humor were told Saturday in tribute to his memory.

"There was a side to Mr. Gordon that not many knew about," said one of his friends. "He helped many a young man start in business, keeping far in the background."

The banker's hobby was birds, and he established an aviary in his home on Erie street. Realizing that his health was failing, he recently gave away all of his birds.

The remains were taken to the Earl Whitlock funeral home, where announcement of funeral arrangements will be made later. He is survived by his wife, Charlotte, and a daughter, Hope.

C. E. SOCIETIES MEET ON SUNDAY

Christian Endeavor societies of Klamath Falls will convene for a union meeting Sunday evening, in the Community Congregational church at 6:30 o'clock.

This is the first union meeting of Christian Endeavor held in several years, and it is the desire of the committee in charge that the meeting be well attended.

State officers of the organization in carrying out the new Endeavor program based upon the theme "We Choose Christ," have arranged a series of meetings to be used throughout the year and the Sunday evening service is the second of these meetings for the quarter.

Una Hicks, state quiet hour superintendent, has planned this service for the state program and will take charge of the union service.

Representatives from the four societies of Klamath Falls churches will give short talks, as well as special musical numbers.

While the meeting is primarily for young people, all others who are interested are cordially invited to attend the service.

Highway Status Held Disadvantage

City north. That is just north of Klamath Falls.

A bad spot on the road, however, is farther north, beyond Modoc Point, where the highway surface breaks down every winter. There is now some talk of doing work first in that section.

Plans for that part of the highway call for re-alignment which will take the road north along the east side of the Southern Pacific tracks, instead of crossing at Modoc Point, as at present. It will cut across the tracks at Lobert, and then head toward Klamath Agency.

FORD V-8 ECONOMY MEANS HIGH "Dollar Mileage" [MORE MILES PER DOLLAR]

NO MATTER how you classify your expenditures for car up-keep—it's your total expenditure that counts. How much "dollar mileage" is your car giving you?

Dollars do go farther in the Ford V-8. Modern improved carburetion gives you unusual gasoline mileage with brilliant V-8 performance. Most owners of today's Ford change oil only at 2000-mile intervals and never add a drop between changes. And after the first few thousand miles you know what Ford V-8 "dollar mileage" really means.

It gives you more miles per dollar because it gives you all-round economy—low first cost, low up-keep cost, low depreciation and long life—as well as low gasoline and oil consumption. All these help to make the Ford V-8 the most economical car.
