

CONFLICT SEEN BETWEEN U. S. INVESTIGATORS

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—Secret service agents at Chicago and St. Paul were ordered today to come here at once for questioning on reports that they were investigating activities of G-men in the Midwest.

This disclosure was made following Attorney General Cummings' assertion "There has been some activity, in respect, of an ill-advised nature." The secret service is part of the treasury department, the G-men—special agents of the federal bureau of investigation—of the justice department.

Asserting he had talked over the matter with Joseph Murphy, assistant secret service chief, W. H. McTeignolds, assistant to Secretary Morgenthau at the treasury, said "We are all horrified about this."

"Murphy said he was horrified," McTeignolds asserted, "to learn that anything he might have said had been misconstrued by the agents."

"Anything that was done by these agents was without our knowledge and permission. Apparently it was just curiosity on the part of several of the men. The secret service has no authority whatever to be engaging in such investigations."

McTeignolds said he discussed the matter with Murphy by telephone to Los Angeles. It was understood Murphy was returning to Washington in connection with the matter.

Secretary Morgenthau was not in the city.

A possible reprimand confronts one or two of the secret service agents, McTeignolds indicated, while reiterating previous denials that any official investigation of the justice department men was underway.

"No treasury agency is privileged to investigate the activities of another department," McTeignolds said. "That isn't our business."

Hard feelings between the two famous organizations burst into the open today with reports—and denials—that the secret service was investigating the G-men.

The reports have been current for some time, but not until now have they drawn official comment. They hark back to the last session of congress, when there was an argument as to whether the G-men were spending too much money and whether too many persons were being shot in the war on crime.

The first official intimation of the tenseness between the rival services came yesterday when Attorney General Cummings threw out a veiled warning that unnamed persons had better not try to get the scalp of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the justice agents and a subordinate of Cummings.

You'd Recognize Their Name—

So camera-shy that you know their names much better than their faces, Mrs. Abby Rockefeller Milton (left) and her mother, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., are two of the least photographed of wealthy women. They submitted to the lens at Versailles, France, where they inspected the famous palace restored by a Rockefeller grant of $2,333,333.

DOUBLE EXECUTION SET AT SING SING

OSSENING, N. Y., July 16. (AP)—Sing Sing prison officials made preparations today for the double execution of the convicted poison slayers of Mrs. Ada Applegate. They believe they may have to carry Mrs. Frances Creighton from her cell to the electric chair.

The 36-year-old woman, scheduled to die sometime tonight, probably about 10 o'clock (EST), with Everett C. Applegate, husband of the slain woman, ate practically nothing for breakfast after a restless night.

Prison officials decided that Applegate should die first, reversing the usual procedure of deferring the electrocution of the stronger until the last.

If the electrocution is not stayed by action of Governor Lehman or court order, prison attaches indicated Mrs. Creighton probably will be removed from her cell, where she has been bedridden for eight days, to the death chamber in a wheel chair. They also considered having prison attendants carry her.

Suffering from hysteria and insisting she is unable to walk, Mrs. Creighton had not been advised of the report of the special commission, appointed by the governor that "her condition is the reaction to the situation in which she finds herself," and that there was no evidence of disease.

Mutilation Case Held Baseless

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—Detective Chief Bernard W. Thompson today termed "absolutely groundless" the story of red-haired Jean Bell that she was mutilated and left to die in a gas-filled apartment here by New York gangsters.

Thompson issued a statement to reporters after Joe Silvers and Leo Maimone, New Yorkers, had been freed by a United States commissioner from charges of mutilating the girl. They pleaded innocent when arraigned.

Release of Silvers and Maimone followed failure of the girl to identify them. She charged she was a victim of a New York vice ring and that the two men were her torturers.

There are no deer native to Australia or New Zealand, but when they were introduced from England, they multiplied very rapidly, until now New Zealand is said to have at least 10,000 red deer.

Needs of Irrigation Cited by Civil Engineers

PORTLAND, Ore., July 16. (AP)—A picture of possible scarcity unless irrigation places additional land in production to keep pace with the nation's growing population confronted the American Society of Civil Engineers today.

J. W. Haw, railroad agricultural director of St. Paul, Minn., told delegates more than 3,000,000 more acres of vegetables, fruit and sugar beets will be necessary for the 141,000,000 persons estimated as the population of the United States in 1961.

Haw urged viewing irrigation from a national standpoint and contended that "western irrigated agriculture is complementary to and supplementary to established agriculture in the humid areas."

"It is a mistake to characterize it as competitive with farming in the east, south and midwest."

In another section at the 66th annual convention of the national engineering group, Colonel T. M. Robins, United States engineer of the north Pacific division, envisioned a rapid growth of shipping on the Columbia river.

Robins, in commenting that Columbia river boat service now handles 85,000 tons a year, said "it is reasonable to estimate prospective commerce on an improved river above The Dalles at 1,500,000 tons annually with saving in transportation cost of 50 per cent."

er and family, the Luther Burns. Mrs. Lela Murray has returned from a trip to Grants Pass and vicinity.

Mrs. Alice Berger and Mrs. Florence Pappas visited Mrs. C. W. Dearborn and Mrs. Mary Dearborn Monday.

Mrs. Warren Kilgore and sons, have moved down from Clear lake to their ranch for the summer.

Rillie Harris has been ill, but is much improved.

Hazel Marchant returned to her home after helping at the C. W. Dearborn ranch during hayting.

The pump house on the Sewall ranch burned down early Friday morning.

Mrs. Alfred Duncan visited with Mrs. Les Leavitt Wednesday.

Mrs. Katherine Dwyer and Roger have returned to Merrill, after spending several weeks with Mrs. Naomi Pepple.

Mrs. Anna Gift returned to her home in Eureka, after spending several weeks with her son and family, the Lloyd Gifts.

Mrs. Gilbert Harrison and Mrs. Iona Linzi are taking treatments at Oregon hot springs.

Mrs. Naomi Pepple and Mrs. Lizzie Powers are enjoying a visit with their sister and two nieces from Sioux Falls.

The Langel Valley Women's club will meet with Mrs. Beasie Campbell for their July meeting, on the 23rd.

Jean House spent Wednesday and Thursday with Doris Leavitt.

A horse being driven with a band, was hit by a car and its leg broken Saturday morning on the turn between Dearborn's and Brown's.

Barnes Valley

BARNES VALLEY, Ore.—The Cole-Bradshaw mill started sawing lumber Monday.

The new burner was completed but is not being used on account of danger of fire. The sawdust and slabs will be dumped and then burned this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thompson and children, Ruth, Mary and Ellis, were visitors at the home

New 1937
Philcos
NOW AT UHLIG'S
1026 MAIN

Chesterfield

Wins

...because it has the right kind of Turkish tobacco in it

Turkish tobacco is expensive—that's true—every pound has to be imported 4000 miles.

But it's one of the biggest reasons why Chesterfields taste better.

It's another reason why you'll like the aroma—it's more pleasing and fragrant—the Turkish in Chesterfield is another reason why Chesterfield wins.

© 1936, LIGGETT & SMITH TOBACCO CO.

OLENE

OLENE, Ore. — Mrs. Glen Mosker of Klamath Falls was a visitor in Olene last Tuesday.

Rowe and Leonard Kinney have been playing for dances at the Shady Pine Inn the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hopper and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Fugate have moved to Sprague River.

Mrs. Anna Brunner, who is working at Crater lake for Dunn and Baker, was a guest at the C. M. Kelley home during the holidays.

Oliver Anderson is working for the Kinney brothers at the present time.

Mrs. J. C. Sweeney made a business trip to Klamath Falls last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. McKimmons of Pine Grove were visitors in Olene last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Floden of California were visitors in Olene last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Anderson of Poe Valley were dinner guests at the home of Dora Anderson Sunday evening.

Fred Relling is on the sick list at the present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Casey of California have moved in one of the J. C. Sweeney cabins.

Many of the farmers in Olene and around are busy putting up their first crop of hay.

George Anderson's artesian well is a beautiful sight to see. There have been many folks from all over Klamath Falls called to see it.

The dance at Olene last Saturday night was a great success. Everybody enjoyed themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson of Klamath Falls were callers at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, last weekend.

Langel Valley

LANGELL VALLEY—Mr. and Mrs. Sid Jacques of Kerby, Oregon, visited their daughter, Alfred Duncan over the weekend.

Dr. Patterson is having his ranch at the head of the valley plowed.

Mrs. Elliott House visited her husband Wednesday at the isolation hospital, where he is recovering from typhoid fever.

Mrs. Lloyd Gift, Mrs. Anna Gift and Mrs. Mary Tuttle visited with Mrs. J. Henry Thomas and Mrs. Reg Thomas one day last week.

Mrs. Alice Berger of Berkeley, California, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Lulu Brown for several weeks.

William Clarke is taking treatments at the Oregon hot springs.

Mrs. Minnie Harmon, her son and two grandchildren of Petaluma, California, visited her brother

It's Vacation Time

THE Olympic Peninsula...the "last West"...

Nearly two million acres within a broken shore line of over 300 miles. Indian villages are hewn from swift mountain rivers where canoes are hewn from great cedar logs...surf fishing and razor clam digging along a 100 mile stretch of the mighty Pacific. Olympic National Park. A land for camping, hiking, fishing and exploring in alpine forests and flowered mountain meadows. Lake Crescent, where waterfalls and hidden lakes are found. Lake Quinalt, where the gamey Beardslee Trout set deep between wooded hills. Hood Canal...a 70 mile channel likened to the fjords of Norway. * Go!...enjoy this superb vacation wilderness of the Northwest. But first see your neighborhood Richfield Dealer for competent car service. And—when you fill your tank with Hi-Octane, be sure to secure your free copy of the 1936 Richfield Strip Map.

Let's go Places with

RICHFIELD