

Cardinals, Yankees Meet Serious Opposition

M'GRAW PUPILS SCORE UPSETS

Cards Lose to Giants; Yanks Drop Third to Browns.

By the Associated Press
Bill Terry and Rogers Hornsby, a couple of McGraw boys who learned their lessons well under the "old man," are carrying "miracle man" reputations for themselves out of the idea of such pennant favorites as the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees these days.

For instance, there's Terry, whose New York Giants were expected to collapse and sink out of the picture about mid-season. They collapsed, but Terry brought them right back, and they're in third place again, hot after the creaky Cardinals.

Yank Mystery Solved

And Hornsby, with the St. Louis Browns, has become the only man in the American league to solve the slugging dynamic of the Yankees. "Feed 'em raw balls," he told his pitchers. They did, and the Browns became the only club to hang three straight losses on "murderers' row" this season.

When Carl Hubbell and Mel Ott are right, Terry's Giants go places. At the moment, both "The Hub" and the "Kid" are red-hot, and the Giants have taken two straight over the Cards. Hubbell's pitching won Tuesday's game, and Ott, Gus Mancuso and young hurler Gabby Gabler, making his first start of the season, combined to take an 8-2 decision Wednesday.

Browns Beat Sluggers

With the Pirates losing a 15-4 slugfest to the Phillies, in which Johnny Moore belted three homers, the Giants shot into third place and the Cubs slipped to fifth. The Cincinnati Reds, who won their second straight over the Boston Bees, 7-4, took over fourth place. The league lead of the Cubs was stretched to three full games by the Cardinals' defeat, as the Chicago champions nosed out the Dodgers 3-2 with Larry French posting his tenth pitching win.

The Browns, who came out of the American league cellar by the Yankees Sunday and Tuesday, beat the Yankees 6-4, chiefly on the hitting of aging and ailing Jim Bottomley and the huriling of Ivy Andrews.

The Yankees' American league lead was cut to seven games, for the second time in weeks, as the second place Cleveland Indians again slugged the Red Sox, winning 5-3, with Earl Averill leading a 19-hit attack to drop the gold plated Bostonians to fifth place.

The Chicago White Sox took over fourth place, just behind the Senators in a 12-inning thriller that saw Johnny Whitehead beat Earl Whitehill 3-2. The Tigers found rookie Herman Fink in particular and the Athletics in general too rough and suffered a 7-5 setback but managed to hang onto third place.

Noted Rider, Famous Buckler to Meet Again

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 23. (AP)—"Five Minutes to Midnight," almost unrideable king of the bucking trade, and Earl Thode, Casa Grande, Ariz., bronco "buster" topped the second day's bill at the fortieth annual Cheyenne Frontier Days' celebration today.

The combination will bring together Thode, a four-time champion of the Cheyenne show, and a horse which has all but defied the attempts of some of the best riders of the range to remain mounted on his arching and swaying back.

The celebration opened yesterday before a crowd of 14,000 persons who packed the grand stands to watch nearly 200 entries begin the four-day race for prize money and honors.

Nick Knight of Cody, Wyo., won first day's money in the world championship bronco riding contest on the rocking, swaying bay bronc, "Ham What Am."

Major W. R. Stickman of Fort Bliss, Tex., who is vacationing in the Klamath country, stepped up to the seventh tee at Reames Golf and Country club, socked a ball high in the air, and watched it drop on the green and roll into the cup.

Visiting Golfer Has Hole-in-one at Reames Club

It was the fourth hole-in-one in the history of the local course. All of them have been made on the 165-yard seventh hole, the last a couple of years ago by Carl Woods.

Playing with the major when he got his ace were W. A. Constance, Bill Connolly, John Bleshop and a Mr. Arthur of San Francisco.

Aided by the eagle on No. 7, Major Stickman made 37 on the nine-hole round.

McLean Leading Batters As Season Nears Close

With only two more games to go, it appears that nothing can keep Cliff "Chief" McLean from walking off with the Southern Oregon league batting championship for 1936.

Roy Wheeler, husky Red Sox shortstop, Sherman, Glendale short pitcher, and Donaldson, Pelican outfielder, are all hitting at a .333 clip to head their respective teams.

Rex Adamsom continued to connect safely, bringing his consecutive game string to 19, but Bill Reible was stopped cold by Carlstrom after hitting in nine games.

Roy Wheeler has hit four doubles to head that department, and Neathammer has scored 13 times to lead in the plate-slugging column.

In addition to pitching his team into the league lead last Sunday, Clyde Carlstrom pitched himself into the top hurling spot, displacing Grants Pass' Bob Hardy. Carlstrom has won five and dropped one for a mark of 83.3. Hardy has won five and lost two for a percentage of .714. Merl Johnson, Glendale, leads all in strikeouts with an even 80.

Following are the batting averages for players hitting .200 or over and playing in five or more games:

SEATTLE LEADS THREE GAMES

Portland Advances Into 3rd Place With Win Over Oakland.

By The Associated Press
Pacific Northwest ball teams playing on home grounds dominated Coast league play in double-headers Wednesday night with Seattle stretching its lead over Oakland to three full games, and Portland displacing San Francisco Missions in third place.

Seattle gained two games over the Acorns by taking both games from Sacramento, 11-9, 5-2, while the Oaks lost as many to Portland 5-2, 6-0.

Portland Produces Runs

The Missions won their game from San Diego, 3-1, but dropped into fourth place anyway. Los Angeles trimmed San Francisco Seals, 7-4.

Bill Posedel and Ad Liska had the Oakland team hamstrung, limiting them to eight hits for the 16 innings. Portland didn't exactly go on a hitting spree, but its total of 15 hits produced 10 runs as they clustered them in bunches of three and four.

Seattle had to call on Lou Koupal to save the opening slugfest with the Solons, who drove Paul Gregory to shelter in the second, then pecked away at Webber, his successor until he was lifted in the seventh. In the second game Don Osborn allowed the Senators to convert 12 hits into only two runs, aided by three double plays. Art Hunt batted in three of his team's five runs, and came up with two of the seven hits made off three Sacramento flingers.

Two Homers Piled

In the open Johnny Verges homered twice for Sacramento while Jerry Donovan and Freddie Muller accounted for three runs apiece when each puled four-baggers.

"Big Boy" Berry, 140-pound Los Angeles relief pitcher, stopped the Seals cold in the last three innings after the O'Doumen threatened to overcome a long Angel lead in the sixth with a three-run splash. Ted Norberg's homer with two on led to Dutch Leiber's removal. The Seals used three hurlers, including Walter "The Great" Malls.

Hard words marked a well-played game at San Diego, in which Walter Beck limited the Padres to five scattered hits. Ernie Holman and Edlie Joost nearly came to blows in the second when Holman slid into Joost's corner with too much gusto. Joe Sprinz, Mission catcher, was knocked cold on a play at third in the ninth. The teams turned in five double plays.

Klamath Basin League Teams Drop Schedule

Officials of the Klamath Basin league announced Thursday that the schedule would be discontinued for the remainder of the season.

The teams have already played around twice.

It is requested that all team managers send in their season's scores to Joe Knudson of the First National bank, who will compile the final standings.

Teams in the league are Big Lakes, Eastside-Ewanna, Dorris, Malin, Tulelake and Merrill.

BEES BUY HURLER

BOSTON, July 23. (AP)—The Boston Bees, National league baseball club, announced today Pitcher Guy Bush, recently released by Pittsburgh, had accepted terms offered by Manager Bill McKechnie.

Dear Friends,

We are now hauling green fir and pine body wood direct from the woods. We can sell it to you cheaper when we handle it only once. Order your winter's wood now while handling conditions are favorable and prices are low.

You'll be mighty glad you did next winter.

Yours truly,

Ohio State Coach in Charge of Star Sprinter

ABOARD S. S. MANHATTAN

En Route to Berlin, July 23. (AP)—Among the questions that have been settled with the approach of the American athletic forces to their base of Olympic operations is "who's handling Jesse Owens?"

Officially Head Coach Lawson Robertson, himself an old-time sprinter, was designated to take charge of the dash men. First, an exception was made for Frank Wykoff, whose old coach, Dean Cromwell, is on the staff.

And now it has been established that Owens is to take advice and directions solely from Larry Snyder, Ohio State mentor.

The situation was brought to a head when Robertson asked Owens his preferences and the negro promptly replied he wanted to work out only under Snyder's guidance.

This brought into the spotlight the anomalous situation. Snyder is aboard, paying his own expenses and is recognized only as an "associate coach," denied the privileges of Olympic identity cards, uniforms and of the Olympic village, except as a visitor. In the same situation are Fred Totell, who coaches the hammer throwers; Carl Olson, traveling with John Woodruff, the Pittsburgh 800-meter star; and Francis Welch, who is with Archie San Romani, the Emporia, Kas., miler.

"I am willing to cooperate as far as possible and surely will handle Owens, Dave Albritton and any others I'm requested to coach, but I dislike being classified as a knot holder," said Snyder. "I have been given an official run-around, but the important thing to me is to get Owens into the best condition to capture the triple Olympic honors, which he is sure to do."

Snyder especially resented Robertson's suggestion that the only flaw in Owens' running is his "slowness off the marks." Snyder insists Owens can beat any sprinter at any distance, adding pointedly, "There's no payoff at fifty meters in a hundred meter race. Owens is no jackrabbit, but the smoothest piece of running machinery we have ever seen."

Southern Cal Loses Leading Grid Candidates

LOS ANGELES, July 23. (AP) Scholastic ineligibility dealt two heavy blows today to Southern California's hopes for a football comeback this fall.

Orville Mathews and Ed Hickerson, star performers from last year's freshman eleven, will not be available for the 1936 varsity, campus sources disclosed.

Mathews, Oklahoma prep schools sensation, who made all-state back, ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds and the furlong in 21 seconds flat before graduation, was counted on to furnish the speed in the Trojan football machine as quarterback.

Hickerson, a 230-pound full-back, was the best punter among the frosh. His eligibility difficulties started even before he entered U. S. C. campus officials said.

Mathews is declared to have a chance to make up his academic work in time for the 1937 track and field schedule.

Public Links Stars Staging Close Struggle

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., July 23. (AP)—It was anybody's title today as clerks, steelworkers, salesmen, oil station attendants, an actor and a cab driver who rode the last former titleholder out of the picture, drove toward the quarter-finals of the national public links golf championship.

If there were any favorites in the cross-section field of men and boys they probably were Claude Rippey of Washington, co-medalist, and Pat Abbott, the movie extra from Pasadena, Calif. The two faced Honolulu's sole representative, Ramsey Lau, in the third round.

Abbott, winner of the southern California open against an all-star professional field last winter, was challenged by Donald Secoll, New Britain, Conn., gasoline station man.

The hero of yesterday's rounds, which saw three former titleholders fall out, was George Studinger, a cab driver from Huntington, Calif. George took Frankie Strafac of Brooklyn, defending champion, for a ride and exacted his crown for the fare, beating the champ 1-up in a tight match that was decided on the final green.

California led all states with four survivors as the third round opened.

Pennsylvania and Connecticut each had two left. Other states with representatives still in were Maryland, Washington, Florida, Indiana, Texas and Minnesota. Oregon's entries fell by the way side.

Two Contests Set Friday in Softball Loop

Two contests are set for Friday, the fourth night of the Softball league play at Modoc field.

Lowell is scheduled to meet the Kufgila of Columbus in the first game and Old Port tackles the Klamath Billiards in the second.

Of these four teams, Old Port, the Cozys and Klamath Billiards is undefeated.

The first game will start at 7:20 o'clock.
