

CITY WOULD PUT LIMITS ON LICENSES

Action to block the increase of beer licenses in Klamath Falls, which already ranks next to Portland in the number of retail outlets for the foamy beverage, was taken by the city council last night.

On Mahoney's suggestion, the council adopted a resolution declaring its policy not to recommend any more beer licenses except for bona fide hotels or restaurants.

Limit of Twenty
The mayor said that a representative of the state liquor commission, after looking over Klamath's numerous beer establishments, advised that something be done to restrict the number of such places.

Councilmen expressed the wish that there could be no more than 20 places where beer is sold by the drink, but said that inasmuch as there are many more at this time, it may take some months or a year or two to cut down the number. The resolution, at any rate, was used as a method of stopping the increase. It is understood there are, altogether, about 90 applications in force in Klamath Falls.

Mayor Mahoney said that when there are too many places, some of them can't survive doing legitimate business, and turn to bootlegging and other undesirable practices.

Councilman Charles Thomas proposed that Klamath avenue be made a through street to carry traffic as an alternate route parallel with Main street. Councilmen said that they did not believe it possible to make Klamath a through street at Sixth and Klamath, the former being a state highway and a heavy traffic carrier.

After some discussion, it was agreed for the time being to change the stop signs at Ninth and Klamath, Thine Ninth street traffic, instead of Klamath avenue traffic, will stop at the intersection.

Tribute to Medford
Councilman John Keller paid a glowing tribute to Medford's program for administering the dog problem. He and other councilmen looked over Medford's canine plant on a visit there last week.

In Medford, the humane society handles the dog business. For certain months no dogs are allowed to run loose. A first class pound and dog hospital is operated. When it becomes necessary to end a dog's life, Keller said, he is put into a sort of lethal chamber.

Tribute to Klamath
Keller has discussed with the local humane society the matter of taking over dog administration in Klamath Falls, and received a favorable answer. The council will discuss the project further with humane society officials.

Klamath councilmen puffed with pride at the Medford meeting of southern members of the League of Oregon Cities, when tribute was paid to the Klamath fire department policies. The local rule not to go out of the city to a fire was highly praised and other places are following suit.

Another Sewer Pump
Police Judge Clifton Richmond was instructed to advertise for bids for another sewer pump. City Engineer E. A. Thomas reported that during recent wet weather, water backed up in some basements, and the city sanitary sewer system was unable to handle the load. Had one of the pumps gone out, he said, much damage might have been done.

Mayor Mahoney and councilmen took a bow when it was reported that there was $27,000 in the general fund as of January 1.

$77,000 Gain
The mayor pointed out that when he took office there was a $50,000 deficit. Since that time, he said, the city has kept on a cash basis, and this year it had a neat balance in January.

"That's something for all you mayor candidates to talk about," he told the councilmen.

Councilman Thomas averred that the newspaper reporter had nominated a lot of mayor candidates and he thought something ought to be done to spread the nominating honor around.

The council has been dicker-ing with the non-resident owner of a piece of property that juts into Tenth street at the Christian Science church corner, causing a jog there. They have offered $30 for this triangular piece of property, needed to straighten the street out. The owner came back with an offer to sell at $250. The council will consider the matter further, but expressed unanimous opinion that its first offer was fair and should stand.

Ruts on Manzanita
A property owner living on Manzanita between Crescent avenue and the tracks complained about the deep ruts on that street. The matter was referred to the street committee.

The council authorized Mayor Mahoney and Judge Richmond to sign the lease agreement for land to be used for the ski jump near Moore park, a WPA project urged by the Klamath Snow Club. The WPA application has been prepared and sent to WPA offices at Medford.

At a special meeting Tuesday councilmen will consider how to spread out a small fund budgeted for increases in pay of firemen and certain other city employees.

MACHINE COMPANY CHANGES OWNERS
Sale of the McCandless and Riggers machine shop on Spring street to Walter Beane, foundry operator and former lumberman, was consummated Monday, and the name of the plant changed to the Klamath Iron Works.

Beane announces that he is no longer connected with the lumber business, and that he will devote his entire time to the foundry plant.

New tools, machinery and equipment have been ordered, and the plant will be in full operation in a week or 10 days.

McCandless and Riggers, who have been associated in the machine shop business here since 1932, are organizing a new company for the manufacture of their own patent grader wing attachment for roadbuilding machinery. Their new organization will be known as the Automatic Grader Wing company, and their machinery will be manufactured at the Klamath Iron Works for the present, according to an announcement from Beane.

Weather

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood pharmacy is registering a rather high barometric pressure and only the fog prevents nice weather. The outlook is for continued low temperatures and prospects favorable for sunshine Wednesday.

The Tycoos recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures Tuesday as follows:
High ..... 26
Low ..... 20
Forecast for next 24 hours: Generally fair, cool.

Lo-b-sided meteors wobble through the air like a poorly rifled high-explosive shell.

TEACHERS WORKING ON GOVERNMENT JOB

Eight teachers are now teaching in Klamath county on the statewide adult and nursery school educational project sponsored under the WPA by the State Department of Education, according to an announcement by C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction.

These teachers are: Mrs. Violet House, Marie Ross Cone, Sadie B. Friley, Carl P. Christensen, Laura E. Broome, Francis L. Green, adult education teachers and Una Hicks and Mary E. R. Scott, nursery school teachers.

In the state at large there are approximately 300 teachers instructing some 800 adult classes and conducting 19 nursery schools for children ages two to five from relief families. These teachers were selected from among those eligible for WPA work by city and county superintendents who have charge of the organization of classes and the supervision of the program in their districts.

A variety of adult classes are being taught this year including Americanization classes for the foreign-born, public speaking, economics, first aid, crafts, parent education, commercial law, English, hobbies, sewing, cooking, recreation, literature, social problems, radio, aviation ground school course, and similar classes.

This statewide educational project is designed to give persons qualified to teach under WPA an opportunity for employment in line with their training. Americanization classes, general adult and vocational classes, and nursery schools make up the chief phases of the program.

This WPA educational project is supervised under the direction of C. A. Howard, superintendent of public instruction. Robert J. Maaske is the state director of adult education and is assisted by Mrs. Sarah V. Case, state supervisor of nursery schools and parent education, and Kenneth Beach, state supervisor of adult education.

Here's Swift and Direct Action to Relieve That Cold

Modern External Treatment Helps End Colds Without Constant "Dosing" to Upset Digestion.

JUST RUB ON AT BEDTIME

Two generations of mothers have proved Vicks VapoRub the most effective treatment for children's colds. VapoRub is external—and safe. Its use avoids the risks of constant internal "dosing" which so often upset digestion and appetite, thus lowering body resistance when most needed.

Just rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, VapoRub starts to work immediately—two ways at once:
1. By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster—
2. By inhalation of its penetrating medicated vapors, released by body heat and breathed in direct to inflamed air-passages.

Continuing through the night, this powerful poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion.

A Practical Guide for Mothers
Each year, more and more families are being helped to fewer colds and shorter colds by Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Vicks Plan has been clinically tested by practicing physicians, and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of the Plan in each package of Vicks VapoRub.

Vote Approves Merrill Sewer Project Bonds

MERRILL, Jan. 21.—Supporters of a community sewage disposal system for Merrill won a smashing victory here Monday, when citizens authorized a $15,000 bond issue to cover the city's share of construction costs by a 95 to 11 vote.

Bids for the bonds, which have already been advertised, will be opened January 24, and work on the project will start shortly thereafter, if any of the bids is found to be acceptable.

Funds to cover the balance of an estimated $30,000 construction cost will be furnished by PWA.

ASHURST SPEAKER AT MERRILL PTA

MERRILL, Ore.—Circuit Judge B. Ashurst brought before members of the Parent-Teacher association the problem of juvenile delinquency in relation to organized crime, the drug traffic and gambling at a meeting held Thursday night in the high school. Dr. F. E. Trotman also spoke briefly on the problem of gambling interests. Judge and Mrs. Ashurst were accompanied by Mrs. Ida Grimes, county juvenile officer.

A brief program composed of two piano numbers, "Morning," and a selection of popular numbers by Mrs. Tabor; a recitation, "Raggedy Man," by Jane McAndie and a violin solo by Phyllis Haskins preceded the address.

Announcement was made of the health clinic to be held here next Thursday, January 24, in the high school which is sponsored by the county health officers and the local P. T. A., at which time children of both school age and pre-school age may receive the preventive treatment against smallpox and diphtheria.

The clinic, opening at 9:30, will be under the supervision of Dr. Newson, county health officer. Dr. F. E. Trotman, Merrill, Miss Fricke, county nurse and Miss Ransom, county school nurse, a small charge is to be made for the treatments.

The association will also sponsor a silver tea, Friday, January 24, from 2:30 to 5:00 at the home of Mrs. F. E. Trotman with Mrs. Tom Laird joint hostess with Mrs. Trotman. The affair is for the benefit of P. T. A. activities.

Mrs. Paul Lewis, president of the organization, presided at the session and a volunteer committee composed of Mrs. Warren Fruits, Mrs. Paul Lewis, Mrs. Riley and Mrs. F. E. Trotman served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

TRAVEL LECTURE SET FOR MALIN

On Sunday evening, Jan. 26, at 7:30, in the Presbyterian church of Malin, a travel lecture will be delivered by Dr. H. M. Stevenson, M. D., Ph. D., F. R. G. S. upon the subject, "Among the Head-Hunters of the South Seas."

Dr. Stevenson, who is now pastor of the Malin church, has spent many years among the cannibal tribes of the South Seas as a medical missionary, and has some wonderful experiences to relate. In the course of his lecture he will tell of cannibalism and head-hunting, autochthon and infantile, pygmies and giants who practice some of the weirdest religious rites on earth. He will also tell of the wild women of the mountains whose existence is a continual menace to all white men; and other strange things which will be told concerning wild life in the South Seas which one can rarely find on the printed page.

Dr. Stevenson is a cousin to the late Robert Louis Stevenson of Samoa, the famous author of "Treasure Island" and many other well-known tales. He will have something to say about "Tautala," the Samoan name for Robert Louis Stevenson.

The public is cordially invited to attend this lecture.
