

BIRDS MIGRATE FROM OREGON

SALEM, Ore., (AP)—The Hungarian partridge, introduced into Oregon by the state game commission several years ago, has migrated to northern Nevada and southern Idaho to give those states a new species of game bird, according to word received here.

The birds have done well in eastern Oregon, and thousands can be found in Willowa, Union, Baker and Malheur counties. The partridges have spread into Harney county, which borders Humboldt county in Nevada, their latest habitat.

Appearance and survival of the birds in Nevada was a surprise. Roy Peterson, state game warden, said, in 1926 the Nevada fish and game commission released 171 pairs of the birds, but within two years all had disappeared and the commission concluded the partridges could not live in the state.

They reportedly have been introduced into California, but the plantings there apparently failed. A release in Utah also was unsuccessful.

"Because of its apparent adaptability to the Nevada habitat," Peterson said, "authorities are of the opinion the protection of a closed season will permit this bird to become plentiful within a few years, and the hardiness and prolific nature of the bird will probably insure its increase without further releases."

"It is impossible to estimate the value of these game birds to Nevada as a potential natural resource. They thrive where the sagehen has been exterminated and where the pheasant has failed to propagate."

ALGOMA NEWS

ALGOMA, Ore.—Mrs. Al Larson and Mrs. B. E. Barrett of the Shady Pine Sewing circle were hostesses at a very pretty afternoon occasion, at which Mrs. G. William Barrett was a guest of honor.

The Needlecraft Sewing club of Algoma were guests, as were members of the Shady Pine Sewing circle.

Among those present were: Mesdames Knapp, Taylor and Mitchell, from Klamath Falls.

Mesdames Pelland, Ed Brown, Britton Barrett, Emery Gaston, Guss Mongin, Howard and Dunn, members of the Algoma Sewing circle.

Mesdames Gatz, Jim Wessenback, Russell Gillette, Ernest Logan, Matt Maaranen, Jack Yager, Clifford Ambers, James Conroy, E. E. Barrett, J. A. Larson and Glen Barrett, members of the Shady Pine Sewing circle.

Games were played and contests enjoyed. Prizes for the winners and losers were given. Delicious lunch was served, and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Barrett and son Billy spent the past week at the home of Barrett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Barrett.

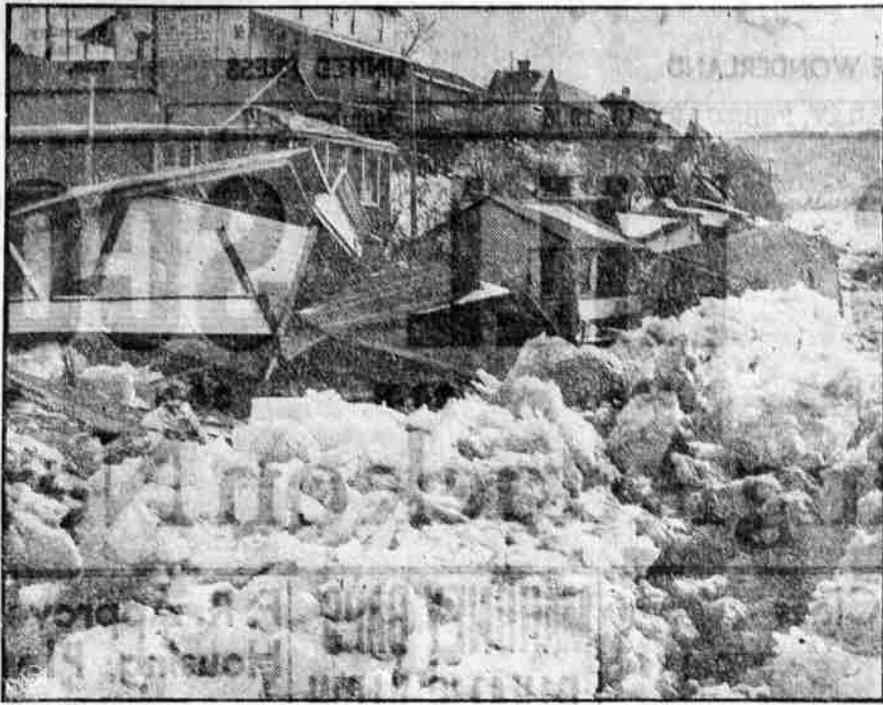

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Rockholt is ill at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman. The boy is suffering from a severe cold.

The crews from the mills, factories, yard and the housewives gathered at the library room to listen to a talk given by Mr. Watkins on "Use Wooden Boxes and Why," Saturday noon. The Algoma folks have organized, and are ready to do their part in helping along this worthy project.

The polka supper given by Miss Cox and Mrs. Huckle on Thursday evening was well attended and a wonderful feast was enjoyed. After the supper dancing was enjoyed for a couple of hours.

Looking for a Summer Cottage? Take Your Pick

Shuffled up like houses of cards, summer cottages were mingled in a huge jumbled heap of wreckage as grinding mounds of ice moved down the Lewiston, N. Y., stretch of Niagara river below the falls, creating the scene of havoc shown above. Hotels and cottages shown on higher ground escaped serious damage.

Begins Quintuplets' Education

With appointment of a new head nurse for the quintuplets, their pre-school training begins. Jacqueline Noel, right, will start them in their native French, and give other training suitable to the babies' 20 months. They will learn their English later. Miss Noel, an expert linguist, is a graduate of the Verdun Hospital, Montreal.

was held Friday evening, February 7. All officers were present and a short business meeting was held.

A program was presented by Miss Vivian Dunn and Miss Margie Sings. They presented an amateur program in which prizes were given. The persons getting the greatest applause were winners and received prizes. Bob Mitchell received first, Mrs. Loftsgaard and daughter Alice second, and Pat Patterson third.

Mrs. Clark Nabakowski and Mrs. Gene Gratton served delicious sandwiches and coffee, then dancing was enjoyed for a while. Mrs. Archie O'Brien has been on the sick list the past week.

The Townsend club met on Tuesday evening. A good attendance was present. After a short business meeting a program consisting of string music and a reading was enjoyed. The Algoma Townsend club meets on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

Two Deer, Wolf Stage Battle in B. C. Region

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 13. (AP)—A grim battle of the wilds between two deer and a wolf was related by crew members of the Ollalio today.

They said the wolf had a neck hold on a buck deer while the deer's frantic mate tried to fight off the buck's adversary.

The fight was extended to the waters of Halkett Bay, off Gambier Island when the wolf and buck fell from a cliff. The buck swam in a long boom, the wolf holding fast. Crewmen frightened the wolf away, the buck swimming to shore, freedom and his mate.

returned home after spending several days at Ashland. Mrs. Sutton's mother, Mrs. Dittsworth, accompanied them for an extended visit.

Mrs. W. J. Burnett entertained the Midland Home Economics club at her home on Michigan avenue Wednesday afternoon.

Those present were: Mesdames Walter Folsom, Alec Cheyne, Harry Young, E. A. Shulmire, Phil Moteschenbacher, A. Pinelli, Hilbert Largent, Lillian Thomas, S. L. Burnett, Miss Mary Burnett. Visitors were: Mesdames Dick Kraenburg, Arthur Stewart, Lyle Hlekman, Floyd Stewart and the hostess, Mrs. Burnett.

A delightful luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon by the hostess.

Rites Which Slain Author Studied

In their weird ceremony of self-torture, the Penitentes, fanatical southwestern Indian cult, are shown in this rare picture, as the spotlight is turned on them by the slaying of Carl Taylor, magazine writer, who was studying their rites near Albuquerque, N. M. Their backs bleeding from self-inflicted wounds, the fanatics are shown as they circled the cross. Taylor's homeboy confessed the killing, saying robbery was his motive, but the author's friends believe he was slain for delving into cult secrets.

Fighter Booked for Manslaughter

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Lorenzo "Pete" Pedro, 21-year-old professional fighter, was booked on a technical charge of manslaughter today after the death of his sparring partner, Eddie Kimm, 24.

Kimm died yesterday in a hospital after collapsing in the ring from a blow under the heart. The two San Franciscans were wearing the big 12 ounce training gloves.

Kimm fought here several years ago as an amateur, but records do not show he appeared either in the amateur or professional ring in the last two years.

CARLTON, Ore., Feb. 13. (AP)—The Southern Pacific railway is constructing approximately 3100 feet of additional railway siding here. The construction is in anticipation of increased lumber and log shipments from the mills and camps of the Mora Logging company which will start operations Monday, and to handle output of the Trask-Wilmette Lumber company which expects to resume operations March 2.

St. Louis Girl Breaks Record; Olympics Eyed

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 13. (AP)—A streak of lightning from Missouri, who first brought the name of Helen Stephens into the headlines just a year ago, looked today toward the Olympic games as the final step to the top of the track world.

The Fulton, Mo., farm girl celebrated the first anniversary of her track stardom last night by tying the world record of 6.1 seconds in the 50-meter run of indoor track and field meet and setting a new American mark in the 8-pound shot put.

The 18-year-old "Fulton Flash" — now a freshman in William Woods college — also improved her last year's winning mark in the standing broad jump, making complete her defense of the three national laurels she won in her debut.

The tall, slender girl was deprived last night of another opportunity of meeting Stella Walsh, Polish star whom she beat in the 50-meter event last year and who shares the world record that she equaled. But they probably will resume their rivalry in the Olympics next summer.

Miss Stephens tossed the shot 41 feet, 7 inches, bettering the previous American woman's record of 39 feet, 11 inches, and stood and broad jumped 8 feet, 4 1/2 inches.
