Athletic Future Unsteady

Oregon Schools Short On Support for Heavy Football Program.

Hugh Rosson, who retires as the University of Oregon graduate manager on July 1, has expressed no end of concern over the future of Webfoot sports.

Rosson, in Klamath Falls last week, indicated there are but two possible results of the Pacific Coast conference football policy. The result will either be very good or it will be very bad. Apparently there is to be no half-way compromise.

Last December when the conference officials held their annual meeting in California, a new schedule was organized. It meant that every school, with the exception of Montana and Idaho, would play every other member.

It will be a tough list of games for any team to face, but it will be toughest on Oregon and Oregon State. If the Beavers and the Webfoots turn out to be set-ups for the powerful California schools, then the plan will collapse.

Unless the Oregon team can hold up their ends of the conference, the four California institutions will want to terminate the arrangement and go back to non-conference competition.

A successful showing by Oregon and Oregon State will make the conference one of the most attractive in the country. The record of the past few seasons, however, certainly doesn't promise that Prink Callison and Lon Stiner are suddenly going to step forth and win some championships.

Everybody wants to see the Oregon schools jump into first-class football performances, but the actual support for such ambition isn't great. However, when and if the two schools fall, the discord will be 100 per cent.

Rosson has been a popular and business-like manager. It will be difficult for the university to replace him. He will enter private law practice in Eugene.

TRACK ENTRIES GROW RAPIDLY

Schools Seek Championship in A and B Divisions.

Marvin Albee, chairman of the 20-30 club's annual Southern Oregon-Northern California track and field meet, Thursday estimated at least 225 high school athletes would compete on Modoc field Saturday afternoon.

The meet will get underway Saturday morning with preliminaries in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, discus, shot put, broad jump, javelin, high and low hurdles and high jump. Following the qualifying heats at 10:00 o'clock, the championship events will start at 2:00 o'clock.

The Klamath Pelicans, favorites to win the A championship, will actually only compete against four or five schools. All other entries are listed in the B division. The arrangement was made for the first time this year to give the small high schools a better opportunity to perform. Special trophies and medals will be given in each class.

A and B division athletes will compete in the same events but their points will be scored separately.

The Pelicans, hard at work this week after winning the district championship at Grants Pass last Saturday, will be in competition with Grants Pass, Corvallis, Lakeview and Medford. If the Alturas entry is received this school also will be in the A division.

B division teams include Keno, Merrill, Malin, Chiloquin, Henley, Dorris and Bonanza.

Special exhibitions will be given by Bob Leslie, Joe Enzier and Lee Carey, Oregon State college athletes.

The 20-30 club will hold a track meet luncheon Saturday noon at which John L. Gary of West Linn, secretary of the Oregon state high school athletic association, will be the speaker.

A parade to the field is scheduled for 1:15. There will be a float for the track meet queen and her attendants. The municipal band will be in the line of march.

Although no title will be at stake, the first meeting between these two has created a tremendous interest because no body has found a satisfactory way to dope out the winner.

The prospect of seeing a real scrap already had brought some $40,000 into the Garden's till yesterday and officials were looking forward to a near capacity crowd of around 15,000 and a gate of between $60,000 and $70,000. That would be the largest at a Garden-promoted indoor show since McLarin and Benny Leonard drew a little more than $60,000 in October, 1932.

The fighters wound up their hard work yesterday. McLarin at a New York gym and Tony at his farm up at Mariboro, N. Y., and both were reported in fine condition. Jimmy has been idle since he lost the welter title to Barney Ross last May.

McLarin weighed just 144 pounds when he finished training and Cannonieri is expected to scale 135 Friday.

Bearcats Claim Oregon College Baseball Title

PORTLAND, Ore., May 7. (AP)—Willamette university's 5 to 1 defeat of the University of Portland baseball team gave the Bearcats considerable claim to the state collegiate title today.

Willamette previously defeated Oregon three out of four games and took three straight from Oregon State college. The Bearcats lost but one game in 12 starts.

The defeat was Portland's first in 10 games this season. Two more games have been scheduled tentatively between the Salem nine and the Pilots.

With the score tied at 1-all at the end of the fourth inning yesterday, Weisgerber, Sutton and Harriman crossed the plate to make it 4 to 1 and another two were added for good measure in the ninth by Aden and Heuman.

Carlin gave the Bearcats 9 hits but struck out 11. Gastineau yielded but four blunders. Score: R. H. E. Willamette 6 9 1 Portland 1 4 5 Batteries: Gastineau and Weisgerber; Carlin and Hawkins. Umpire: Joe Nicholson, Portland.

THREE LEADING CLUBS BEATEN

Teams in Second Division Stage Mutiny in Coast League.

(By The Associated Press) Like well trained privates dutifully responding to a command of "squads right about," the Pacific coast league's three last place ball clubs turned in unison and marched right over the circuit's commanding officer and a couple of non-coms.

Or maybe it was mutiny. Sacs Drub Oaks Call it what you want—for the second successive day the lowly Sacramento Solons Wednesday drubbed the league-leading Oakland Acores, 14-4; the last place Angels of Los Angeles scored their season's first shut-out, 16-0, over the San Francisco Seals; and the downtrodden San Diego Padres blanked the third-place Missions 7-0.

Badly out of step, perhaps because it was after dark, the second-place Seattle Indians walked over the Portland Beavers, 3-1. The tribe got only five hits but Steve Larkin forced in one run with a walk in the second and made a walk and a pair of hits count twice in the fifth. Lou Koupal won his seventh game by allowing only seven hits and no bases on ball.

Casey Hurls Victory The prize pitching performance of the day was the work of Hugh Casey, who usually shows in the score sheet as the losing pitcher, when he blanked the Seals with only three singles. Big Wes Schulmerich led the Angel 16-hit attack on little Kenney Sheehan and Lou McEvoy, hanging out three doubles and a single in five times at bat.

Floyd Olds and Jimmy Tobin gave up 18 hits as Branch Rickard's Sacramento batters had a holiday and everybody hit except a pinch hitter. Every Senator scored in the seventh inning.

Ed Wells limited the Missions, who haven't been batting any too well anyway, to five scattered hits for his shut-out. The Padres reached three Red hurlers for 15 safeties.

Beavers Gloomy Over Prospects Against W. S. C.

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 7. (AP)—Grant Swan, Oregon State track coach, sang a sad song concerning the Washington State-Oregon State track meet today. The event is scheduled for Pullman, Wash., Saturday.

"I don't see how we can do much better against Washington State than against Washington," Swan said. The Huskies won from the Beavers 93 to 38.

He did remark, however, that "there will be some close races." The University of Oregon defeated the Cougars 69 1/2 to 61 1/2 last week. Saturday's meet is expected to provide considerable material for forecasting the outcome of the Oregon-Oregon State meet here May 23.

Bumping curbs or striking obstructions with unusual force is likely to jolt the front wheels out of line.

Oregon Staters Split 2 Games With Idaho Nine

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 7. (AP)—The Oregon State college baseball team broke into the victory column in the Pacific coast conference for the first time this year with a 4 to 2 triumph over the University of Idaho Vandals. The visitors took the night-cap yesterday, however, 5 to 4. Oregon State has lost four conference games. Idaho has won two and lost four.

The Staters bunched hits in the fifth frame of the first game to tally all four of their runs. Black, Vandal pitcher, yielded but six walkups to Johnston's line. Four errors contributed to the visitors' defeat.

The second game was all Oregon State until the seventh when Idaho knotted the count at 5-all with a four-run rally. The game was scheduled for seven innings but it was not until the first part of the ninth that Kramer took second on an error and came home for the winning run on Summer's single.

Score: First game: R. H. E. Idaho 2 9 4 O. S. C. 4 6 1 Black and Baldwin; Johnston and Bergstrom. Second game: R. H. E. Idaho 6 13 6 O. S. C. 5 9 4 Pearson, Newton, Black and Baldwin; Cramer, Johnston and Bergstrom.

Plan Submitted For Separation of Sport Program

CORVALLIS, Ore., May 7. (AP)—Intercollegiate athletics at Oregon State college will be administered separate from other student activities, a reorganization committee announced today. The plan will be presented to Dr. F. M. Hunter, chancellor of the university, who approved a similar plan for University of Oregon.

General or educational student activities, such as publications, music, band forensics and dramatics, will be under an advisory council appointed to the president. The educational activities board will be composed of students and faculty representatives. Details of the administration of athletics will be determined later.

All funds will be handled through the business office and will be subject to the usual official audit.

DEAN CAPTURES PITCHING DUEL

Dizzy Defeats Phillies, 3 to 2, by Brilliant Performance.

(By The Associated Press) Although he's adhered firmly to his announced plan of "reforming" this season, Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean has not been able to keep away from games that are almost as dizzy as his nick-name. He is not worrying the Cardinal fans, however, for old Dix is winning at better than his usual rate—four out of five so far.

Since being belted to cover in the season's opener, Dean has evaded defeat by one run margins three times, handed out plenty of hits and still come through. He took an 8-7 game from the Reds though touched for nine hits, beat the Pirates in the tenth, 3-2, and blanked Brooklyn with three hits.

Fine Hurling Seen Wednesday he beat the Phillies 3-2 even though his teammates failed to support his good pitching.

Although the Dean-Walter duel was outstanding in the National league, where slugging marked the triumphs of the Cubs, Giants and Dodgers, there was plenty of fine flinging in the Junior circuit.

Monte Pearson set the pace when he limited the champion Tigers to three blows and took a big part in the slugging that brought the Yanks a 14-3 triumph. Johnny Marcum barred his first complete game for the Red Sox, a seven-hitter that beat the Browns 7-4 for their tenth straight loss. Johnny Alton of Cleveland also hurled seven-hit ball and fanned six to trim the Athletics 7-1 while Ted Lyons of the White Sox outlasted three Washington flingers to gain a 5-1 decision.

Seven elbows participated in the ten inning Giants-Pittsburgh struggle which New York won 6-5 on hits by Jimmy Ripple and Gus Mancuso. Tex Carlson had only a couple of bad innings against the Bees but he finally

Oakland Hurler Leading League

LOS ANGELES, May 7. (AP)—Bill Ludolph, Oakland right-hander, climbed into indisputed leadership of coast league pitchers with six consecutive victories in games played through last Tuesday.

Statistics released today showed Ludolph with an average of 1.000, and Lou Koupal of Seattle, with six games won and one lost, his nearest threat.

Lillard Drops Arrangements for Tuesday's Card

Because of his inability to complete arrangements for the Pete Belcastro-Dude Chick main event, Mack Lillard, Klamath promoter, Thursday announced cancellation of next Tuesday night's wrestling card scheduled for the armory.

The promoter planned to leave for San Francisco this week in an effort to sign new athletes for mat programs here.

While Chick was not available here for next week, Lillard believed it would be possible for him to appear the following Tuesday. Neither Chick nor Belcastro have been defeated in Klamath Falls this season.

Lightweights to Draw Big Crowd On Friday Night

NEW YORK, May 7.
