

SCOTTISH RITE REUNION WILL OPEN ON WED.

Scottish Rite Masons of southern Oregon will gather in Klamath Falls next Wednesday for a joint reunion which will continue at the Masonic temple through Friday.

Representatives for major cities and towns in this part of Oregon will attend. Beside the valley districts, Lake county is also included in the territory covered by the reunion.

High officials of the order will be among the guests. It is expected that Louis G. Clark, inspector general from Oregon, will come to Klamath Falls from Portland as well as R. E. Finney, deputy inspector general.

This will be the first general reunion held in Klamath Falls since the institution of the Klamath Lodge of Perfection.

Fifteenth to 32nd degrees will be conferred by the Rose Croix and the Council of Kadosh, both from Medford, and the Medford Consistory.

Degrees will be conferred on about 25 candidates.

Klamath Scottish Rite Masons estimated that from 60 to 100 persons would attend each day. Women of the Presbyterian church will serve luncheons and dinners at the temple. All Scottish Rite Masons are urged to attend the lunches and dinners even though they may be unable to be present at other events.

The reunion marks the start of two important Masonic meetings here. On Saturday the Shrine ceremonial of the Hillah temple will open at the Klamath armory.

Neither man was pushed hard by the competition the sectional meet provided.

Parke's Toss Best of Year

Parke, competing for the San Francisco Olympic club, tossed the javelin 239 feet 7 1/2 inches, the best performance in the United States during this year of the quadrennial Olympiad. Reynolds outdid his best previous performances by putting the shot 51 feet 10 1/2 inches. These were the outstanding performances, but there were others which showed the athletes ready for better marks when they meet again in the far western finals at Los Angeles or in mid-western or eastern meets at which the American team will be chosen for the free ride to Berlin and the battles among the world's best athletes.

Olympic Club Takes Honors

Winners of the first, second and third places here qualified for entrance in the Los Angeles finals late this month.

The meet was held on a warm windless day, with a crowd of about 3,500 watching the athletes run, jump and toss weights around. No official team score was kept, but the Olympic club athletes took whatever team honors there were.

Alaskans 'Stew' in Jammed Convention Hall

Slightly wilted after being transplanted from far north to midwest midsummer heat, but full of convention spirit, the Alaska delegation to the Republican national convocation is shown here, listening intently to the proceedings. Shirt-sleeved, handkerchiefs tucked in collars, and fanning, they offered interesting studies in expressions as they stewed in the sweltering hall.

Outstanding Marks Recorded At Stanford Olympic Tryout

ANGELL FIELD, STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., June 15. (U.P.)—Four performances which ranked with the best on the American continent this year were produced by outstanding western athletes Saturday in the sectional tryouts for the American Olympic team on Stanford's Angell field.

Benjamin "Bangs" Eastman, holder of the world's middle distance records; Archie Williams, the great University of California Negro; Bob Parke, former Oregonian, returning to competition after a year's lay-off, and curly-haired Jim Reynolds, Stanford weight man, topped the 100 athletes who bid for places here.

Victories Easy

Showing himself ready for races which may produce new world marks, Eastman, tall, slender blonde, outclassed his field in the 800 meters run to win the event in 1 minute 50.5 seconds, the fastest on the 1936 records. Williams, who arose only this year to become a powerful challenger of bespectacled Eastman at the middle distances, came within one-tenth of a second of tying the world mark in the 440 meters with a 45.3 second performance.

State Commander Here on Wednesday

Dwight E. Alderman, Oregon commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and members of his staff will be present at the next regular meeting of Pelican Post No. 1353, being held Wednesday in I. O. O. F. west hall. District Commander E. B. Hall of Bend and his staff will also be present for the occasion. Following the business session, a banquet will be held at the Midway Inn. All members are urged to be present. Wives as well as members are invited to participate at the banquet.

Log Truck Trailer Injures Two Men

DORRIS, Cal., June 15.—Paul Winfield and Ray Thibaderan of Dorris received serious injuries Friday evening when a trailer broke loose from a logging truck on a Dorris street and crashed directly into them as they walked home from work.

Winfield suffered a severe cut on the head and concussion of the brain, as well as a badly hurt hand, side and foot. Thibaderan sustained a back injury and a serious leg injury.

LEAVING FOR EAST

After a successful six-year record as regional sales manager of the National Biscuit company, W. S. Warner leaves the Pacific coast this week for New York to become assistant sales manager of the company. He has had many friends here because of frequent visits during the past few years.

LIVING STANDARDS WILL BE STUDIED

TULELAKE, Calif.—A comparative study of the standards of living of residents of rural communities is being conducted by the bureau of agricultural economics under direction of Dr. Charles Loomis, senior economist in 11 widely separated states, and as part of the program the Tulelake reclamation area, listed as the most widely publicized area on the Pacific slope at the present time, is included in the survey.

Dr. Glenn A. Bakkum, chairman of the department of sociology of the Oregon State college, Corvallis, assisted by Dr. Lyman White, research supervisor; Walter Smith, Kelley Robinette and Harold Tefft, will, in the next month, visit homes of the district to present questionnaires pertaining to living standards.

The tests cover use of modern household and farming equipment, financial problems, size of families and other questions that will permit of a detailed report on the actual standards of living among rural people.

Dr. Bakkum emphasized the fact that those visited need have no apprehension that the data listed is of a personal nature. Names are listed only as a means of checking and none of the data gathered is made public either here or at headquarters at Washington.

No selection of homes will be made, the community being covered generally to give an accurate rating for the district and to give as clear a picture as possible of the rural living standard.

The plans call for a second survey in perhaps 10 years, when financial and material changes in the same district will be compared with the figures of the present survey.

Purpose of the survey is to give a clearer understanding of problems that the rural resident has to meet to administrators, lawmakers and the general public.

If families interviewed are interested in knowing the results of their personal tabulation, they may call on Dr. Bakkum, he stated in an interview Friday, and read for themselves their rating.

The survey group is located in Tulelake.

Mama, Papa Dionne Expect Birth of 12th Child Within Period of Next Two Weeks

Copyright, 1936, by United Press.

CALLANDER, Ont., June 15. (U.P.)—The parents of the quintuplets, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne, are expecting another child, their twelfth, within a fortnight, the United Press learned today. J. Legros, French-Canadian father of the plump Mrs. Dionne, said the baby was expected possibly as early as Monday and not later than the end of this month. The Dionnes and the five other living children besides the quintuplets, are quarantined at their home with the measles. The quintuplets are at the Dafoe hospital across the road from the parents' home.

Leon Legros, brother of Mrs. Dionne, has gone to the farmhouse to help Oliva with the work until the baby comes.

Legros said that because of the quarantine he had not seen his daughter since Sunday, but that he had been fully advised as to the imminent birth of another child to Mr. Dionne. Two of the elder children, Rose and Ernest, are ill with measles.

"The new baby may be here as early as Monday," he said, "but it is hard to say exactly when. I think there is no doubt it will arrive before the end of the month."

Mrs. Dionne, who gave birth to the quintuplets on May 28, 1934, could not be reached for comment. Her husband, who has adopted an attitude of stubborn silence to questions regarding the expected birth, refused to talk.

Physician Silent

Dr. M. G. Ranney, selected by Dionne as family physician after he disagreed with Dr. Allan R. Dafoe, who attended Mrs. Dionne when the quintuplets were born, said he had not been consulted by her "yet."

"It is interesting," Dr. Dafoe said when told of the report at Toronto where he is a judge in a newspaper contest to select Canada's most beautiful child. He declined further comment.

It was understood Mrs. Dionne would remain at her farm home for the birth as she did when the quintuplets were born.

There was no indication the Ontario government would lend financial aid to the Dionnes.

Dionne broke with Dr. Dafoe when he sided with the government in keeping the quintuplets from their parents' control.

The government allots $100 a month to the parents.

The eldest Dionne child, Ernest, is nine years old. The youngest, other than the quintuplets, is three. One of the children, Leo, who was born in October, 1930, died from pneumonia at the age of one month.

Vacation School in Second Week

The daily vacation Bible school, held under the auspices of the Klamath Falls Ministerial association, opened the second week of the school Monday morning with an increased enrollment.

The school, in two main divisions, will continue throughout the week, beginning each day at 9 a. m. and closing at noon. The east side division is housed in the Congregational and Nazarene churches and the central division is housed in the Presbyterian and Christian churches. The program each day includes worship, Bible study, religious drama and crafts, with an interesting Bible story each day. Diplomas will be given and a picnic will be held for those in regular attendance at the school which will close with Friday of this week.
