

Beaver Victory Puts Oaks in Second Place

COAST BATTERS BLAST HURLERS

Caster of Portland Only Pitcher to Last Full Nine Innings.

By The Associated Press
There were plenty of Coast league managers to agree with P. K. Wrigley in the thought, "It seems to be a bad year on pitching all around."

Twenty-one hurlers were called to duty in the four coast games Friday. Only one of that multitude had a good night. He was George Caster of Portland, the only starting pitcher to finish.

Oaks in Second Place

His seven-hit performance dropped Oakland down 13-4 in a second place tie with the Missions and boosted Portland over San Diego into fifth place.

Instrumental in the change of standings was Seattle's eleven inning 7-6 victory over Sacramento, Los Angeles' 9-7 triumph over San Diego, and the Missions' 12-9 win from the San Francisco Seals. The victory sent the Tribe into first place.

Caster was aided by the potent batting of third baseman Fred Bedore and catcher Earl Brucker. Each got three hits, including a homer with one on, driving in nine runs between them. Every Beaver batsman hit but shortstop Dudley Lee, who contributed one of the three errors that gave the Oaks two unearned runs.

Wild Throw Fatal

A wild throw by shortstop Joe Dobbins, over-eager to "cut off" Hank Bonetti at third, decided the Seattle game in the eleventh. He was trying for a double play after fielding Art Hunt's grounder. Fred Miller, Seattle second sacker, hit a foul bagger and two singles in five times up, but was outscored for consistency at bat by Jim Griik, Senator first baseman, who connected four times in five trips to the plate.

A drizzling rain brought out a bevy of errors at San Francisco but didn't stop the Missions from completing three double plays to break up Seals threats. Nor did it stop brilliant young Joe Marty of the Seals from stealing home standing up, much to the surprise of catcher Chuck Outen, and hitting three out of four.

But the rain did furnish some excuse for three Seals errors, two of them by shortstop Hal Rhyne, on which the Reds scored four runs and took the game.

A game just as badly spotted with errors was won for Los Angeles by Cleo Carlisle's ninth-inning homer, scoring Don Hurst ahead of him. Vince Di Maggio brother of the Yankee's phenomenal Joe, homed for the Padres.

Stoddard Among Leading Gunners at State Event

LA GRANDE, Ore., June 6. (AP)—With the state championship decided yesterday, trapshooters gathered here for the annual Oregon shoot began firing today in the major events.

The first half of the state singles championship, the complete junior championship and the La Grande handicap were in progress.

In the class competition yesterday Frank Troeh of Portland missed only one bluecock in 200, to take the class title. Chet Redfield of Portland, who Thursday won the senior skeet title, tied with W. E. Fisher, Tillamook, and N. Y. Stoddard of Klamath Falls, in the class B division, with Fisher winning the shootoff. Each of the trio broke 195.

R. G. Forrester of La Grande, shooting in class C, carried off top honors easily with a 193 score, and Luke Bibby of Heppner, headed the "D" shooters with 182.

The miss-and-out winners by class Friday were: "A," Cal Ray of Marshfield; "B," Earl Graham of Portland; "C," Graydon Davis of Wenatchee, Wash.; "D," Ken Siegrist, La Grande.

Top scores in the 200-bird events Friday included: 199—Frank Troeh of Portland and Robert Poole, Jr., Butte, Mont.; 198—C. D. Ray, Marshfield; E. W. Reinro, Bell, Mont.; Guy Chlesman of Spokane, R. G. Forrester of La Grande, 197—F. H. Neitzel of Boise, E. E. Troeh of Eugene, E. Carstens, Jr., and E. Carstens, Sr., Camano, Calif.; 196—Art Meehan of Spokane, Ray Glass of Eugene, J. B. Troeh of Eugene, James Bogart of Lewiston, Idaho; John Schilke of Spokane, Rex Rich of Lewiston, Idaho, 195—Chet Redfield of Portland, W. E. Fisher of Tillamook, N. Y. Stoddard of Klamath Falls, Graydon Davis of Wenatchee, H. Peterson of Dillon, Mont.

Ray Daughters to Coach Olympic Team

SEATTLE, June 6. (AP)—Ray Daughters, Washington Athletic club swimming coach who develops champions, said "that's great!" when informed last night of his selection to coach the American Olympic team women swimmers for their Berlin invasion this summer.

"It will be a real family party in Berlin," he said, "My four girls and Jack Medina are going to be there and we'll do our best to bring the title to the United States."

Ray's "four girls" are Olive McKean, Doris Buckley, Bette Lea and Mary Lou Petty.

Wrestling Record to Fall in Armory Clash

Klamath Falls' hottest wrestling battle of the year—Bude Chick of Wyoming against Pete Belcastro of Klamath—can't end in anything but a victory for one of the two heavyweight stars.

Signing the undefeated grapplers on a no-time-limit basis, the match will go on until one or the other has suffered the loss of two falls or is unable to continue.

With the defeat of either Dude Chick or Pete Belcastro, a record for straight wins will go into the discard. Belcastro, junior heavyweight champion of the Pacific coast, has not been beaten in Klamath Falls this season. The only blight against his record is a draw with the cowboy two weeks ago.

Chick's record is even better. Since he wrestled his first match here last winter, the Wyoming cowboy has never been beaten.

Most amazing of the whole situation, however, is that Chick has lost but one fall. He was set down by George Wilson in a match that ended in a draw. Later Chick scored a decisive victory over the former University of Washington football ace.

Next Tuesday's clash is the upshot of Belcastro's victory over Cecil McGill of Los Angeles. The junior champion gained the win through the use of unfair tactics. Chick, resentful in the display, immediately issued a public challenge.

After some dickering, Belcastro agreed to all points except the risk of his championship.

Mack Lillard, promoter, said Saturday the brisk sale of tickets thus far indicated a capacity house. An effort will be made to increase the armory's seating capacity.

Although overshadowed by the main event, two one-hour bouts promise some real wrestling action. Bob Kennaston and Al Stecher will open the card, and Ted Christy and Juan Vigario will wrestle the windup.

New Scoring Record Possible for United States Open

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. June 6. (AP)—A new scoring record for the United States open golf championship definitely appeared in the making today over the Baltusrol club course and there lies a story of a combination of fear and fair-play.

Club officials, eager to save themselves from any of the criticism levelled at Oakland's treacherous furrowed traps and "crew haircut" greens, mowed the rough until it looked like some slightly neglected front lawn.

Thus, it seemed, it was in the cards for a lowering of the 29-year old record of 286 made by Charles F. (Chick) Evans, Jr., in 1916 at Minikahda, Minneapolis, and duplicated by Gene Sarazen at Fresh Meadow four years ago.

Barring debacles in form, any one of 13 appeared to have a good chance of turning the trick. Setting the pace at 146, four under par, were a pair of young and shrewd professional shot-makers, tall Vic Ghesel of Deal, N. J., and Ray Mangrum of Dayton, Ohio.

One shot behind were Denny Shute, 1923 winner of the British open crown, Harry Picard, the tournament favorite, Johnny Revolta, American professionalist, and "Light Horse" Harry Cooper, the threatening Chicago star.

Shute was a "dark horse," but the other three loomed as bright bets to succeed Sam Parks Jr., who relinquished the crown yesterday by failure to qualify for the stretch run. Parks totaled 157 for the first two rounds, missing out by one stroke.

Tony Manero, Greensboro, N. C., stood at 143. Ralph Guldahl, the towering, curly-haired 1933 runner-up, and Charles (Chuck) Kocsis, big ten college champion from Michigan and low amateur thus far, were bracketed at 143.

Further down the list and apparently out of the range of the title were Walter Hagen, winner way back in 1914 and 1919, and the veteran MacDonald Smith at 146, and seven other ex-champions; Gene Sarazen at 147; Bill Burke and Johnny Goodman 148; Tommy Armour and John Farrell, 150, and big Clint Dutra and "Chick" Evans, 151.

194—John McMullen of Pendleton, C. L. Smith of Bend, C. A. Gallaway of Green, Idaho; B. A. Griffin of Corvallis, Dr. E. Merrithew of Martins, Calif.; C. R. Follett of Portland and Don Blow of Calgary, Alta.

Indians Defy Death Sunday in Celebration

KELLER, Wash., June 6. (AP)—Indians will spear fish and defy death in a daring downhill pony race here tomorrow in one of the native's last stands against dominance of the white man and his hot dog stands.

Hundreds of tribesmen, their squaws in moccasins and paposes on their backs, were gathered today for the first fishing and rodeo of "Keller Salmon Days."

For the first time in several years, the salmon were reported running up the San Poil river on the celebration date.

Several thousand white spectators to the fishing, rodeo stunts, frontier escapades and daredevil horsemanship are expected tomorrow.

Mutterings of dissatisfaction are reported from the tribal tepees because of the white man's encroachment upon the natives' hot dog stands.

The downhill race is the big attraction. Young braves risk the cracking of a skull or snapping of a leg with as little concern as their wilder forebears. Trained ponies rush and slide headlong down a hill in five minutes which they have climbed by a more circuitous route in two hours.

The celebration originally was the tribesmen's frolic over the salmon catch. It has grown as a popular attraction with a reputation of being one of the most natural of the northwest Indians' performances. Spectators come from afar—even farther than the salmon smelt.

Skating Endorsed as Real Sport

Skating at the Klamath armory, growing in popularity every week, has been generally endorsed as clean, healthful entertainment and exercise, the management said Saturday.

The rink is open Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Matinees are scheduled each Saturday and Sunday afternoons with Saturday night devoted to a carnival event.

Special effort has been made to bring about the best possible conditions. The ventilation has been improved. The skating equipment and instruction is the finest obtainable. Music is played while skating is in progress.

SOX, LOGGERS CLASH SUNDAY

Modoc Field Game Holds Spotlight; Pelicans Play Grants Pass.

SOUTHERN OREGON LEAGUE STANINGS

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Grants Pass	3	1	.750
Glendale	3	1	.750
Red Sox	2	2	.500
Pelicans	0	4	.000

Glendale vs. Red Sox, Modoc field.
Pelicans at Grants Pass.
With the Glendale-Klamath Red Sox embroiling holding the center of the stage, the four Southern Oregon league teams swing into the fifth week of their 12-game schedule next Sunday, opening pitches being slated for 2:30 sharp. The other encounter will see Red Sanders' Pelicans hopping to Grants Pass for a crack at Ken Williams' Merchants, tied at the top of the heap with the Glendale Loggers.

At Klamath Falls, where last year's champion Red Sox tangle with the surprising Glendale Loggers, one of the sweetest pitching duels of the season seems in store for an expected large crowd. Merl Johnson, the young righthander, who shut out the Sox 2-0 two weeks ago at Glendale, will be on the mound for the Loggers with Frank Thompson back of the plate.

Yeremy Francis, Red Sox skipper, will start either Lowell Brown or Clyde Carlstrom in the box and Granger behind the bat. Brown started the Grants Pass game last Sunday, so it will probably be Carlstrom who will attempt to hold the three game winning streak of the Loggers.

To date, Carlstrom has won two games to no defeats, and is pitching better ball than he ever has before.

Batteries for the Grants Pass-Klamath Pelican game will probably be Hardy and Drolette and Oakes and Deering. Last week, Oakes held the Loggers to six hits while his teammates were collecting 10, but errors behind him more than nullified his fine work. If he can turn in as good a performance next Sunday, and his mates give him any kind of support both in the field and at bat, the Pelicans might surprise the league leading Merchants.

Bob Hardy, the sensational young southpaw who is slated to go up next year, will try for his third win of the season. In two starts, winning both, he has allowed only five hits.

Grants Pass early this week announced the signing of Cliff "Chief" McLean, University of Oregon varsity catcher and outfielder and well known in southern Oregon athletic circles, and at the same time announced the release of Nig Blevins, outfielder. McLean, who has been hammering the ball hard in the Coast conference, is expected to strengthen the Merchants. He will play his first game Sunday.

The Southern Oregon league this season boasts a fine crop of pitchers as has been seen for many years. Johnson of Glendale, Hardy of Grants Pass and Carlstrom of the Red Sox have all turned in great performances.

Softball League Meet Scheduled

An organization meeting of softball team managers has been scheduled for next Thursday night, according to Carl Cook, city recreation director.

The session will be held at the Elk hotel, 8:00 o'clock. All organizations interested in entering the league are urged to send representatives.

Play will be at Modoc field under the floodlights.

King Levinsky Scores Victory

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 6. (AP)—Battling scarred King Levinsky, the ex-Chicago kardin salesman, jolted Millionaire Murphy to the canvas nine times before winning a 10 round decision at the Coliseum, Friday.

Levinsky dropped the Miami, Fla., boxer in almost every round, pounding him down three times in the third, yet could not put him away.

Murphy weighed 210, Levinsky 202.

RAINFALL MARS FISHING HOPES

Chamber of Commerce Reports on Roads, Angling Outlook.

With buckets of water falling in the Klamath Basin country Saturday morning, fishermen regarded the weekend outlook with pessimism.

For the information of anglers, here is the road and fishing bulletin issued by the Klamath chamber of commerce:

Crater Lake National Park: The roads into the park by way of the Klamath and Medford entrances are in very good condition to the rim of the lake. The East, or Sand Creek, entrance has been opened but travel is restricted by the Park Service until the road has a chance to dry on this road will probably be open within the next week. The Diamond Lake, or North, entrance is still closed. Accommodations are not available at the lake as yet, but the cafeteria will be open for business beginning Sunday noon, June 7, and meals can be procured there from then on.

Rocky Point: The West Side highway around Upper Klamath Lake to Rocky Point and Fort Klamath is in generally good shape for that type of road. Fishing at Rocky Point in Upper Klamath Lake is very good, many nice catches of Rainbow trout being made there. Best luck is found by trolling with spinners and Andy Reeker wobblers. Accommodations and boats are available at the resort there.

Lake of the Woods: The road from this side into Lake of the Woods will be in good condition for this week-end, as road crews are working on it at the present time. The road around the east side of the lake is also in good shape but the west side road is still muddy and in poor condition, as well as the Dead Indian road. Fishing at Lake of the Woods has been rather poor, due to the fact that the lake is unusually high this year and also because of the cold weather. It should improve if the weather continues to warm up. The resort there is not yet open and probably will not be open for this week-end. However, boats can be rented from Mr. Peck at the south end of the lake.

Fish Lake: They are also working on the road from this side into Fish Lake and it will be in good shape for the week-end. Chains will not be necessary. Fishing at the lake has been just fair the past few days because of the cold weather. Trolling with night crawlers and spinners has produced best results. Still fishing with night crawlers has also been fairly successful. Cabins and boats are available.

Diamond Lake: The road into Diamond Lake from The Dalles-California highway is in very good condition. Fishing is good with limit catches being made regularly, mostly by trolling with small spinners and worms. However, Mrs. Warren, of Midland, caught a five pound, ten ounce Rainbow up there Tuesday morning on a Doc Shelton spinner.

The Diamond Lake resort is open and all accommodations are available.

Odeh Lake: The Willamette highway is being maintained regularly and is in good condition to Odeh Lake lodge. It is closed beyond. Fly fishing at Odeh has been very good, as well as trolling with spinners, some with and some without bait. A Mr. Arnold of this city caught the first Mackinaw of the season up there last week-end. It weighed nine pounds. Mrs. McCollum also caught a nice Dolly Varden, weighing 15 1/2 pounds. Odeh Lake lodge and Summit lodge, on the west side of the lake, are open. The latter can be reached by boat.

Crescent Lake: The side road from the Willamette highway into Crescent Lake is now in good condition. Fishing at the lake is reported good for trolling with spinners. All accommodations are available at the Crescent Lake resort.

Elk Lake: According to last reports, the road is open to the south end of Elk Lake. The resort cannot yet be reached by car but by telephoning ahead and making reservations, Mr. Willcox, the manager of the resort, will meet people at the south end of the lake and convey them to the resort by boat. Accommodations are available at the resort. Fishing is reported very good, mostly with flashers and worms.

The road is open through the Modoc Lava Beds to Medicine

GEHRIG PLAYS 1700 STRAIGHT

Yankee Star Sets Amazing Record for Continual Performance.

By Associated Press
To Lou Gehrig—"Iron Horse Lou," the indestructible infielder—a mere matter of playing in 1,700 straight games without a break, eclipsing anything in the record books, ancient or modern, requires no exceptional baseball ability.

The New York Yankees' glutton-for-punishment first sacker, who started on his second 1,700 Saturday, says it's "just luck"—nothing else—this all-time mark of his.

Record Every Day

But, considering that the man has been in there, getting his daily bats, in spite of broken bones, ripped muscles, lumbago, and any number of other physical beatings through 11 years, there's no denying Lou has plenty on the ball besides a rabbit's foot.

He sets a record every day he shows up on the job. He erased the old endurance mark three years ago, and since then he has been making a new one daily.

Lou celebrated game No. 1,700 Friday with a homer inside the park and a long fly that drove in another run, just enough to hand the Yanks a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. It was a sorely needed win, since the second-place Boston Red Sox stretched their streak to four straight by beating the Chicago White Sox 8-6, and stayed 2 1/2 games back.

The Washington Senators, went into a tie for fourth place with Detroit by downing the world champion Tigers 6-2, while the Athletics and St. Louis were idle.

In the National league, Dizzy Dean won his tenth game—the first big pitcher of the year to turn the trick—as the Cardinals walloped the New York Giants 9-2, thereby increasing their lead to four full games. The slugging Pittsburgh Pirates, a threat in third place, pounded out 23 hits and a 14-8 triumph over the Phillies. The Chicago Cubs also came up with a lop-sided edge, 12-3, over the Brooklyn Dodgers, and the Boston Bees returned to fifth place by a 19-4 win over the Cincinnati Reds.

Rookies Climb in Big League Bat Averages

While both pace-setters—Billy Terry of the Giants in the National league and Billy Sullivan of Cleveland in the American—were losing ground, the rookie clouters both boosted their averages with hitting streaks, connecting for base blows in every game of the week.

Martin, fifth place in the National league a week ago, made 16 hits in 31 times at bat during the week to overhaul such veterans as his teammate Ducky Medwick, Johnny Moore of the Phillies and Baxter Jordan of the Boston Bees, and wind up with an average of even .400, only 29 percentage points back of Terry.

Di Maggio, meantime, had 13 hits in 32 trips to the plate, boosting his average to .382, passing Buddy Lewis of the Senators and Rip Radcliff of the White Sox, and finishing just 24 points behind Sullivan.

The standings of the first ten in each league were generally reshuffled during the week, with Lou Gehrig of the Yankees making the biggest advance, moving up from eighth to fourth place in the American league with an average of .361.

Bay City Fan "Sees" Despite Loss of Sight

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6. (AP)—Blindness plagued Ernest Blumenthal into a colorless world 19 years ago, but he "sees" as many coast league baseball games as the most inveterate fan.

Rarely is he absent from a game at Seals' stadium, to which he is guided by his faithful Shepherd dog, Flout.

"I can tell when a ball is hit on the ground by the dull sound it makes when leaving the bat," he explained. "When it goes in the air it leaves the bat with a smart crack."

"A foul tip makes a peculiar whirring sound."

"I can tell when the play is made at first base by the distance of the sound and the time it takes the fans to shout."

"I can tell when the infield is trying for a double play by the delay necessitated in whipping the ball to second base instead of first base directly."

"I wish you people with sight wouldn't feel sorry for me. I get more kick out of baseball than you do."

Husky Brown Bear Lacks Sportsmanship

SEWARD, Alaska, June 6. (AP)—A. J. Casper of Union, N. J., and his hunting companion, H. A. Benedict, East Orange, N. J., were back from Kodiak island today certain that Kodlak brown bears do not appreciate being given a sporting chance.

They told how Casper, out with a guide, came across a monster asleep, and, deciding to give him a chance, aroused the beast before shooting. The bear—he measured 10 feet 4 inches—reared up and charged Casper. One bullet deflected his charge, but only added to his rage, and it required another to flatten him.

Benedict brought down an 8-foot "brownie" with a single neck shot.

The hunters also brought back 2,500 feet of motion pictures.
