

Vows Spoken Before Altar of Flowers

Miss Maurine Leslie Bride of Gilbert Fleet in Ceremony Read Wednesday at High Noon

One of October's loveliest brides was Miss Maurine Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice G. Leslie of Rose street, who became the bride of Mr. Gilbert Fleet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Fleet of this city in a ceremony read Wednesday at high noon in the First Methodist church before a group of relatives and close friends of both families. Rev. Victor Phillips read the ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's prelude played by Mrs. George McIntyre. Just before the ceremony Miss Patricia Fleet, sister of the groom, sang, "Through the Years."

Vows were exchanged before an altar banked with palms and white chrysanthemums. The bride wore a costume suit of self-blue tulle with trim of self-blue braid. Her accessories were of burgundy and two white orchids were worn at the shoulder.

The bride's attendant, Miss Oona Mae Massey of Salem, wore a jacket frock of amethyst wool with black accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Mr. Frank Fleet was his brother's best man. The wedding breakfast was served at the Willard hotel in the blue room. The bride cut a beautifully decorated cake and it was served by her aunt, Mrs. Maurice G. Sherman. It was also Mrs. Sherman's twentieth wedding anniversary.

The bride's table was charming with a triple arrangement of pink rapture roses and greens with pink and white pom-pom chrysanthemums arranged about the rooms.

Receiving with the bride and groom were their mothers, Mrs. Fleet wore a corsage of gardenias and pink rapture roses, and Mrs. Leslie a corsage of Johanna Hill roses and gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleet left immediately after the wedding breakfast for a motor trip which will take them to San Francisco and the bay district. Upon their return they will make their home in the Ferguson house on Conger avenue. Both are prominent members of the younger set and many informal parties were given for them before their marriage on Wednesday.

TEA GIVEN AT RUSSELL HOME ON WEDNESDAY

A delightful affair of the past week was the tea given by Mrs. Ted Russell and Mrs. Harold Palmer at the Russell home, 625 North Sixth street, for wives of the faculty members of Klamath Union high school. The party was an event of Wednesday afternoon and also complimented Mrs. Donald Ross.

Mrs. Clifford Rowe presided at the attractive tea table. A lovely tea cloth of natural linen, hand woven, was used on the table. The cloth was brought to Mrs. Russell by her sister, Miss Wilma Stevens of Seattle, upon her return from Armenia. A center arrangement of sweet peas was attractive.

The group, which meets informally about once a month, is planning a Halloween party to be given for husbands at St. Paul's Episcopal church parish house in the near future. Guests of the afternoon included Mrs. Lloyd Emery, Mrs. Kenneth Hammer, Mrs. Morris Harvey, Mrs. Forrest Kerby, Mrs. Vernon Kuykendall, Mrs. Kelley Robinson, Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. Clifford Rowe, Mrs. Chester Shuler, Mrs. Wendell Smith, Mrs. Harold Teale, Mrs. Charles Tilton and Mrs. Charles Woodhouse.

PIANIST WILL BE HEARD AT LIBRARY CLUB

At the November meeting of the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club an especially interesting musical program has been arranged by Mrs. Don Zumwalt, music chairman. Mr. Harold Ayres, who was heard here in concert about two years ago, will be presented in a group of numbers following the regular program when Professor Stephen Smith of the University of Oregon will discuss "Modern Oracles."

Mr. Ayres is now a member of Klamath Union high school faculty, but has toured extensively during the past few years on concert tour. He is one of the finest pianists to be heard in Klamath Falls and members are looking forward to a well-rounded and delightful program Monday, November the thirteenth, in the city library auditorium.

Just returned from the fair where they said the flowers were more gorgeous than ever—Mrs. Carleton W. Hornbrook and her mother, Mrs. Jacob Held. This is Mrs. Hornbrook's third visit to Treasure Island and she has seen the flowers in spring, summer and fall beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gaetz will soon be greeting their friends in their new home on Horn street, which is just being finished and into which they plan to move next week. Since coming to Klamath Falls they have been residing at 1140 Mon Claire street.

MRS. BROSTERHOUS ON WINTER TRIP TO EAST COAST

An interesting journey is planned for the late fall months by Mrs. E. P. Brosterhaus of 2035 Del Moro street who left Thursday evening for San Francisco in company with Mrs. J. C. Vandervort and daughter, Miss Joanne, of Bend.

The three will sail from San Francisco on a three-months cruise going through the Panama canal and stopping at fascinating ports of call en route to the east coast. They will land in New York City to spend a short time at the fair and Mrs. Brosterhaus will continue from there to the old family home in Montreal in Quebec province. Mrs. Vandervort and daughter will go to Louisville and New Orleans by boat. Later the three will meet in New York City to visit in that part of the state.

Prior to Mrs. Brosterhaus' leaving a number of informal dinner parties were given for her.

INTERESTING TEA GIVEN BY SORORITY

Members of Beta Sigma Phi entertained with a preferential tea at the home of Miss Jessie Johnson in the Henley district on Sunday afternoon, October the fifteenth, from three o'clock until five o'clock.

Fall flowers were used on the tea table and on either side tall yellow candles provided light for the room. Pouring was Mrs. Howard Listoe.

MRS. LAWSON WEDS IN SOUTH

Friends here have received the announcement of the recent marriage of Mrs. Mildred Lawson, formerly of this city, and Lieutenant Clarence Browning, and are sending their best wishes to the Brownings who are making their home in Los Angeles. Mrs. Browning, who has resided in the southern city since leaving Klamath Falls visited here last year with her numerous friends.

FAIRVIEW PTA ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR FALL PARTY

Thursday evening, October the twenty-sixth, is the time set for the Fairview Parent-Teachers association fall social party when bridge, pinocle and Chinese checkers will be played in the school auditorium.

Mrs. H. A. York of Roseway drive is general chairman and has cordially invited the public to attend. Supper will be served and an interesting program is planned.

DINNER PARTY GIVEN BEFORE FRIDAY'S GAME

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Backes entertained with a football supper before the Klamath-Medford game on Friday evening at their home on Pacific terrace. Each woman guest was presented with a huge pom-pom chrysanthemum on which a red "K" was pinned.

Covers at dinner were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Lorenz, Mr. and Mrs. William Lorenz, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Britt, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Rasmussen, Mrs. Ida Backes and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Backes.

SOROPTIMISTS GIVE REPORTS OF CONFERENCE

Reports of the delegates who attended the northwest regional conference of Soroptimist clubs, held at Wenatchee, Washington last weekend, were given at the Thursday noon meeting of the Klamath Falls Soroptimists at the Willard hotel.

Those who attended the conference as delegates were Mrs. Effie Garcelon, president of the club, Mrs. Sophia Kenoffel and Mrs. Ida Odell. Members accompanying them were Mrs. Yetta Margulis, Mrs. Jean Young, Mrs. Ruth Ray and Mrs. Beulah Ray.

The keynote of the conference was world peace, and the delegates stated that there was an air of solemnity pervading the entire meeting.

Mrs. Garcelon was appointed a member of the revision of the constitution committee, a national committee of Soroptimism.

One of the outstanding papers on the program was presented by a Klamath Falls member, Mrs. Jean Young, whose topic was "Service to Women Through Legislation," but a statement that will be long remembered by all those in attendance was made by Dr. Frances Rose of Spokane, who is a member of the American Federation Peace committee.

Dr. Rose stated, during her talk on "Peace," that throughout her professional career of many years she had never had to overcome one single obstacle that had been placed in her path by a man.

During the Saturday afternoon session of the conference, a report on "How to Find the Key Woman" was made by Mrs. Odell.

Some of the projects sponsored by the Soroptimists for community betterment in various cities included establishment of a comfortable room in depots for mothers and small children, furnishing hostesses in hotels to give information to women travelers, the building and furnishing of six houses for widowed mothers, and the rehabilitation of women over forty, an outstanding project of the Portland club. Other projects reported were ambulance service, Christmas toys and milk for underprivileged children.

The famous Wenatchee apples were featured throughout the conference and upon the arrival of guests and delegates, a plate of these apples were sent to their hotel rooms.

FOOTBALL PARTY GIVEN AFTER GAME FRIDAY

The Junior Matrons of the First Methodist church are giving a skating party at Pool's Roller-drome on South Sixth street, Tuesday evening, October the twenty-third. The husbands of the members are invited to take part.

Don't Look Now

But... we just returned from the little town of Hamburg on the Klamath river. There, in Sarah Totten's store, were two of the most delectable hats you ever saw. Vintage—oh about 1885! Horsehair and pascies and priced at $2 which was something about then. Met a man fishing along the river who told us he used to be the night clerk at the old Lakeside Inn in 1910 and everytime they sent the wagon to the station it would tip over and they'd have to wash off the mud. We said, "Oh now, not every time." But he just chuckled!

Hamburg was once the scene of a rousing good gold rush. Where they are placer mining you may still see the tunnels made by the Old Boys who just scratched the surface of Mother Earth. Brought back some beautiful rocks [with what LOOKS like gold running in veins], some fine steelheads, and a basket of luscious wild grapes which grow in great profusion.

Also fishing in the Klamath River was a skipper from the Golden Gate. Guess he wanted a snack of fresh water after the San Francisco waterfront. Said he's been coming to this same spot for twelve years and knows the river like a native. They were camped in a meadow surrounded by chestnut, cherry and apple trees and nearby was a little cabin with a chimney of hand cut soapstone bricks. Natives said the cabin was over 100 years old and the oldest landmark in Hamburg.

The burgundy throats in the lovely white orchids Maurine Leslie wore at her wedding to Gilbert Fleet on Wednesday, just matched the tones of burgundy in the accessories which complemented her winter blue costume suit.

The country club at Minot, North Dakota had a formal tea this week, and can you imagine from where the decorations came that "formed the delightful setting"? Yes, from Klamath. A huge box of evergreens and forest foliage in autumn tones was gathered and sent to the Dakota city by Mrs. M. L. Gaetz who formerly made her home there. Reminds us of the time we shipped a holiday box to the midwest, filled with pine cones, Oregon grape and other mountain gleanings. From the comment that came back, it was vastly appreciated.

Mrs. Charles A. Sprague goes in for informality as much as her governor-husband, according to reports reaching us from the capital city where Mrs. Sprague is presiding over informal at-homes on Tuesday afternoons. These are said to be really informal and most delightful, with many dropping in from Portland and Salem's surrounding area.

Mrs. Sam Miller brought back a sack full of black walnuts and butternuts when she came home from Nebraska recently. We've enjoyed them a lot since we found a red brick and a flat iron.
