

RAMSOM SPENT ON HIGH LIVING

Copyright, 1936, by United Press LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13. (UP)—Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., kidnaper of Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, society matron, Tuesday told federal agents that he spent $45,000 of the $50,000 ransom money in night clubs and saloons.

E. J. Connelly of the federal bureau of investigation quoted Robinson, captured last night in Glendale, Cal., as saying: "I spent it all on high living."

Hired Airplane
Connelly granted an interview after grilling the 17-year-old kidnaper the entire afternoon in a downtown office building where department of justice headquarters is located.

Robinson was hurried there as he was hustled out of a plane from the west coast early this afternoon. Connelly said he would be questioned most of the night.

"Robinson told us he had traveled from New York to California," Connelly said. "Several times he used autos and once hired an airplane to make a trip."

"He spent much of his time dressed as a woman and hung out at the fanciest cocktail bars and the swankiest hotels."

Robinson had $2360 of the ransom money on his person when he was captured in the fashionable Glendale home where he was living with a pretty young woman.

"Did Robinson say he spent any of the money on women?" reporters asked Connelly.

"He said it all went for a good time," Connelly replied.

Planned Several Kidnaps
Connelly said Robinson indicated "a willingness to tell us all about the kidnaping and that he committed it."

"He said he mapped several kidnap plans," Connelly said, "but that he finally decided on the one which he carried out. He admitted that he hit Mrs. Stoll with a pipe, threw her in his car and took her to Indianapolis where he kept her for five days before he collected $50,000 ransom for her release."

Plain Talk to Republicans

I think it is your desire to nominate for each office the candidate best qualified. Some of the candidates are doing a tremendous amount of "leg work," ringing door bells, shoving cards, etc. But what of their qualifications? Whose interests are they most anxious to serve?

Look for the facts behind the claims of each candidate. Who is he? What is he? What does he know?

These are all fair questions and you are entitled to know the answers. When you want the facts behind the figures you hire a trained accountant. WHY? Because you know you can trust his findings.

I AM A TRAINED ACCOUNTANT

I have endeavored to tell the public what my qualifications are. I have lived here long enough that people should know whether or not my claims are justified.
