

WASHINGTON CONGRESSMAN IN HOSPITAL

"is to be given a thorough examination."

Ball of Car Bitten
With the detectives on either side of him, Zionscheck, who was dressed in a black and white checked suit and tennis shoes, was marched out of the government hospital and headed toward the detectives' automobile.

"I'm going in my car," shouted Zionscheck, breaking away from one of the officers.

His black roadster was parked a few feet away.

Grabbing the congressman more firmly by his arms, the two detectives, joined by uniformed policemen, hurried Zionscheck into the rear of the police car.

"Look out," yelled Zionscheck, "for these hand grenades."
Highly excited, the congressman grasped a railing on the back of the automobile seat, clenched his teeth and pulled away at the railing.

As the three officers pried his hands loose with considerable difficulty, Zionscheck continued to shout that hand grenades were in the car.

The only objects on the floor were a police electric lantern and a first aid kit.

Exhausted from the struggle, Zionscheck finally fell back against the seat.

The police car, with a motorcycle officer clearing the way, sped down Constitution avenue past the capitol and on to the hospital.

Without resistance, the congressman was led into the institution.

Officials decided on the arrest while Zionscheck was driving around the city looking for his missing bride.

Freak Attracts Attention

This calf's head, exhibited in the window of Murphy's barber shop, has attracted much interest among Main street pedestrians. The calf, born on the Sam DeWinger place, had three eyes, one in the middle of the forehead, as shown in the picture. It had two noses, one lower jaw, one tongue, but two palates. It lived only a few hours. (Herald-News Photo-Engraving.)

final by the supreme court 13 years ago. New York attorneys said, however, their statute took into account the value of services rendered while the district law dealt only with the cost of living in determining the minimum wage.

The majority opinion today held that the law violated the right of private bargaining.

Delivering the dissent, the chief justice asserted that "in the statute before us no unreasonableness appears" and "the end is legitimate and the means appropriate."

"Here," he added, "the special conditions calling for the protection of women, and for the protection of society itself, are abundantly shown."

"The legislation is not less in the interest of the community as a whole than in the interest of the women employees who are paid less than the value of their services."

"That lack must be made good out of the public purse."

"Granted that the burden of the support of women who do not receive a living wage can not be transferred to employers who pay the equivalent of the service they obtain, there is no reason why the burden caused by the failure to pay that equivalent should not be placed upon those who create it."

"The fact that the state can not secure the benefit to society of a living wage for women employees by any enactment which bears unreasonably upon employers does not preclude the state from seeking its objective by means entirely fair both to employers and the women employed."

wrecked at Shady Pine. Blood splattered about indicated someone had been hurt in the accident, but no one was at the scene when the officers sighted the car. The number on the car was that of a license listed in the books as belonging to Mildred O'Malley, 1621 Fremont street, but police did not know if she still owns the car.

riding with Willard, received minor injuries.

Wilbur Simpson and Jim Young were drivers of the two machines involved in the accident with Willard. None of the passengers in the Young car was hurt.

A. J. Williams of Ashland was injured when the car driven by LuVina Williams collided with another operated by Gordon G. Campbell at The Dalles-California highway and Summers lane Sunday afternoon. Williams' wrist was badly cut. A small boy in the Williams car sustained a cut on the chin.

Two Persons Arrested
Miss Williams and Campbell were both arrested on charges of having no operator's licenses. Miss Williams is a student of Southern Oregon Normal, and had a California license. She was instructed by Judge Barnes to get an Oregon license.

Arnold L. Johnson received a minor nose injury when the car he was driving became involved in an accident with another machine operated by Daniel J. Kelley, Oakland, Calif., on South Sixth street Sunday.

Johnson went to pass the Kelley car, but was forced to turn in when he saw another car coming from the opposite direction. The cars were quite badly damaged, investigators reported.

Drunk Driving Charged
Harold R. Curiel was arrested and lodged in the county jail on a drunken driving charge. He was taken into custody on South Sixth street by state police. District Attorney H. C. Blackmer said Curiel was arrested on a similar charge some months ago.

Claude E. Rust of Shasta City, Calif., pleaded guilty to charges of drunken driving before Police Judge Richmond Monday, and was fined $100. A jail sentence of 30 days was suspended.

Rust was arrested at 9:30 o'clock Sunday evening when his machine crashed into an automobile driven by William P. Morande, at Ninth and Pine streets. No injuries resulted from the accident.

James Riddle, arrested Sunday night after allegedly cutting screens on a number of residences on East Main street, sustained bruises and cuts when he jumped out of the police prowl car en route to the city jail.

Riddle was taken to the Klamath Valley hospital for treatment of his injuries, and later removed to the city jail when he was charged with drunk and disorderly conduct.

He was released Monday upon payment of a $15 fine.

Reynolds, Mose, Indian, and another Indian by the name of Butlers were brought to Klamath Valley hospital early Monday afternoon after an automobile accident.

The extent of their injuries had not been determined, but Mose was believed to have a badly hurt neck.
