was based largely on his accuracy in passing. But passing is only one of Baugh's many accomplishments. The 180-pound Sweetwater, Tex., boy thrilled a crowd of 37,000 with one of the season's finest all-around performances.

Nation's Best Punter Baugh was praised by coaches as the nation's best punter. He booted a heavy waterlogged ball 14 times for an average of 48 yards. Once, kicking from behind his own goal line, he booted the ball to Louisiana State's 46-yard line.

Ducky Pond, Yale coach, termed Baugh the best kicker he has ever seen in adverse weather conditions. Ted Cox, Tulane coach and former Minnesota tackle, said he never had seen as fine an exhibition of kicking in the Big Ten or south with a heavy ball in the mud and rain.

L. S. U. Men Star Baugh had to be good to out-kick L. S. U.'s two punters, Abe Mickal and Bill Cross. Between them they averaged 45 yards on 13 kicks.

"Go back through the records and I don't believe you'll find a game in history where the kicking was any better than in the Sugar Bowl game," said Cox. "And you must remember about Baugh, that at least five times during the game he kicked the ball out of bounds purposely, which cut down his average. He had several kicks over 50 yards and one was almost 71."

But Baugh, who will be back again next season, can do more than pass and kick. Here are a few of his other feats in the mud and rain New Year's day:

Made longest run of game, 44 yards.

Held ball for Tilly Manton's placekick which won the game.

Saved touchdowns by two savage tackles near the goal line.

Intercepted three LSU passes, one with a diving catch at a critical moment.

Made Many Tackles Came up from his safety position eight times to make tackles.

Played the entire 60 minutes. As a quarterback, Baugh gambled recklessly with his passes before either team scored. It was a violation of good quarterback play which enabled LSU to get its safety when he threw an incomplete pass behind his own goal line.

But the remarkable thing about Baugh is that his mistake did not shake his own confidence or hamper his ability to lead his teammates. He was the same cool, level headed player when he was hounded in by two Louisiana State linemen behind his own goal as he was when he brought down a rival player on the 2-yard line with a perfect tackle.

Lillard Delays 1936 Mat Season for Another Week

Maek Lillard, Klamath promoter, returned from a holiday trip Thursday night and announced he had delayed the start of his 1936 wrestling season.

There will be no matches at the armory next Tuesday night. Opening the year's matches one week from next Tuesday, Lillard promised Klamath Falls a chance to see new, fast talent.

The promoter said he had signed 21 grapplers for appearances here in the next three months.

Among the lightweights are such wrestlers as Ted Christy, California; Dr. Barney Coznak, San Francisco; Tiger Taskoff, Bulgaria; Turly Cleato, New York; Hugh Nichols, Oklahoma; Dudd Chick, Oklahoma cowboy.

Ruth Goes South to Follow Golf

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Babe Ruth is going south as usual—a bit ahead of the ball teams—but golf ball rather than a baseball will occupy his attention.

He plans to leave Sunday for St. Petersburg, Fla., to pass two or three months.

"I haven't a baseball plan of any kind in mind," he said. "It will seem strange, I suppose, when the ball teams report not to be putting on a uniform, but the long layoff last year after I retired from the Braves taught me how to be merely a spectator."

"Watch me hit 'em in the 60's this year," he added. "Not 60 homers; but strokes in golf."
