

WATER USERS WILL HOLD SPECIAL VOTE

A special election will be held on Tuesday, April 28, at which water users of the Klamath Irrigation district will decide whether district consent will be given to the secretary of the interior to sell, dispose of, or lease to the Enterprise and Pine Grove districts the power site at the drop at the head of the canal.

The Pine Grove and Enterprise Irrigation districts and Enterprise Irrigation districts constructs a power plant at the site, and generate there power to be used for pumping purposes. It is understood the plan contemplated a PWA grant for 45 per cent of the cost, the remainder to be raised by bond issue on which a vote will be held if the KID water users vote their consent to transferring the site to the other districts.

The powersite, it is stated in the election announcement to appear as a legal notice, is now charged almost wholly to the Klamath Irrigation district by the bureau of reclamation and the district has been paying for the site for a great number of years. The question before water users of the KID is whether they now want this powersite transferred to the Enterprise and Pine Grove districts.

It is understood the proposed power development project would involve a total cost of around $60,000.

Polls for the special election will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Precincts and voting places: Altamont, Altamont Campground; Mt. Laki, Mac's Store; Midland, Burnett's house; Olene, Joe Taylor's house; Merril, Giacmini house; Mallin, Petrasek house.

Horse Frees Couple From Plow

Selum's only a $65 truck horse, but to the Greens, of Jena, La., he comes as the noblest of steeds. The reason? No longer will Farmer Paul J. Green and his wife have to yoke themselves to the plow as shown above, to break the tough, weedy, root-studded ground on their cotton farm, as poverty has forced them to do for the last three years. An executive of the Resettlement Administration Board heard of their plight and amazing struggle, and lent them money to buy Selum, with which the Greens and their daughter, Ruth, 17, are shown below. And now Selum is the pampered pet of the family.

POSTER CONTEST GETS UNDERWAY

The American Legion auxiliary is conducting a poppy poster contest in the public schools, and already a large number of entries have been made, according to Mrs. Ruth Linfesty, poppy poster chairman.

The contest ends April 20, and has been divided into three groups, with the fourth, fifth and sixth grades in one group, the seventh and eighth grades in a second group, and high schools in a third group.

A first prize of $1.50 will be awarded in each group, and a second prize of 75 cents, and winning posters will be entered in the state contest, where prizes of $5.00 will be awarded.

Local judges for the contest are Mrs. Cone, WPA art teacher; James Floyd, advertising manager of Poole's theatres; Victor Owen, advertising manager for Moo's store; Max King, Conrad, of the Max King studio, and Mrs. Hilda Parks of the Swan confectionery. Posters will be displayed at the auxiliary meeting May 5, when prizes will be awarded.

SALVATION ARMY BENEFIT PLANNED

Dunn & Baker paid approximately $13,000 for this Enterprise engine, which is regarded as the finest single engine set for a rock crusher in the northwest.

Prizes will be awarded to those who drive a 1936 six-cylinder Pontiac the greatest number of miles per gallon over a prescribed route that has been mapped out by Snyder in conjunction with the local police.

Y. M. C. A. ORGANIZER IN KLAMATH FALLS

E. E. Chambers, Y. M. C. A. field organizer from Seattle, was a visitor in Klamath Falls Monday and contacted a number of businessmen and service organizations relative to the possible organization of a Y. M. C. A. in this community.

Under the direction of a committee to be appointed in the near future, a survey will be conducted to determine the feasibility of establishing a Y. M. C. A. or organizing a branch using the facilities already here.

Chambers left Tuesday morning for Ashland where he will conduct a similar inquiry relative to Y. M. C. A. work.

Total airmail volume for 1935 was 13,276,023 pounds, or about double the poundage carried during each of the two previous years.

Inter-island air service in the Hawaiian Islands now is being carried on with ships exactly like those used on trans-Pacific flights, but built on a much smaller scale.

MRS. EARLEY WILL HEAD PRO AMERICA

Mrs. Anne Earley has been named chairman of the Klamath county division of Pro America, a national organization of republican women.

Her appointment was announced Tuesday morning by Mrs. Reade M. Ireland and Mrs. Harry Loggren, representatives of the organization who were in Klamath Falls from Portland. Mrs. Ireland and Mrs. Loggren, on a state tour, left here Tuesday afternoon for Bend.

Other members of the Klamath committee will be made by Mrs. Earley upon her return from a brief visit to California.

The Pro America group is a permanent association of republican women. It was founded in 1933 by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, wife of the late president, and Mrs. E. B. Hanley of Seattle, Mrs. Hanley, known in Klamath Falls, in the sister-in-law of the late Bill Hanley, famous central Oregon cattlemen and at one time a member of the state highway commission.

The aim of Pro America, as stated in its constitution, is: "Uphold the constitution of the United States, with its American traditions and ideals, and combat all destructive influences which will imperil the sacred heritage of liberty bequeathed to us by our forefathers."

Mrs. George T. Geringer is the state president.

JUNIOR CHAMBER ELECTS SWANSON

Martin Swanson was elected president of the Klamath County junior chamber of commerce at a dinner meeting of the organization at the Willard Monday night. He assumed the duties of the office from Art Larsen, retiring president.

Other new officers are Dave Shirk, vice-president; Embert Fossum, secretary; Louise Williams, treasurer; Ken Dart and James Swanson, directors.

Rudy Jacobs made a talk at the meeting on the haberdashery business, and there was a discussion of various chamber projects.

Shirk reported on the progress of clean-up week, and several members who have addressed school children on the clean-up program were called on for short reports.

Killers Smile on Way to Prison

Smiling despite the bleak future that stretches before them, these two women killers are shown at Los Angeles as they were started for Tehachap, Calif., women's prison, their guard grinning grimly ahead. At the left is Mabel Willy, hammer murderer, and at the right Mrs. Hazel Glab—preparing to learn more about detectives—convicted of slaying her husband eight years ago. In the center is Deputy Sheriff Verno Flemming.

Funeral

JESSE SCOTT
The funeral services for the late Jesse Scott, who passed away in Yreka, Calif., on Friday, April 17, will take place from the Methodist church at Beatty, Ore., on Wednesday, April 23, at 1:00 p. m., the Rev. E. V. Bradshaw officiating. The body will rest in state in the church from 10:30 a. m. until the time set for the funeral. Commitment service and interment will be in the Mosenkasket cemetery. Friends are respectfully invited to attend. The Klamath funeral home in charge of the arrangements.

Legion to Build New Grandstand

The American Legion Fourth of July celebration committee is making plans for construction of a grandstand at the fairgrounds to seat 2500 people, it was learned Tuesday.

Purpose is to provide seating arrangements for a rodeo and logging stunt program which the Legion is planning as a feature of the celebration.

New Automobiles Offered as Prizes

Two new automobiles and 164 other valuable prizes are to be given away by the Pontiac Motor company in a nationwide economy contest beginning at once, according to Frank Snyder of the Snyder Motor company, who will sponsor the contest locally.

Snyder has extended an invitation to all residents of Klamath Falls to compete for these nation-

We wish we could do the IMPOSSIBLE

We wish, sincerely, that we could sell La Salle in the low-price field—for, then, almost everybody would buy a La Salle. But it simply isn't possible. La Salle is designed and built to be a fine car—and cannot compete in the low-price field. It is the lowest-priced quality car in the world—and we think it represents the greatest dollar value to be had anywhere. But it is strictly a fine car, and has to be sold as such.
