

Twelve Schools Enter Modoc Field Event

Locey's Job Not In Athletics

Ex-Denver Coach Not Expected to Have Part in Directing Beaver Football. Only Two Track Records Survive Five Years of Southern Oregon-Northern California Competition.

The position Percy Locey will hold when he arrives at the Oregon State campus has been the subject for considerable speculation of the sports pages of Oregon newspapers.

Those who know Locey and his fine record as a player at Oregon State and then a coach at the Olympic club in San Francisco and the University of Denver find it difficult to believe he is quitting athletics for good.

Locey will be brought to Corvallis as dean of men. There has been no official mention whatsoever to indicate that Locey will have a hand in the building of Beaver football teams.

Tuesday's Associated Press dispatch from Corvallis is pretty definite along this line: "Locey will leave the field of athletic instruction and coaching when he joins the Oregon State college staff July 1.

"He will serve part time in the dean of men's office and be an instructor in business administration."

Only two marks set at the Southern Oregon - Northern California track and field meet, five years ago—the first time the event sponsored by the 30-30 club was held—still stand in the record books today.

One is the mile run. Al Johnson, former Klamath high school star, paced this event off in 4:58. Two years ago a boy named Sheely of Chiloquin came pretty close to tying the mark. His time was one-tenth of a second slower than Johnson's.

The other mark has never been threatened. It is held by Fredericks of Grants Pass who threw the discus 132 feet 8 inches.

Five years ago the meet was staged in a near snowstorm. Yet those two marks have stood.

In other years, the date has been shifted around until now it is fairly certain that good weather can be expected. This has been responsible to some extent in the rapid improvement of records for all events but the mile and the discus.

OREGON STATE SENDS STARS

Plans Nearly Complete for Annual Track Competition.

The entry list for the fifth annual Southern Oregon-Northern California track and field meet was swelled to twelve high schools this week as preparations went on for the staging of the big event.

The meet will be held on Modoc field one week from this coming Saturday. Many of the schools which will compete will see their last real action Saturday in the district meet at Grants Pass.

Corvallis Sends Squad Marvin A. Albee, chairman of the 20-30 club's track committee, said Tuesday morning the following schools had entered:

Henry, Lakeview, Klamath Falls, Corvallis, Keno, Dorris, Malin, Grants Pass, Bend, Alturas, Merrill and Chiloquin.

With the deadline still several days off, meet officials expected a considerable increase among the entries.

Corvallis will be the most distant school to compete. It is the first time the Willamette Valley team has entered. Eugene entered several years ago, but probably will not compete this season.

Beaver Stars Coming Albee also announced that Assistant Coach Dixon of Oregon State would referee.

Oregon State college will send some of its outstanding athletes to give exhibitions.

These will include: Bob Leslie, former Klamath high school star, and co-holder of the state 100-yard record. Leslie also holds the Southern Oregon-Northern California meet record in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He is a promising candidate for the American Olympic Games team.

Lee Carey, joint holder of the state record for the pole vault. Joe Enzier, record holder in the state of Washington for the shot put.

An electric public address system will be installed at Modoc field to announce the events.

Schmeling Selects Training Location

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Max Schmeling selected Napanoch, N. Y., as his training camp for the Joe Louis fight on June 18.

The former heavyweight champion will go to Napanoch Wednesday and remain there until the fight. Napanoch, a resort in the Shawangung mountains is 91 miles north of New York City.

Meanwhile Promoter Mike Jacobs announced that Joe Louis will arrive from Detroit at his Lafayetteville, N. Y., camp Thursday morning. The Brown Bomber will rough it at Lafayetteville until mid-May, and then start intensive training at Lakewood, N. J.

Chinese Grappler Wins at Portland

PORTLAND, April 28. (AP)—A pair of jiu jitsu experts, Walter Achlu, 161, Dayton, Ohio, and Don Sugal, 159, Salem, Ore., survived a six-man battle royal and clashed in a wrestling bout final here last night.

Achlu clamped on a surfboard after 14 minutes to take the one fall.

Bobby Burns, 155, Vermont, gained two of three falls from Jean Labell, 160, Montreal, Jack Hagen, 165, Chicago, and Buck Lawson, 162, Cheyenne, Wyo., divided falls in a 30-minute bout.

MATMEN WILL SETTLE FEUD

Wilson, Belcastro Meet in Grudge Match At Armory.

Klamath Falls wrestling followers will go to the armory tonight with the expectation of witnessing one of the liveliest main events of the 1936 season.

Scheduled as a "grudge" battle, George Wilson of Everett, Wash., and Pete Belcastro, Klamath Falls, meet in the one-hour feature tussle.

Not to be forgotten, however, is veteran Al Karasick of Portland, who comes to Klamath Falls for a semi-windup showing against Bob Kennaston, the Gold Hill marine.

The grudge between Wilson and Belcastro dates back two weeks, when the former University of Washington grid player was toppled by the young junior heavyweight champion of the Pacific coast.

Because he resented his defeat via a knockout punch to the jaw, Wilson evened things up with Belcastro—unofficially, of course—when the match was over.

Each wrestler, thinking himself the better of the two, eagerly accepted Mack Lillard's offer for a rematch.

Wilson and Belcastro are hard hitters. Belcastro features his drop kicks and rope swings, while Wilson looks to victory chiefly through his smashing football blocking and tackling.

Kennaston, big and powerful, was expected to give the Russian Lion a close run in the windup. Kennaston scored a win last week over Frank Taylor of Ohio. Karasick's experience and cleverness should be sufficient to offset the weight and power of his opponent.

Prince Mihalakis, the Arab, who lost his first match in Klamath Falls last week, when he was stopped by Wilson, will try to duplicate a previous victory over Dan Savich, Utah, in the opener.

Yacht Goes Aground Off Cuban Coast

MIAMI, Fla., April 28. (AP)—The 98-foot motor yacht Jane II, with eight persons aboard, was aground on a reef off the northwest coast of Cuba Monday awaiting a boat to pull her off.

Radio advices indicated the Jane II was in no immediate danger. The United Fruit company steamers Limon and Musa, which had started to the Jane II when the first distress call was sent early tonight were reported back on their courses after learning that the yacht did not require immediate aid.

Salt Loving Deer Killed by Railroads

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—The United States forest service set out today to save the American deer from itself.

Revealing that "rains killed hundreds of deer during the winter and early spring, foresters were quick to add that the real villain was not the locomotive or the engineer, but salt.

"Railroads," explained C. L. Huffer, of the range management division, "universally use salt to keep track switches from freezing, and deer like salt as a child does ice cream."

He said the deer get a whiff of the salt and come from far and near to lick the switch. While they are thus engaged the train comes along, and it's all over with the deer.

"You can see that this sort of thing is getting us nowhere," continued Huffer. "The deer loses his life, the country loses the deer and all the salt is getting licked off the switches. It's a vicious circle."

The forest service intends to make the deer forget his appetite for salt—at least the kind that is put on switches.

"Something that deer hate will be mixed with the salt," the forester said. "So, when the wind is blowing the deer's way, instead of getting lured down to the tracks, he will go the other way."

The foresters have not decided on what substance is generally hated by deer, but they think it might be kerosene.

"It's going to take much experimentation," said Huffer, "because deer are tricky. You might have a mixture you think they hate, yet all the time they might be keeping away because they smell you, not the mixture."

TRIBE LEADING PENNANT HOPE

Cleveland Puts Fighting Team in Race for American Flag.

(By the Associated Press) American league managers are scanning the record of the Cleveland Indians these days and finding therein little solace for the road that lies ahead.

The Indians currently are leading the pack with eight wins in 11 starts this season, however it isn't the number of victories but the way they scored them that impresses the old hands of baseball campaigning.

Team of Fighters Steve O'Neill, of the square jaw and steady eye, has moulded a cohesive band of ball players who will fight down the line until the last ball has been pitched and the last blow struck.

The Indians have been trouncing the horsehide with vigor and their pitching gets better as the season moves along.

Met Harder, Oral Hildebrand, Johnny Allen, Lloyd Brown and George Blasholder all have been showing plenty of stuff and if Willis Hudlin takes a new lease on life the Indians will have a pitching staff that may make the fans forget about the Tigers, the Red Sox, the Yankees and the rest.

Harold Trosky, the fence buster; Earl Averill, Joe Vossik and Bruce Campbell seem capable of taking care of the heavy batting chores.

Trosky is leading the league in home runs with five and his 16 runs batted in is only one behind Bill Dickey of the Yanks.

Reels Stop Cubs Brown, Harder, Allen and Blasholder all have gone the distance and won. Harder and Allen each have notched two victories singlehanded.

Blasholder came into his own in his first start of the season when he held the St. Louis Browns to seven hits and won his game 2-1 but it was Campbell's homer in the seventh that provided the winning run.

It was the only game played in the American league, the only other major league contest being played in the National circuit where the Cincinnati Reds nosed out the Cubs 5-4 in ten innings.

Jones Consulted on Course Construction

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—The works progress administration today had the benefit of Bobby Jones' knowledge of how golf courses should be constructed.

The former champion discussed the construction of courses at length yesterday with Administrator Harry L. Hopkins. The WPA has built or improved some 600 courses during the last year.

"We want to make these courses architecturally correct," said Hopkins. "That's why we asked Mr. Jones to talk with us and give us the benefit of his experience and opinions."

The United States exported more than 80,500,000 linear feet of sound and silent motion pictures in the first six months of 1932.

Young Catcher for Indians Leads Batters

LOS ANGELES, April 28. (AP)—Two players, Joe Marty, San Francisco outfielder, and Hal Spindel, young catcher with Seattle, remain in the .400 class of batters in the Coast league figures released today disclosed.

Spindel, at bat 62 times in 22 games, connected with 25 hits for a .403 average, while Marty hit 44 blows in 110 times at the plate in 28 games for an even .409.

Bill Meyer's Oakland club, up to games through Sunday, held a one-point margin over Portland, the Oaks averaging .392 to .391 over Portland.

Seattle, Missions To Fight for Second Place

(By the Associated Press) Under the glaring lights of the Seattle ball park, the Indians and the Mission Reds will open a week-long hand-to-hand battle for second place in the Pacific Coast league.

The two of them have been shuttling the spot back and forth for the last couple of weeks. If they keep on toasting it around, the Portland Beavers may step in and grab it away from both of them.

Beavers Meet Padres The hard hitting Beavers need only a little luck in their series with the San Diego Padres and a close series at Seattle to move up from fourth to second place. They are half a game behind the Missions who are a game back of Seattle.

The top berth in the second division will be at stake in the San Francisco series between the Seal league champions in the Halcyon Di Maggio days of 1935, and the brand new Sacramento club. Branch Ricker's Senators come to San Francisco from Los Angeles where they greatly embarrassed league president W. C. Tuttle by taking the Angels down the line five games to two right in the prexy's front yard.

Oddly enough Tuttle has made no more remarks about the Sacramento chain store clerks not belonging in the Coast league.

Angels Get New Men The downtrodden Angels will have two new pitchers this week to aid them in the seemingly hopeless task of trying to stop Bill Meyer's winning Oakland club. The Acorns haven't lost a series this season and the Angels haven't won any since the three game opening series.

Ray Prim, a left handed Minneapolis hurler, and Clarence Struss, from the Pittsburgh Pirates, were purchased outright last week to fill a couple of holes in Jack Leivell's gaping mound staff.
