Yes, Purity has a FLAVOR!

"Must be aged 3 months," says the Federal definition of a "lager beer."

But Rainier goes beyond this definition. Not only is it aged more than 3 months, but is protected for purity—no artificial coloring, no artificial flavoring, no artificial coloring, no artificial foam-producer!

Entirely natural—perfectly pure—real and true Lager beer. And you can actually taste that goodness.

AIDS SLEEP

Leading physicians say such beer aids in cases of sleeplessness, nervousness, indigestion, bad complexion and low body-tones!

Try Rainier for its pure flavor; and its healthfulness, if your doctor agrees. Don't say "beer," say "Rainier."
