

Weimer Wins President's Cup Tournament

WEBB KENNETT DROPS FINALS

Victor Travels Reames Course in 79 to Win 6 and 5.

Earl (Tiny) Weimer took possession of the President's cup after defeating Webb Kennett Sunday morning at the Reames Golf and Country Club.

The gangling Weyerhaeuser superintendent boomed around the 18 holes in 79. He defeated Kennett, who was off his game, 6 and 5.

Weimer's stellar golfing this year was illustrated Saturday, the day before the match, when he cracked a 74.

His score for the final cup match, by holes:

In	553	645	344-39
Out	555	344-40

Weimer succeeds Norval Jones as possessor of the President's cup. The trophy will be Weimer's this year, but he must defend it against all comers next year.

Playing conditions at the country club were ideal Sunday, and a large number of golfers, both men and women, played the course.

Father, Son in Trot Tilt

Father and son will battle each other in the Hambletonian harness horse classic at Goshen, N. Y., this summer. Twenty-one-year-old Gibson White, left, owner of the favorite, Rosalind, center, will pilot the horse against his father, Ben F., right, in the sulky behind Rosette.

RED SOX LOSE TO GLENDALE

Loggers Stop Klamath Team 6 to 5 in Valley Game.

Before one of the largest crowds assembled to witness a ball game in Glendale this season, the Klamath Red Sox went down to defeat Sunday at the hands of the Glendale Loggers by the score of 6-5.

Johnson, fireball pitcher for Glendale, not only held the Sox to seven blows, but batted in the winning run for his team.

The Klamath boys scored two runs in the second inning when Bernadou went to first on Thompson's error. Martin singled and both Bernadou and Martin scored on Carlstrom's hot one through the infield.

Both teams scored one run apiece in the sixth. For the Sox, Carlstrom singled, was sacrificed to second by Brooks, and scored on a Glendale error. The Loggers were hit when Neathammer was hit by a pitched ball, making the circuit safely on Thompson's single and scoring on the Sox' only error of the day. The end of the sixth showed a tie score of 5-5.

In the next three times at bat the Sox were held hitless by Johnson, Glendale hurler, who pitched stellar ball. The Loggers were more fortunate, however, when Carlstrom for two doublings in the ninth, scoring the winning run. Neathammer doubled, was sacrificed to third by Phillips, and scored on Johnson's double.

Two Players Hurt

The Sox were handicapped by injuries from the fifth inning on. Wheeler, Klamath shortstop, injured an ankle when sliding into base. Martin, Sox outfielder, wrenched his back badly while base-running earlier in the game. Both players were replaced by substitutes.

Carlstrom, Klamath pitcher, led his teammates in hitting for the night, securing three safe blows in four trips to the plate. Martin hit safely two out of three times up.

Bonanza Cubs Down Klamath in CCC League

Camp Bonanza Cubs won 10 to 8 over Camp Klamath at Merrill in the second game of the Klamath CCC league. It was the second win out of two games played.

Lefty Boudreau got 13 strikeouts.

Wally Wallace got four hits out of five times at bat, bringing in three runs.

Haley got two hits, bringing in two runs.

Hugh Hayes played a remarkable game at shortstop, assisting in three put-outs at first and one double play.

CUBS CAPTURE FIRST PLACE

Chicago Defeats Giants Twice While Cards Lose.

By Associated Press

Well, the boys from Chicago have gone and done it.

One month and four days after signing up the extra starting pitcher or they needed, the Cubs are back on top of the National league heap, after a drive that came close to paralleling the sky-rocketing spurt with which they wound up with the pennant a year ago.

The laugh they handed the experts who said the gas house gang from St. Louis was the only outfit in the race drew a lot of echoes today, for the Cardinals were knocked out of first place by the one outfit you'd never expect to turn the trick—the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Robins Land on Dean

White Larry French and Bill Lee were shutting out the Giants on behalf of the Cubs Sunday, 3-0 and 6-0. Casey Stengel's boys landed on Dizzy Dean like a ton of bricks, batted him all over the lot, and turned in a 5-1 victory that blew the Cards right out of the lead.

And, although Manager Charley Grimm has often said that it's the pilot pacing the parade who has to do the worrying, just where his fretting can begin is hard to see. It seems to have ended when the Cubs took over Curt Diers from the Phillies, for since his arrival in late May, bolstering the pitching staff, the Cubs have gone to town at a better than .750 pace, winning 23 of 31 ball games.

Yanks, Browns Split

Their double win over the Giants Sunday shot the New York-ers out of a third-place deadlock with the Pirates, for the Bucs, with Cy Blanton turning in a fourth-inning trick, belted the Bees in the opener of a twin bill, 11-2, and held onto their third position, despite a 6-4 trimming in the nightcap. The Reds, idle because of rain in Philadelphia, were only a game back of the Giants, in fifth place, when the day's war-rings was over.

In the American league, the New York Yankees' home-run battering was more or less stilled for a day, and the lowly St. Louis Browns split a double-header by doing some long range clouting of their own to win the opener, 6-3, after which "murderer" Covey took the nightcap, 7-4. The Tigers and Indians kept on in their third-place deadlock, the former shelling the Athletics 10 to 4 for their fourth straight victory, while the Tribe was turning the trick again on the apparently "frightening" gold-plated Boston Red Sox, 11-3.

PELICANS GIVE G. P. BATTLE

Although making one of their strongest stands of the season, the Klamath Pelicans dropped their eighth straight game in the Southern Oregon league to Grants Pass Sunday on Modoc field.

The score was 9 to 8.

Since the Klamath Red Sox bowed to the Glendale Loggers in the valley, the result of the Modoc field contest left the Merchants in sole possession of first place.

Teams Compete in Rifle Match

Eight teams competed under exceptionally good conditions and turned in many fine scores at the Southern Oregon-Northern California Rifle league shoot held at Weed Sunday.

Twenty-two caliber rifles were used with many marksmen favoring telescope sights in preference to the sights furnished by the rifle manufacturer. Such sights add materially to the weight of the guns but do much to improve scores.

Scores for the day were:

Merrill	1779
Medford No. 1	1941
Medford No. 2	1902
Klamath Falls	1913
Weed	1921
Langell Valley	1731
Yreka	1952

The next shoot to be held at Medford July 26.

Paddock Raps Management of Olympic Trials

PASADENA, June 29. (AP)—Sharp criticism of local A. A. U. officials and their management of the far western Olympic track and field tryouts was made today by Charles W. Paddock, once the "fastest human" in the world.

In his newspaper column appearing in the Pasadena Star-News and Long Beach Press Telegram today, Paddock, always a severe critic of the A. A. U., led off with the statement:

"Shooting is too good for those officials of the western Olympic tryouts staged at the Los Angeles coliseum * * * who state, 'there was a deficit. The expenses ate up the gate receipts. Even if they had not, the profits would have gone to the American Olympic committee to defray expenses of the trip from New York to Berlin and not one cent would have been used toward financing the winners of the Los Angeles trials to New York.'"

"If the spectators had known and the athletes had thought that the gate receipts were not to be used to defray their expenses, the spectators for the most part would not have been present and virtually all the athletes could have arranged one way or other to compete in another section of the country."

Paddock charged the meet was mismanaged by "A. A. U. officials who do not know how to run meets," and added that "people wanted to help, but the A. A. U. as always, knew too much."

America Well-Equipped for Berlin Olympic Games

NEW YORK, June 29. (AP) All that the United States needs to do now, so far as Olympic track and field prospects are concerned, is to keep its fingers crossed, the fur western Olympic track and field tryouts were made today by Charles W. Paddock, once the "fastest human" in the world.

In his newspaper column appearing in the Pasadena Star-News and Long Beach Press Telegram today, Paddock, always a severe critic of the A. A. U., led off with the statement:

"Shooting is too good for those officials of the western Olympic tryouts staged at the Los Angeles coliseum * * * who state, 'there was a deficit. The expenses ate up the gate receipts. Even if they had not, the profits would have gone to the American Olympic committee to defray expenses of the trip from New York to Berlin and not one cent would have been used toward financing the winners of the Los Angeles trials to New York.'"

Paddock charged the meet was mismanaged by "A. A. U. officials who do not know how to run meets," and added that "people wanted to help, but the A. A. U. as always, knew too much."

Decathlon Record Broken

College athletes in general and Californians in particular dominated the survivors of the semi-final tryouts, although every section of the United States has favorites primed for the decisive Olympic tests. The N. C. A. A. meet, week before last at Chicago, produced most of the world record feats, including 10.2 in 100 meters for Jesse Owens, Ohio State's triple Olympic threat, 14.1 in the 110 meter hurdles by Forrest (Spec) Towns, great Georgia timber topper; 46.1 in the 400 meter run by Archie Williams, California negro; and 173 feet in the discus by Ken Carpenter of southern California.

The outstanding record performance over the last week-end was that of Glen Morris, 24-year-old Denver automobile salesman, in the Decathlon final tryouts at Milwaukee. Morris, a new comer to the all-round spotlight this year, amassed 7,830 points in the ten-event test to break the world mark of 7,824.5, made in 1934 by the German, Hans Sievert.

Pelican Bay, Espree Capture League Battles

Southern Pacific and Pelican Bay scored decisive victories in the Crater Lake league Sunday.

Southern Pacific, winning its second league contest of the year, romped on Algona to the tune of 24 to 4. The game was played on the Algona field.

Pelican Bay blasted Modoc Point, 16 to 3. The contest, played at the Pelican Bay field, was seven innings by agreement. E. James and H. James formed the battery combination for the winners. Norman pitched and Law caught for Modoc Point.

Two Teams Tied for First Place

By The Associated Press

The Salem Senators and the Hop Gold Keggies topped the Oregon State baseball league today.

Salem beat Woodburn 12 to 0; Hop Gold measured Albany 7 to 5, and Bend—hard-luck team of the league—gained ground by dropping Toledo from the lead with a 4 to 3 decision, in yesterday's games.

Seattle Reposes Once More at Top of Coast League

By The Associated Press

A new league leader, dizzy scorekeepers and tired pitchers were left in the wake of week-end coast league ball games, many of them reminiscent of Olympic games track trials.

After a fruitful week against San Francisco's Seals, Seattle reposed in first place, while the Missions, leaders last Thursday, were faced with a fight to stay in fourth place.

Batters went on a two-day spree and cuffed pitchers unmercifully, with Oakland's 27-6 victory Saturday over the Reds the highlight. The Oaks got 39 hits Saturday, while over the league the total was 193.

In Sunday doubleheaders, there were a few low-scoring games, but batters managed to pole out 162 hits. In spite of Oakland's unusual feat of finding Mission pitchers for 108 hits during the series, Manager Bill Meyer's men had to relinquish the league lead to Seattle, who lost only a single game all week.

The Indians took two from the Seals Sunday, 6-2, 7-3. Oakland split with the Reds, copping the first game, 10-3, and losing the seven-inning finale 4-8. Los Angeles and Portland divided, the Beavers winning the opener, 4-3, and dropping the nightcap, 1-2. San Diego took the first game against Sacramento, 14-7, but the Solons won the second 4-3, in eight innings.

Home runs by Freddie Muller and Glenn Wright accounted for three triple runs in the first game, and Jerry Donovan's fourth batter featured the second contest. Joe Marty homed for the Seals.

Wes Schulmerich's three-run overthrow of third gave Portland its win over Los Angeles, but the Beavers couldn't do anything with Ray Price in the second contest. The Angels clinched the game with a five-run outburst in the sixth.

Laffoon, Hagen Win Golf Purse

TOLEDO, O., June 29. (AP)—Walter Laffoon of Chicago and Kay Hagen, the master of the links, were honored Sunday to-day, $1,100 richer as the result of a thrilling win in the $4,600 Inverness invitational four-ball tourney.

Hagen clinched the victory on the final green yesterday afternoon with a short putt to halve the hole with Ray Mangrum of Dayton and Craig Wood of Deal, N. J., who landed in second place.

Sixteen of the nation's leading professionals battled through seven 18-hole matches, all eight pairs meeting all others.

Three eagles and 363 birdies were scored during the four-day meet. Hagen slipped in with 28 of the birdies and one of the eagles. Of the 36 holes won by his team in the seven matches, Hagen won 21 and Laffoon 15.

Several pairs of the Brazilian bundle-nester birds build one nest and occupy it together.

New Wrestler Threatens to Break Winning Streak

The unmarried wrestling record by Cowboy Dude Chick, one of the leading contenders of the junior heavyweight wrestling championship, will be challenged at the armory Tuesday night.

The challenge will come from Charlie Carr, rugged wrestler from Mississippi. Carr, rough, aggressive and experienced, is expected to give the cowboy from Wyoming as hard a match as he has faced in Klamath Falls.

Although held twice to draws, Chick has never lost a match in Klamath Falls. He has wrestled 13 since early in the year.

This main event will mark the temporary shutdown of the wrestling program. No match will be held next Tuesday, July 7, following the close of the Fourth of July celebration.

Mack Lillard, promoter, announced one change in Tuesday night's card.

Frankie Peck, San Francisco heavyweight, will be unable to appear against Bobby Chick, the cowboy's brother. Peck's mother died a few days ago in his bay city.

As a substitute for Peck in the opening match, Lillard has signed Al Stecher, veteran from Canada. Stecher, who recently gave Dude a hard match before losing, will meet Bobby in the one-hour opener. He will be a slight favorite. Bobby wrestled here for the first time last week and was successful in stopping Juan Vigarito.

Title Taken by Seattle Golfer

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 29. (AP)—Harry Givns, Seattle, today held the Pacific Northwest golf title, after his 8 and 7 victory over Jimmy Robertson, Vancouver, in Saturday's 36-hole final.

The crown was vacated by Albert "Scotty" Campbell, who was given a berth yesterday on Seattle's team at the national public links championship at Farmingdale, Long Island, N. Y.

Miss Marion McDougall, Portland, won the women's title by defeating Miss Florence Sellers, also of Portland, in the finals, one up.

State Baseball Tourney Opens at Beaver Park

PORTLAND, Ore., June 29. (AP)—Ambitious youngsters, sprinkled with veterans who have had their fling in professional baseball, will go into action as the first annual Oregon State semi-professional baseball tournament opens here tonight.

The Journal meets Toledo at 7 o'clock and Hiltz-Weinhard clashes with Cornelius at 8:30.

The 16 teams entered were permitted to bolster their rosters with the pick of players on teams not participating, with the result that some of the strongest semi-pro teams ever to perform in the state have been assembled.

Since the games will be under the big arc lights at Vaughn street park, the pitchers were expected to have a slight advantage over the batsmen.
