Meeting Planned

District Conference of BPW Slated for Sunday August 28th

The first district conference of the Business and Professional Women's club will be held at Toledo, Oregon, on Sunday, August twenty-eighth and all members of the local club who can attend are assured a good time by those in charge of the entertainment. Sessions will be held at the Lincoln hotel and members are planning to spend Saturday night at Newport.

The Klamath Falls club is getting ready for participation in interesting winter activities, under the leadership of the new president, Ruth Bahls, who is also city treasurer and an authority on municipal bonds of which she has made an extensive study.

The local group has been enjoying the summer vacation, opening their meetings with the acceptance of the invitation of the Medford club to a picnic Sunday, August twenty-first at the Rogue River lodge. The annual picnics with the valley clubs are always outstanding events in the social life of the Klamath organization and are eagerly anticipated.

With the month of September, work begins in earnest and all business women who are eligible are urged to join the club at this time and have full benefit of the year's programs and activities.

The 1938-39 Federation program covers economic problems and their social implications in a thorough manner by focusing the attention of the members on the subject of "My Business and Yours," which will be an intimate study vital to the understanding of problems which will be faced from day to day.

The September meetings will center on "My Job and Yours," giving the factors responsible for the business and professional woman's present status; background and interests; professional training; experience; travel and contacts; health, age and personal qualifications.

Later, "Upon What Does the Security of the Job Depend," will be discussed, together with economic conditions, market for goods or services; how to create opportunities; efforts, re-training, ingenuity, hard work, business practices, developing new methods in production, distribution and financing.

It will readily be seen that here are ideas for some very interesting programs in September which the committee chairmen will find most helpful and inspiring. The National Federation seems determined this year to discover the secrets of success of its members and has adopted the slogan, "A Better Business Woman for a Better Business World," evidently expecting each individual member to gain something from the composite picture of the business philosophy of the nation's leading business and professional women.

"If you wish to engage in study and action on current economic problems and opportunities in the business world, join the club early in the year and get on the highway of women's progress," one member of the club stated.
