Why Louis Against Sharkey?

August 18 Fight Regarded as Piece of Mismatching.

The Joe Louis-Jack Sharkey thing, listed for Yankee stadium, August 18, is a miserable piece of mismatching.

Pairing Sharkey with Louis is a step backward. Why dig up the shapeworn sailor when there are young fellows like Al Etorre, Leroy Haynes, Andre Lenglet, and John Henry Lewis lying around handy?

Record books show that Sharkey will be 34 years of age in October, and many who know him quite well suspect that he is considerably older.

It is a sure gamble that all of the tears will not be spilled by Sharkey in Yankee stadium, Aug. 18. The customers are likely to get sentimental with remorse after plunking down cash to witness one of boxing's outstanding mismatches of the century.

Jacobs says that the savage battle will gross more than $300,000, which qualifies the 49th street duet dealer as the world champion optimist.

Sharkey never was a satisfactory performer even in his heyday. For a fellow who turned in one languid exhibition after another, the squire of Chestnut Hill has done remarkably well in New York, which is something in the way of additional proof that the big burg produces more suckers than P. T. Barnum ever dreamed of.

Sharkey generally not only left much to be desired in the ring but unworkable athletes as well. In a good share of his starts he either yelled foul or fouled out himself.

The Louis appointment will be Sharkey's fifth in a most unimpressive comeback campaign. It is likely to be his last. One more good chunk of dough is all the old bean-to-town crowd has been angling for and it looks as though he's hooked his quarry with the Louis shot.

Sharkey threw kisses at the crowd the night Carnera ironed him out with that phantom appetent. The promoters should have taken the bluejacket at his word and permitted him to remain behind his Boston bar.

There is so little excuse for pairing Sharkey with Louis that the more suspicious wonder if, after all, it is true what they whisper about the promoters or someone owing the leering Lithuanian something and paying the debt after three long years. The patrons managed to struggle along without Sharkey in the interim, by the way.

Louis may require a little help in his next start, although hardly as much as Sharkey can be counted upon to give him the first time the former champion is hit solidly.

Smoky Joe, badly discouraged by his knockout by Max Schmeling, hasn't been responding to the curfew as promptly as he once did.

John Roxborough, his manager, makes no secret of the fact that Louis was beginning to acquire a slightly inflated cranium prior to bumping into Schmeling's jarring right hand.

"Maybe the knockout by Schmeling was all for the best," says Roxborough. "Joe reached a point where he was giving orders instead of taking them. He got to that he fitted his work to his moods."

Max Baer would be vastly more suitable as an opponent for Louis than Sharkey. And how does Jacobs and the Hearst newspapers' prize fight department expect the younger crop, Etorre, Haynes, Lenglet, and Lewis, to get anywhere unless they are given an opportunity? Surely, Louis isn't drawing the

MERMAID HITS AT OFFICIALS

Misconduct Aboard Ship Charged By Ousted Swimmer

BERLIN, July 25. (AP)—Eleanor Holm backstroke swimming star, definitely was off the American Olympic team today.

Her entry formally was withdrawn and her last chance for reinstatement was removed by the flat refusal of Avery Brundage, American Olympic committee president, to alter his decision dismissing her.

General Misconduct Charged Mrs. Jarrett, who won the 1932 Olympic 100-meters back stroke title at Los Angeles and was expelled from this year's team for drinking and otherwise breaking training rules on board the S. S. Manhattan, hit back strongly at officials this afternoon.

She charged that misconduct during the ocean voyage involved numerous athletes besides herself. She also said officials neglected their responsibilities. She attacked their conduct in the presence of members of the American team, naming Gustavus T. Kirby, treasurer of the committee, among others.

When informed her last hopes of reinstatement had vanished, Mrs. Jarrett issued the following statement:

"Since the American Olympic committee apparently has definitely decided that my behavior during the trip to Germany was such they won't alter the decision to keep me from competing in the event which I won at the last Olympics, and for which I qualified as the No. 1 American in the final tryouts, I feel now that my friends as well as the committee are entitled to have a statement of the facts from me.

Late Action Resented "I've never made any secret of the fact that I like a good time, particularly champagne. Every one knows that. Including the committee. The newspapers published my statements on that subject during the final tryouts at New York.

"Why then, if they felt so strongly on the subject, didn't all the American Olympic committee keep me off the team right away? Why did they have to wait until we were in the middle of the Atlantic ocean before suddenly deciding that my conduct was too unbearable to permit my remaining on the team, or that I was such a bad influence on the rest of the boys and girls?

"In the first place I wasn't the only athlete to break training rules or stay up after curfew sounded. There were at least 100 offenders one way or another.

"I'm not attempting to condemn any athletes for so doing, nor do I wish to single out any one of them for mention. They are my friends. They are just as innocent of any real wrongdoing as I am. They've shown through their action in petitioning the committee to reinstate me that they don't think I should be made an example of."

No Way Out Seen "It would wreck the American Olympic team and do far greater harm than anything that has been done so far if we put Mrs. Jarrett back into the lineup," Brundage said.

Mrs. Jarrett refused all telephone calls yesterday, including repeated attempts by Charles MacArthur to reach her from London. MacArthur, who left the Manhattan at Plymouth with his wife, Helen Hayes, was conspicuous in Mrs. Jarrett's company during the gay shipboard party which led to the swimmer's first fall from official grace.

While Mrs. Jarrett refrained from adding further to the conversational conflict waged within and without the official family, her friends showed no reluctance to level criticism at American authorities. One athlete remarked:

"She deserves punishment for color line against Haynes and Lewis.

Sharkey has nothing with which to worry Louis now. At his best, the flighty sailor couldn't prove whether the Negro could weather a healthy jaw jolt, which is still the biggest question in regard to the Dark Angel, despite the conclusive proof furnished by Schmeling. It is hard to believe that Louis lost enough stuff in one smacking around to run second to a has-been who never was too much.

So why Sharkey?

Texan Still After Chance Against Dude Chick

To qualify for his long-sought meeting with Dude Chick, still unbeaten after a season of wrestling at the Klamath Armory, Leslie Wolf, Texas athlete, must stop Bob Montgomery of Georgia.

Those who saw Montgomery trim Bobby Chick, the cowboy's brother, last Tuesday night are not so sure but what the southerner might repeat his victory this Tuesday night against Wolfe.

Both rough and aggressive, Montgomery seems to be among the best of the grapplers Mack Lillard has brought to Klamath Falls this season. His win over Bobby Chick stamped him as a wrestler of real ability.

No one, however, questions Wolfe's capabilities. Since coming back to Klamath Falls two weeks ago he has slammed his way to victories over tough Pete Belcastro, the junior heavyweight champion of the Pacific coast, and Jim Lott of Alabama.

LEAGUE NEARS CLOSE OF PLAY

Red Sox Have Good Chance To Lift Southern Oregon Title

Southern Oregon League

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Red Sox 7 3 .700, Grants Pass 6 4 .600, Glendale 6 4 .600, Pelicans 1 9 .100

Games Sunday Glendale vs. Red Sox, Modoc field. Pelicans at Grants Pass.

Four Southern Oregon league teams will blaze into the next-to-last week of their 12 game schedule Sunday, with three clubs still very much in the pennant chase.

At Klamath Falls, last year's champions, the Red Sox of Vern Francis will attempt to halt the do-or-die surge of the second place Glendale Loggers.

On the mound for the Loggers will be Merl Johnson, league strikeout king, while pitching for the Red Sox will be either Clyde Carlstrom or Al Hogan. Carlstrom worked so hard in the Red Sox' 2-1 win over Grants Pass last Sunday that Manager Francis may give him a much needed rest by starting Hogan, the Washington State chucker, in the box.

At Grants Pass, Manager Jud Pernoll who is head of the Merchants since the resignation of Ken Williams, will start his prize southpaw, Bob Hardy, on the mound and Cliff McLean back of the plate. Jack Gove of the Pelicans will probably counter with Lowell Brown, also a left-hander.

Although mathematically out of the race, the Pelicans should prove dangerous to the hopes of the Merchants for a chance at the pennant.

The game at Klamath Falls is undoubtedly the feature of the week, but both games are so crucial that record crowds are expected at each game. With only two more games to play—one after this week—the three teams still in the race will fling their full strength on the field realizing that a slip now would practically eliminate them from the race, the tightest in years.

So tight, in fact, is the pennant chase, that if Glendale is able to knock over the Sox and the Merchants defeat the Pelicans, a triple tie would exist, making it a dog fight right.

After a telegraphic vote several weeks ago, the teams decided to add four games to the 12 game schedule, but have now changed their minds and will play the schedule out as originally drawn. So, the league will come to an end one week from next Sunday, with the Pelicans and Red Sox meeting on Modoc field and Grants Pass hopping to Glendale.

Four Red Sox players are attending the St. Louis championship baseball tryouts at Sacramento this week along with some 200 other youngsters from coast states. They are Harold Hamerickson, center fielder; Earl Brooks, third base, and Al Hogan and Turpin, pitchers.

Steady Playing Increases Seattle's Lead

Seattle's steady ball playing, which in the last two weeks has increased the Tribe's first place lead to four full games is worrying Coast league teams with pennant aspirations.

Dutch Ruether's seasoned club took an easy 5-2 victory from Sacramento Friday night to gain a half-game in the standings while Oakland and Portland split a doubleheader.

"Wee Willie" Ludolph pitched the Oaks to a 5-1 victory in the first game, while George Caster won an extra-inning, 1-0 decision in the second.

San Diego beat the San Francisco Missions 4-3, in the 10th. San Francisco Seals handed Ray Prim his second defeat of the year as Los Angeles succumbed 4-7.

Seattle's pitching staff is small but select. Last night husky Dick Barrett blanked Sacramento until the ninth inning. Hal Spindel, the Tribe's prize catcher, celebrated his return to the lineup after a her misbehavior, but many of us feel now that she is being made the goat for other but less conspicuous offenders against disciplinary orders and training rules.

Reputation Feared Dean Cromwell University of Southern California track coach, gave the contrary opinion:

"She asked for it. In fact she begged for it. If it had been one time it would have been different, but it had been going on for a week. Of course, I feel sorry for her now, like everyone else, but it's her own fault. We cannot get the reputation for being 'boosers'."

Mrs. Jarrett meanwhile was swamped with offers to capitalize the situation, including a proposal from London to appear in motion pictures. She refused to decide on any definite action for the time being.

"I'm not going to turn professional and I plan to remain through the Olympic games," she said. "I would like to challenge the winner of the backstroke championship because I am sure I can beat anybody in the world."

Yankee Sluggers Face Big Test in Pennant Race

The Klamath county baseball field was left to the Crater Lake league this weekend following the discontinuance of the Basin league.

Three games will be played as follows: Pelican Bay at Alkoma. Modoc Point at Chiliquin. Sprague River at Southern Pacific.

Anent the rumor that Louis received a hypodermic in his arm before his recent flight, most people thought his plight resulted from Schmeling ether.

The Yankees enjoyed a holiday Friday, along with the White Sox, while rain gave every club in the National league a day off.

The Indians tightened their grip on the American league second place, while the Boston Red Sox pulled a game out of the fire against the Tigers. The Sox won a 7-4 decision in ten innings, with Jimmy Foxx belting his 27th homer.

The Senators came from way back to strouce the Browns 10-4, behind Monte Weaver's four-hit pitching.

The Red Sox win boosted the gold-plated Bostonians into a tie for fourth place with the Tigers, and the White Sox took over third place without raising a bat or pitching a ball.

The Red Sox are making trouble again, now that Foxx is out of his hitting doldrums. Since he's recovered his batting eye, the outfit has won seven of the last 11 games. The Sox weren't in the game yesterday until jolting Jimmy started them off with his homer in the eighth.

The 22-hits against the Athletics comprised the Indians' largest total in one game for the season. Earl Averill stretched his conservative-game batting streak to 12 yesterday, while Hal Trosky boosted his to 18 and Roy Weatherly to 14. The modern mark is 11, produced by the great George Sisler in his hey-day with the Browns.

Fishing News

By Klamath County Chamber of Commerce

Crater Lake National Park: Fishing in Crater lake is excellent. Fly fishing is very good, particularly with a McGuffy, bucktail caddis or bucktail coachman fly. Some fishermen are using a Doc Shelton spinner with a small fly on the end and casting from shore. Others are trolling with flashers and worms.

Whatever form of lure is used, the fish seem to take it and like it. The Klamath, Medford and Diamond lake enticements to the park are in excellent shape. The east, or Sand creek, entrance is fair.

Diamond Lake: Fishing in Diamond lake has been improving and good catches are being taken by trolling with grasshopper or black goat flies for bait. The highways into this lake are in very good condition.

Odeil Lake: Fly fishing is getting very good at Odeil lake, with a royal coachman and bucktail caddis the favorite flies used. Parties planning to fish in this lake over the week-end would be wise to reserve boats ahead of time, as generally they are all taken by Sunday. The Willamette highway into Odeil lake is in excellent condition.

Crescent Lake: No report from this lake but fly fishing should be good. The new county road into Crescent lake is being used and is in good shape.

Davis Lake: Fly fishing in this lake is reported exceptionally good, particularly in the evenings. A royal coachman or bucktail caddis fly is used mostly. It is a good idea to reserve boats here over the weekend.

This concession is handled by Odeil lake lodge and reservations can be made through Ross Finley, manager of Odeil lodge, Point has been very good. Limit catches of rainbow trout are being taken on bahe orrens, trout orrens and Andy Heekers. The largest trout caught during the past week weighed 13 1/2 pounds.

This is small compared to some that have been caught up there. The road is fairly rough and dusty but is not difficult if taken at a moderate rate of speed.

Lake of the Woods: Fishing is fair. Silverides are being taken with flashers and worms. Bass are caught on pike minnow plugs. Lots of catfish are being caught in the slough at the north end of the lake. The road is rough and dusty but easily passable if taken slowly.

Fish Lake: Fishing has been good, nice catches of eastern brook trout being taken by trolling with flashers and worms or eggs. Still fishing with worms is also good. The road is rough and dusty.

Four Mile Lake: Limit catches are being taken there by trolling and still fishing with worms. Boats are available. However, the road into the lake is still very rough.

Harriette Lake: Good fishing has been found at this and the other small lakes in the same region, along the Cascade divide, by using spinners and casting from shore. However, it is necessary to hike in the last two or three miles.

Stream fishing in the North Fork of Sprague river, particularly farther upstream, is good on flies. A blue upright or a small bucktail caddis is used mostly. Jenny creek, about six or seven miles south of the Greensprings highway, is reported good. Fly fishing is most successful, using a grey hackle with yellow body. Wood river is pretty good for spinners and cluster eggs. Cherry creek, Soren Mile creek and the other small streams in their vicinity are falling off and fishing in them is not so good. The North Umpqua, as well as Fish creek, Lake creek and other creeks in that region, is still good fishing, particularly on flies.

England Leads In Davis Cup Tennis Battle

WIMBLEDON, July 25. (AP)—H. W. (Bunny) Austin sent England away in front in defense of the Davis cup today when he defeated Jack Crawford of Australia in the opening singles match of the challenge round for the famous tennis trophy. The scores were 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

Crawford seemed to lack his old fire after taking the first set behind his crashing service. With the start of the second set, however, Austin showed deadly accuracy, clipping the base line time and again with shots that left the Australian flat footed.

When not relying on his baseline drives, Austin advanced to the net and volleyed effectively. Although the Englishman's service was not as speedy as the Anzac's, Austin placed his service balls well and easily returned Crawford's cannonballs.
