

HIGH SCHOOL WILL UNDERGO MANY CHANGES

Athletic Changes Made Some important reorganizations in the athletic program have been decided upon, particularly in football. The demarcation between the Pelican squad and the Wildcat team is to be modified.

Heretofore, Emery explained, the Wildcat team has been maintained on an entirely separate basis. Boys who were on the squad were not considered on the Pelican squad, and if they should be promoted to the latter squad, could not be sent back into the Wildcat group.

Several Changes Made Raymond Cooney will continue as instructor in science and head of the band. Miss Lillie Darby, who has devoted part of her time to high school music, will give full time to the city elementary system next year.

Alex DeSoto is not returning next year. Charles Doll will again teach manual training, and will be assistant coach in charge of fresh football.

Dwight French will again teach science and function as head basketball coach. Harold Goring, mathematics instructor, will assist in football.

Verda B. Johnson is a new music teacher employed for next year. She comes from Arizona. Ruby Swartzlow is not returning.

The following teachers, it is expected, will be back at their old posts: Dorothy Eberhard, history; Ruth Fink, commercial; Rachel Good, Latin; Verneita Herron and Henrie Quillins, domestic science; Alice Howard, mathematics and dean of girls; Vernon Kuykendall, science; George Mabe, English and assistant in football; Lucille O'Neill, English; Ella Redkey, girls physical education; Dorothy Schupp, mathematics; Al Sinclair, science and dean of boys; Mary Smith, commercial; Harold Telle, auto mechanics; Joseph Terral, English; E. V. Vanderpool, civics; Virginia West, English and Spanish.

Emery will return next year as principal. Stanley Woodruff, teacher of science, will be vice-principal.

BRIEF SNOWSTORM VISITS KLAMATH

A driving rain, which changed to snow about 3:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, covered foothills with an unseasonable blanket of white, and made traffic hazardous in the city during the duration of the short spring blizzard.

Although the snowstorm was of short duration in the city, messages from Crater lake and Sun mountain reported a continuation of the storm during the morning.

Heavy showers fell at intervals throughout the day Wednesday, and the season's precipitation was boosted by 1.8 of an inch by the early morning showers.

The local weatherman reported a slight rise in barometric pressure, and predicted a possible clearing Thursday. Conditions for the next 12 hours will remain unsettled however, he declared, with showers and squalls. Temperatures will remain cool.

The state weather bureau forecast included showers for Wednesday night, with local frosts in the eastern portion. Thursday will be only partially cloudy.

Klamath Man Hurt in Auto Accident

Carl Enson of the Hammel apartments suffered a broken ankle and severe cuts and bruises of the head and face, Tuesday, when his car left the road near Merrill and overturned in a ditch. He was alone at the time of the accident, and was picked up by passing motorists and brought to Klamath Falls.

Enson is a patient at Hillside hospital, where his condition is reported to be satisfactory. He told hospital attendants that he was driving at an excessive rate of speed when the accident occurred.

PRESIDENT'S BILL PASSED BY BIG VOTE

New Help Included Linked with application of the normal 4 per cent income tax on dividends, it is expected to bring in $623,000,000 additional to help meet President Roosevelt's request for farm and bonus funds.

The vote on passage, cleft along party lines, was a mere formality which sealed the tentative approval given the bill yesterday. With only four changes—all proposed by the ways and means committee in charge of the legislation, the 2363 page measure had been hustled through the amendment stage with such speed as to give rise to protests of "rain-fair" and "steam-roller" tactics.

Business Effect Studied Its backers claim it will lead to more equitable taxation, particularly as between corporations and partnerships, and at the same time remove the greatest loophole for tax evasion—the ability of individuals to avoid high surtaxes on incomes by impounding income in corporate surpluses.

Republicans contended the bill would shake the stability of business, tend toward creation of monopolies and fall far short of its estimated yield. They have branded it dangerous, unsound, vicious and radical.

In addition to the revenue to be produced from the new corporate tax plan, $100,000,000 is expected from an 80 per cent "windfall" levy on processors who did not pay AAA processing taxes and $82,000,000 from temporary continuation of excess profits and capital stock taxes.

CAMP ATTACKED WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY ON THE SOUTHERN FRONT AT GORRAHEI, Ethiopia, April 29—(Reuters)—The Italian troops here faced an extremely critical position when 5,000 Ethiopians attacked last night, only the magnificent courage of a battalion of native Somali averting possible disaster.

The Ethiopians, firing from the surrounding bush, poured a deadly hail of bullets into the camp, where even the war correspondents were warned that they must be ready to fight for their lives.

After a night-long battle, the Ethiopians were driven off, leaving 600 killed and 23 wounded.

Deer Survives Raging Current at Bonneville

BONNEVILLE, Ore., April 29, (AP)—A deer survived a river current today in which engineers thought nothing could live.

The animal, frightened by pursuing dogs, plunged into the Columbia river, near Bonneville dam, seeking refuge on the opposite shore.

The river, flowing so fast that in 10 minutes enough water passes a given point to supply New York City with all the drinking water it needs for 24 hours, shot the deer through the main piers of the dam, where engineers glimpsed its head waving above the boiling current.

They sent out a tug, hoping to rescue it but before they could reach the deer it battled its way through the terrific eddies until it gained the opposite shore.

The dogs did not so much as risk getting their paws wet.

Co. 1627, China Flats, to Camp Kachess, near Easton, Wash., in the Fort Lewis district; about May 15.

PENNSYLVANIA VOTE GAINED BY PRESIDENT

London supporters had long been complaining with this in view, while friends of Borah, Knox, former President Hoover and others were quiescent.

The majority of the preference votes in Massachusetts' democratic primary were cast for Mr. Roosevelt, but no effort was made to tabulate the total immediately. Democratic leaders there contended the total vote would not be an exact indication of his strength because, they said, many voters who cast ballots for 38 Roosevelt-plodged delegates did not trouble to write in his name in the space provided for preference.

The 33 republican delegates will go to the Cleveland convention unpledged.

The preferential vote in Pennsylvania is not binding on delegates to the national convention. Under an old law Borah would be the "popular choice" of the republicans. The party leaders, however, said they expect an unstructured delegation.

Attorney Denies Parole Action

(Continued From Page One) understood by all parties present that I refused to join in that recommendation.

"However, I did tell Mr. Van Winkle insofar as he was assuming full responsibility for that recommendation and since the ultimate responsibility for sentencing those men lay with the court, I would not oppose him should he make that recommendation."

West said that at a subsequent conference which he did not attend, the attorney-general's office agreed with defense counsel to plead Ray Gillespie, union leader, guilty and ascertain from the court what disposition would be made of the remaining 35 cases.

West said he was apprised of the subsequent agreement Sunday evening, adding: "I recognized it was not in accord with the agreement at Mr. Van Winkle's office last Wednesday and I further recognized that such a compromise with the defendants in this case necessarily placed the court in a very embarrassing position by reason of the claim of the defense counsel that if Ray Gillespie was sentenced to the state penitentiary and was not paroled, none of the other defendants would plead guilty."

Gillespie received a three-year prison sentence but was immediately paroled. The other defendants received varying jail sentences and were immediately paroled.

West claimed he objected to the subsequent agreement because it would "limit a successful prosecution of the remaining cases."

Van Winkle's assertion that West had "repudiated" his part in the agreement was answered by the district attorney with the statement that "it was ready and willing to lay the entire matter before the court in the manner as previously agreed upon and therefore laying the matter before the court in a just and proper manner without compromising with any of the defendants."

He concluded with the assertion that the outcome of the cases was "the wish of . . . defense counsel and to which I objected throughout all of the conferences . . . The cards were all maced."

West said Gov. Martin to his knowledge never recommended paroles.

MOTOIST GUILTY ON THREE COUNTS

Charges of drunken driving, driving without operator's license and without brakes on his automobile brought an aggregate fine of $115 and a jail sentence of 50 days to Joe J. Cloud Wednesday morning when he appeared before Police Judge Clifton Richmond.

Cloud was arrested at 11 o'clock Tuesday night at 2139 Division street.

James O'Drury was assessed a fine of $100 and given a jail sentence of 40 days Wednesday on a vagrancy charge. Both fine and sentence were suspended by the police judge with the understanding that the defendant leave town at once.

Fines of $10 each or equivalent jail sentences of 5 days each were imposed upon Nick Nash, Beatrice Tupper and Dan Shauansay, all arrested Tuesday on charges of drunkenness.

It is understood transfer of the site would have meant a reallocation of certain costs among the users of the irrigation system.

It is further understood that the decision of the K. I. D. water users in the matter is final, with no line of appeal left open. The landowners of the Enterprise and Pine Grove districts simply asked the landowners of the Klamath district for permission to utilize the C canal drop to their own advantage, and were refused.

COPCO TO CHANGE SERVICE LINE

The California Oregon Power company is changing its service connections at the old Shaw-Bertram lumber plant on Klamath river, in anticipation of the Long Bell Lumber company's operations.

Service will be rendered henceforth from the 11,000 distribution line that covers the territory south of the city. Previously, juice for Shaw-Bertram came from the 66,000 volt transmission line.

Copco is also running an extension to the Shaw Lumber company's box factory and planing mill at Tionesta, in California. Its line heretofore has run to the Shaw mill, and the extension will cover service to the newly installed box factory.

Inside the city, Copco is engaged in replacement of an old water main on Eighth street. This is one of the original mains, and the pipe was first laid in 1905.

Another Copco activity is the construction of a new 40-foot boat, now underway at Shipping. The boat will be launched in about ten days.

Pittsburgh Mayor Loses Election

PITTSBURGH, April 29, (AP)—Pittsburgh's merry-making mayor, William N. McNair lost his fight for a seat in congress on the basis of nearly complete returns from the primary election.

He ran for the democratic nomination in the 32nd Pennsylvania district, but trailed his opponent, Herman P. Eberhart. The vote stood: Eberhart, 7,020; McNair 5,662.

McNair, long at odds with the democratic organization, sought to win independently. Eberhart is the organization's candidate.

Minor Candidates Not Supported

SALEM, April 29, (AP)—John H. Weir, Oregon Townsend club "trouble shooter," counseled members at a meeting here last night to take no part in any campaigns for offices below the "rank of United States senator or congressman."

"These other candidates," he said, "can do the movement no good. Any politician who knows there are 150,000 Townsend members in Oregon will come down to the altar and pray for the movement."

OVER $400 RAISED BY RED CROSS HERE

The Klamath County Red Cross chapter announced Tuesday that a total of $417.75 was raised here for eastern flood relief.

Klamath's original quota was $350. Later the quota was boosted to $525 from national headquarters.

"We are quite satisfied with the showing here," said George Walton, secretary of the chapter. "Klamath people demonstrated their generosity to less fortunate ones elsewhere, and our organization wishes to express our appreciation to them."
