

Oakland Sets Fast Pace in Coast League

BEAVERS SPLIT WITH MISSIONS

Twenty-Nine Errors Made in Eleven Games Over Weekend.

(By The Associated Press) Oakland's Acorns and the error column came out on top of the score sheet for the second week of Pacific coast league baseball's 1936 season.

In eleven week-end games the eight clubs piled up 29 errors. Honors went to the San Diego ball park where eight bobbles were made, five of them in Saturday's fray.

Smart Fielding Counts But there was some smart fielding. A run on double plays tied with tight pitching as the Missions took two of their three week-end games from Portland, and the series 4 to 2.

Hobo Carson shut out the Missions with three hits to take Sunday morning's set to 3-0. Lloyd Johnson went him one better in the afternoon, allowing the Beavers only one hit, and made the second score as he won for the Reds 1-0.

Even the San Diego Padres' spit balling manager, Frank Shellenback couldn't stop the Seattle tribe which took the series 5-2. The Indians reached him for eight hits in the 7-inning nightcap to win 2-1 after taking the opener 7-4 and Saturday's erratic encounter 7-5.

Batted out of three games, San Francisco's batters got plenty of practice with 27 hits in Sunday's doubleheader with the young Senators at Sacramento. The Seals won 3-4 and 10-1.

Mussolini Expects Complete Victory For Italians Soon

ROME, April 6. (UP)—Italian forces have defeated Emperor Haile Selassie's entire army in the Ethiopian region and the Ethiopians are fleeing in confusion to the south, an official communique said Saturday.

Simultaneously, Premier Benito Mussolini indicated in a speech his belief that a complete Italian victory and the end of the war is not far off.

Military men here believed final defeat of the Ethiopians may be in sight. They saw the possibility that the converging Italian columns might trap the emperor himself, entirely demolishing Ethiopian resistance and morale by his capture.

An air raid over Addis Ababa today was expected to have a marked effect on Ethiopian courage.

National Diving Title For Women Won by 13-Year-Old California Girl

CHICAGO, April 6. (AP)—Blonde 13-year-old Marjorie Gestring, who trembled with fear when she climbed a high board for the first time just three years ago, ruled today as the stout-hearted little queen of the nation's feminine high diving artists.

Marjorie shivered Saturday night when she slowly went up the high board steps for her first dive in the National A. A. U. women's championships at the Lake Shore Athletic club. A half hour later with the cheers of hundreds of spectators following her, she dashed happily for a telephone to tell her mother in Los Angeles she had just won a national championship.

Multnomah Club Wins in Oregon Swimming Meet

PORTLAND, April 6. (AP)—The swimming ace of the Multnomah club found themselves in possession of the lion's share of the Oregon state swimming and diving championships today.

The sparkling-eyed Los Angeles miss scored 145.68 points, almost two full points better than the total compiled by Marion Mansfield, new low board champion who finished second.

Marjorie's victory thrilled no one any more than it did her father, John Gestring, who met all expenses in taking his daughter to her first national meet. She was so excited that on her dash to call Mrs. Gestring she dragged her beaming father halfway through the girl's locker room shouting: "Gangway, gang—man coming through."

Medica Wins Three Jack Medica, University of Washington star, won three events, the 1,500 meters and 500 and 200-yard free style races.

COSNECK EYES MAT VICTORY

Illinois Grappler Set for Meeting With Belcastro.

Young, broad-shouldered Barney Cosneck, former University of Illinois student, was determined and confident today that he could stop Pete Belcastro's drop kicks and body slams in the armory main event wrestling match Tuesday night.

Beaten once, Cosneck was confident of reestablishing his reputation here with a victory over the junior heavyweight champion of the Pacific coast.

The match had the promise of fast action. The youthful grappler from the Midwest was rated on a par with the equally youthful Belcastro, despite the outcome of last week's meeting.

Cosneck took the opening fall from the champion in their first match and then dropped the second when he was tangled up in Belcastro's rope swings and body presses. He was unable to recover to continue the event after the five-minute rest period.

Considerable interest was attached to the return of Danny Savich, University of Utah, who will meet Prince Mihalkis, the Arab, in the windup. Mihalkis gained a draw with Cosneck two weeks ago and then defeated Frankie Peck of San Francisco last week.

Both are clever and swift. Savich has a wide assortment of football methods while the Arab is proficient in the dragon lock and the camel hold.

Peck will be featured in the opener against husky Frank Taylor of Ohio. Taylor has been away from here for several weeks. His sensational matches with Duke Chick, Wyoming cowboy, are well-remembered.

About Dogs

A Weekly Series of Articles Offered by the Humane Society.

"The Westminster show, like its English cousin Crufts, is the sponsor and fairy godmother of all the new breeds introduced in America, and it was at its 1935 show that Welsh Gorgis made their formal debut in this country. It seemed as if no visitor missed a visit to the Gorgi benches. The dogs were coaxed and petted and measured, and at the end of three days the Gorgis were the only ones who were utterly oblivious of themselves and took all the attendant fanfare and publicity in stride."

Previous to this they had become very popular in England both as show dogs and companions during the few short years after their recognition in the Kennel club's register. But behind them is a very long, a very exciting past that stretches back into the dimness of Welsh legend and story, when the Gorgis, as they say were brought over to Wales from the mainland of Europe, for use in the herding and driving of cattle. And it was their intelligence, alertness and skill that endeared them to the Welshmen of each succeeding generation. It is well to note here the two distinct types of Gorgis, the Cardigan and the Pembroke, and to say that although the two were mated when first introduced to show fanciers they are two different breeds, and have been classed as such both here and in England.

"Choosing the outstanding and appealing characteristics of any breed is a difficult task—not because a dog has a galeety and gameness and a bright-eyed alertness that perhaps accounts for the Gorgi's contagious popularity both in this country and abroad. And still another reason is his adaptability to a town or country environment."

CHANDLER EGAN PASSES SUNDAY

Nationally Known Oregon Golfer Victim of Pneumonia.

MEDFORD, Ore., April 6. (UP)—H. Chandler Egan, noted golfer whose death resulted from pneumonia at Everett, Wash., early Sunday morning, played a large part in inaugurating his favorite sport in southern Oregon.

He came here in 1910 as the owner of a large pear orchard and immediately introduced golf and aided in founding the Rogue River golf club.

Services in Valley Egan, 51 years old, died from lobar pneumonia. After private funeral services at Everett today, the body will be cremated and sent here.

The former national amateur golf champion and member of the Walker team in 1934, died in an Everett hospital where he was ill a week. Mrs. Egan, herself ill with a cold, was at his bedside.

Egan went to Everett about 10 days ago to act as supervising architect of a new golf course there. He was taken to the hospital Saturday, March 28.

A large share of his national successes came before he settled in this area.

Many Titles Won He won the national amateur golf title in 1924, repeated in 1925 and was runner-up for the title in 1929. Years later, at the age when many athletic figures long-since have ended strenuous competition, he won the Pacific Northwest amateur title, in 1929, 1933, 1935 and 1936.

Egan was a member of the Walker cup team in 1934 and aided the United States in defeating England 93 to 13. He was a member of the United States golf association's executive committee for many years.

He also was known for his work in designing golf courses, and it was during his activities as architect for the new course at Everett that he was stricken.

Graduate of Harvard His friends knew him here as a quiet, country gentleman, helpful but not particularly active in civic affairs. He spent recent winters at Del Monte, Cal. He was a graduate of Harvard University.

His widow, the former Alice Barrett of Chicago, and a daughter, by an earlier marriage, Mrs. Morris Everett of Cleveland, survive. Egan's first wife was the former Lena McNally of Chicago, now of Los Angeles.

GOLFERS PAY TRIBUTE AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6. (UP)—Golfers attending the Augusta national invitation tournament last night paid tribute to H. Chandler Egan, former National amateur champion, who died Sunday.

"He was a great shot maker when he walloped me in the first round of the 1933 amateur at Cincinnati," said Johnny Goodman, the Omaha amateur, "and that was a long time after he had been a champion. Egan played in last year's Augusta tournament at the invitation of Bobby Jones.

"It's a shock to know that so grand a fellow and so fine a golfer is dead," said Jones. "We will all miss him terribly. His comeback was an inspiration to everybody in the game."

Widow to Receive $200 From Prison TRENTON, N. J., April 6. (UP)—Widowed Anna Hauptmann will receive $200 from state prison; it was learned Saturday.

The sum is part of the total Bruno Richard Hauptmann received while he waited in his death cell, held for the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

Most of the money came to him in return for his autograph on President Roosevelt's recommendations for a graduated tax on undistributed corporate earnings, a "windfall" levy to recoup processing tax losses and temporary continuance of the excess profits and capital stock levies.

SPORT SHORTS

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6. (AP)—Henri Strand of Seattle remained champion A. A. U. handball player of the northwest today. He swept through semi-finals and finals of the A. A. U. tournament Saturday night with no great difficulty.

Dr. Reichford and C. M. Lundberg of Spokane kept their doubles title intact, but had a hard time downing the Rosenkrantz-Rosenberg combination of Portland 14-21, 21-8 and 21-14 in the final bout.

EUGENE, Ore., April 6. (AP)—University of Oregon swimmers proved they are still the class of the northern division Pacific coast conference by sweeping eight first places in the nine events of the intercollegiate meet here.

Oregon tank men scored 64 points, the University of Washington State college 16 and Oregon State college 10.

Two coast records were broken, Jim Reed of Oregon pacing the 150-yard back-stroke in 1:42.9 and the University of Oregon 300-yard medley relay team setting a mark of 3:15.4 compared with the previous record of 3:13.8.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6. (AP)—Jimmy Richardson, Oregon A. A. U. executive, said five Portland youths will leave Friday to compete in the National A. A. U. championships at Cleveland.

The boys, all winners of Oregon A. A. U. titles in their respective weights, are: 126 pounds, "Ace" Helntz, Portland boxing school; 135 pounds, Frank Baska, Catholic Youth Order; 147 pounds, Don Weed; 160 pounds, Ken Robertson; heavyweight, Dave Johnston. The latter three represent the Multnomah club.

PORTLAND, April 6. (AP)—Bobby Rowe, Portland promoter, said today that northwest auto racing promoters affiliated to form a circuit to obtain the finest drivers on the Pacific coast.

Other promoters are Walter Bainer of Seattle, Charles Peterson of Seattle, Jack Smith of Victoria, B. C., and Carl Herstrom of Tacoma, Rowe said.

Cooper Holding 5-stroke Lead in Golf Event

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6. (UP)—The rain-harassed Augusta national invitation golf tournament was resumed today with the mud-running professionals in pursuit of "Light Horse Harry" Cooper of Chicago, who started the final 36 holes with a five-stroke margin over the all-star field.

In the face of possible further rainfall and with the course water-logged from nearly 12 hours of downpour Sunday, officials said nothing short of a cyclone would prevent completion of the show today.

While Bobby Jones, retired champion of the golfing world, and pre-tournament favorite, failed dismally in his third crack against the professional brigade, Cooper led the field into the second half of the 72-hole competition with a 70-69-139, five strokes under par.

Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, the "Wee Scot" who lost to Jones in a playoff for the national open crown in 1923 was bracketed with Denny Shute of Boston, the former British champion, behind Cooper with seven par 144's at the halfway point.

Heiress Planning Move to Honolulu HONOLULU, T. H., April 6. (UP)—Doris Duke Cromwell, tobacco fortune heiress, and her husband, James Cromwell, Saturday paid $100,000 for a four and a half acre beach property on the island of Oahu, site of the capital city of Honolulu.

It was understood they planned elaborate improvements on the property to which they are expected to transfer their permanent home from Palm Beach, Fla.

Universals of Hollywood Win Olympic Hoop Title

NEW YORK, April 6. (AP)—Thirteen of the country's leading basketball players today were selected to represent the United States in the Olympics at Berlin as a climax to the nation-wide tournaments, which ended last night in Madison Square Garden with the Universal Pictures of Hollywood nosing out the McPherson, Kans., Oilers 44 to 43.

The Universals, whose victory was unexpected following their defeat at the hands of the Oilers in the finals of the National A. A. U. championships, placed seven men on the squad. The Oilers had five named and Ralph Bishop, University of Washington center, was selected to complete the team.

Husky Stars Named The Olympic committee, headed by Dr. Walter Meanwell, originally had planned to name a squad of 14.

Selected from the Universals were Frank Lubin, Carl Shu, Duane Swanson, Art Molner, Don Ripper, Sam Balter and Carl Knowles. From the Oilers the committee picked Francis Johnson, Joe Fortenberry, Tex Gibbons, Jack Ragland and Bill Wheatley. Vernon Vaughn said he was doubtful if he could get away from business and so was pleading among the alternates along with William Schmidt.

Jim Needles, coach of the West coast five, was named head coach and Gene Johnson of the Oilers, assistant coach. The two coaches will have the power to select from the alternates in case replacements are needed. Dr. J. A. Reilly of the Kansas City Athletic club will accompany the team as manager.

The eleven other alternates were selected from the six other teams that started play in the tournament Friday night. They were, Kent Ryan and Ed Wade of Utah State; Don Shields, Temple; Ed Campion, De Paul of Chicago; Fred Crum and Tommy Evans, Wilmerding, Pa.; Y. M. C. A.; Charles Wagner, Robert Egge and Ed Lovrich of Washington and Ike Poole and Lee Howell of Arkansas.

Score Tied Twice No more than six points separated the two teams at any time in the thrilling final game although the Universals never were behind after the first three minutes. They were in front 23-21 at the half.

The Oilers led the count 30 seconds after the final period opened and knotted the score again mid-way of the session at 30-30. The Universals did a fine job of freezing the ball to protect a three-point lead at the end although Fortenberry, who led the scoring with 18 points, broke through for a basket in the final minute.

Fortenberry, Johnson and Wheatley of the Oilers and Knowles and Shy of the Universals were named to the all-star team. Lubin, Swanson and Ragland were placed on the second along with Shields and Lovrich.

In the battle for third place, Washington defeated Wilmerding 48 to 33.

Congress Will Disregard Tax Bill Criticism WASHINGTON, April 6. (UP)—The house ways and means committee is prepared to run roughshod over business demands for revision of the $799,000,000 new tax program, leaders admitted Saturday.

Business recognizes this and indicated in a statement by the United States Chamber of Commerce that it was holding some of its biggest guns for use when the measure reaches the senate finance committee.

The house bill will be re-drafted next week. Only minor changes will be made in the tax sub-committee's recommendations. A tax adjustment to aid corporations with large indebtedness is being considered. Otherwise the measure will be based
