

Giants and Cubs Dig in for Finish Battle

CLOSE FINISH ANTICIPATED

Yanks Seem Sure Winners in American But National Uncertain.

By The Associated Press The big league baseball campaign heads into its last month today, and it's still a case of 'pay your money and take your choice' on the chances of a sub-way series in New York or a Yankees-Cubs classic for the big prize.

While the Yankees have just about nailed the American league pennant to their flagpole, the following Giants and the Chicago champs are digging in for a finish fight for the National league hunting.

Although Bill Terry's crew is three games in the lead at the moment and a short-out-shot to come through as a climax to the greatest winning rush of the season, it's still anybody's ball game, particularly because (1) the Giants have been getting the breaks, and those things can't last forever, and (2) the Cub pitching is back in form and they're battling on their home lot.

That the hurling of the Cub elbowed is tops again has been demonstrated since their return home. They've won five straight, winding up with a 1-0 decision over the Phillies yesterday as Wee Roy Hunshaw, recalled from bullpen exile, pitched a six-hitter, his first victory since July 2. He was the fifth hurler in a row to go the route for the Cubs.

The win boosted the Chicago crew into a tie for second place with the crippled Cardinals, who bowed to the Bees for the fourth straight time, 1-0. Roy Parmelee pitched no-hit ball for seven innings, and allowed but three hits altogether, only to lose when Joe Cocharin's triple broke up the duel between himself and Danny MacFayden in the tenth inning.

Even the weather man seemed to have signed up on the Giants' side, raining out the last game of the Cincinnati series to give them a day off, when the whole outfit showed signs of weakening under the boiling western heat.

The postponement forced the play-off onto the Giants' home grounds later, where the New Yorkers will have a decided advantage.

ATHLETES TO PASS UP N. Y.

Stay-over in Gotham Fails to Attract; Big Row in Making.

ABOARD S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, En Route to New York, Aug. 28 (AP)—The main squad of 239 American Olympic athletes, officials and coaches has decided to pass up New York's invitation to stay over a week after its arrival tonight for a civic reception.

It was pointed out, however, that many athletes are obliged to leave immediately for their schools or work and as a substitute it was suggested the possibility of a reception on the dock before the team disbands tomorrow.

Meantime the outspoken comments of several critics have pointed definitely to an internal battle in the Olympic organization. It's almost certain the Eleanor Holm Jarrett case and the dropping of two Jewish sprinters, Sam Stoller and Marty Glickman, from the 400-meter relay team, will be thrashed out among the officials.

Likewise the intermittent warfare between college leaders and A. A. U. officials for control of the Olympic organization likely will be renewed.

Alfred Masters of Stanford, assistant track and field manager, indicated this by some pointed comments on the relations of Olympic officials and athletes.

"When mistakes in management and handling of athletes are repeated with such persistence as was manifested on this trip, the time has arrived to face the facts and reorganize," he said.

"I have many friends among the Olympic leaders and do not question their integrity, but I have frankly told them I question their judgment on several important points.

"The official anxiety to get the percentage of profits wherever possible is short sighted and only leads to such incidents as Jesse Owens' abrupt return home. Personally I think Owens did the right thing."

Blasts from the boxing team are expected to be directed toward the officiating at the games. Roy Davis, team manager, said: "If boxing officiating had been as efficiently and completely controlled by the sponsoring nations as in the case of track and field, the United States would have had four Olympic boxing championships. It's hard to believe anyone affiliated with amateur boxing could be so dumb as some of the decisions indicated."

Cole Brothers-Clyde Beatty Circus to Arrive Tomorrow

CIRCUS DAY INFORMATION

Arrival—Aboard three special trains over the Southern Pacific railroad, early tomorrow morning from Eugene where it is exhibiting today. Show Grounds—On South Sixth street.

Parade—Leaving the circus grounds at 11 o'clock sharp tomorrow morning, the mile-long procession will proceed on South Sixth street to East Main street; down Klamath and Spring to Fourth; to Main; to East Main; to South Sixth street and back to the circus grounds.

Side Shows—Open 10 a. m. and run continuously until 11 p. m. Tickets—On sale beginning at 9 a. m. tomorrow (show day) at Underwood's Pharmacy, Seventh and Main streets. Same prices as at the circus grounds—no higher. White ticket wagon continuously accessible for the purchase of reserved seats at the show grounds. Red ticket wagon for the purchase of general admission seats, opens simultaneously with the big show doors.

Departure—Via the Southern Pacific railroad at midnight for Weed, Cal., where one performance only will be given.

The world's newest big show will pay Klamath Falls a visit this week. This is Cole Brothers-Clyde Beatty circus which will exhibit afternoon and night Saturday at the circus grounds on South Sixth street.

Agents have been in the city for the past several days getting things in order for the arrival of the big red and gold wagons, when the first of three special trains steam into town.

The circus has thrilling features, the outstanding one being Clyde Beatty, the world's most daring wild animal trainer, who will present an all-new display with 40 newly imported lions and tigers.

Another feature will be the Zavatta troupe of bareback riding stars, who are making their first tour of America, as are the Zowpke family, sensational equestrians, newly imported from Spain especially for this season's tour.

Among the thrill-producers will be the Greta troupe of high-wire performers. The Gretas are a family troupe of four brothers and two sisters. Each does a routine on the slender wire in the dome of the huge big-top. But the climax of their breath-taking display is the building of a human pyramid, three high on the wire in the uppermost reaches of the tent—and without a net below should they take a tumble. One of the sisters occupies the top-most position of the human pyramid.

Other thrills are promised by the vast assemblage of aerialists, prominent among them the Firing Harolds and the Peerless Illingtons, Cise Odell, famous aerial gymnast, Al Powell, the human comet and Esma Wilson, America's famous "pin-wheel" girl are still others who will be seen in the aerial division with the big show this season.

Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m., with the main gates opening one hour earlier allowing leisurely inspection of the huge menagerie which features among the scores of interesting exhibits, "Jumbo the 2nd," the only African elephant with a circus in this country.

DUCKS HOLD 2-GAME LEAD

Defeat of Seals Lengthens Margin for Beavers; San Diego Wins.

By The Associated Press An 11-inning victory today moved Portland into a 1-0 game lead in the Coast league race, while four other teams struggling for three remaining first division berths were separated by only the margin of two contests.

Aided by Manager Bill Sweeney's deciding homer with one on base, the Beavers trimmed the San Francisco Seals 5-3.

San Diego went into a tie for second with Seattle as its 3-2 victory over Oakland was decided by another home run. The Indians took their second licking in a row from Los Angeles, 8-1.

San Francisco's Missions took undisputed possession of fourth place by defeating Sacramento, 7-4, for their sixth victory in a row.

Umpire trouble, which has been frequent all season, and which is more than ever likely as six clubs struggle to get into the Shaughnessy play-off, struck in Seattle and San Diego last night. Don Hurst and Jimmy Reese were bounced out of the Los Angeles lineup for arguing a decision with Umpires Engelin and Powell, while Hal Heid, Oakland coach, was ejected in San Diego. First baseman Leroy Anton of Oakland has been assessed $25 for his argument in San Diego Wednesday with Umpire Ray Snyder.

Portland had to come from behind in the ninth to tie the score with the Seals. Utility infielder Eddie Taylor was the player who came through with a single to score two runs and tie the score. In the 11th, Taylor was on base when Sweeney waited one over the wall to ruin the game for Southpaw Ken Sheehan. Hal Ithyme hit a homer for the Seals, but Joe Marty was the hitting star, with four for five.

Los Angeles broke out in a rash of homers to break a 3-3 tie in the ninth and score five runs. Steve Jessner and John Bottarri cleaned up the home runs, accounting for three runs and chasing Paul Gregory off the mound. Art Hunt's single climaxed a Seattle rally in the ninth which sent Glen Gabler

Softball Games on Slate Tonight

Friday night's twin bill under the flood lights at Modoc field is expected to offer softball fans two very good games.

Weyerhaeuser and Elks meet in the opener at 7:30 and the Knights of Columbus aggregation tackles the rejuvenated Lowell's food store team in the second game. Elks and Lowell's will attempt to stay in the undefeated class, each having taken their first game in the second half schedule. Weyerhaeuser lost their first clash with Lowell's and will of course be out to take the Elks.

The Cassers are playing their game in this half.
