

FISHING MEASURE CIRCULATED HERE

Initiative petitions for a bill bearing the title "A Bill Forbidding Columbia River Fishing With Seine and Fixed Ap-" pliances" was in circulation in Klamath county Friday. The circulation of the measure proposed for the November ballot was directed by E. A. Stovik, Astoria, executive secretary of the Columbia River Fishermen's Protective Union. Stovik pointed out that a similar measure has been passed by the Washington legislature and is now in effect on the north side of the Columbia river. The Astoria man said the purpose of the measure was to conserve the third largest industry in the state by saving small and young fish killed by small mesh seines. Through the passage of the bill, he said, only mature fish would be taken. A resolution supporting the measure was introduced at the labor convention here last week.

DEATH DODGERS BILLED AT MALIN

MALIN, Ore.—Malin Legion post has signed a contract with entertainers of the Death Dodgers Thrill circus as an added attraction for the Fourth of July rodeo program. It was announced Tuesday. Performers of the daredevil group will exhibit their apparently impossible feats on the afternoon of July 4, 5, in connection with the regular rodeo program.

Motorcyclists will crash huge plate glass barriers and heavy board walls with no protection except the handle bars of the speeding machines and a football helmet. Floating balloons will be shot by riders standing on their heads on machines in motion, and the program also includes the outside slide, when a performer steps backward from the bumper of a car moving 60 miles an hour. Tentative plans include a head-on crash between two cars moving 35 miles an hour, resulting in a 70-mile-an-hour impact. This feature depends on the success of the Legion in locating two cars for the crash. Work is being rushed on the new structures on the rodeo grounds, and livestock is expected to begin arriving in the near future from Seaside for the rodeo events. One of the best strings of bucking horses in the district has been obtained, and the animals, seasoned rodeo performers, are expected to give some hair-raising exhibitions. The Legion is negotiating for carnival attractions and street concessions will be placed at advantageous places. Dances are scheduled for the evenings of July 3, 4, and 5.

RAIN AGAIN MARS FISHING OUTLOOK

PORTLAND, June 19 (AP)—The weather continued to prove no friend of the fisherman the past week. The report today of the state game commission said heavy rains raised most streams so much that prospects for fishing ranged from none at all to only fair. Lane county reported the best fishing in the McKenzie river, where trout are rising to flies. Western Douglas county also is providing fair catches. Downpours in the Hood River section have made all streams unfavorable and the Deschutes river is clear but high. In Coos and Curry counties, the water is clear for good fishing although high and the Rogue river in Josephine county holds little hope for the angler. The best prospect in Clatsop county are Gual, Big, Bear and Klaskanine creeks. Conditions are better in Tillamook and Lincoln counties, with some good catches being made in the Nehalem river near the falls and in the Kitchess river. Trout fishing above the state hatchery on the Trask was described as good. Central Oregon lakes were providing only a small number of catches.

OREGON WEATHER SLOWS DOWN SALES

PORTLAND, June 19 (AP)—The weather slowed down the advance of 1936 retail sales here over 1935 in the past week, Dun & Bradstreet said today. Rains cut the margin of gain to 4 or 5 per cent and rural wholesale trade also fell off beyond expectations. Shipments of cherries have fallen off greatly and the outlook is only fair. The report said farm implement trade continued to be outstanding with the average increase ranging from 35 to 40 per cent over 1935. Manufacturers of garments prepared for a fall and winter production at least 25 per cent greater than 1935. Collections continued fair.
