

CUT IN BUDGET THREATENS BIG DAM PROJECTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—Western congressmen prepared today to resist reported proposals of drastic reductions in the 1940-41 budget for reclamation project construction.

Reports reaching Representative Leavy (D-Wash.), among others, were that estimates before the budget bureau were being cut as much as 50 per cent below what the reclamation bureau believed to be the minimum sums required to keep work on specific projects geared to present speed.

Leavy said that if this were so, it would mean the "crippling" of such undertakings as the Central valley project in California, Grand Coulee dam in Washington state, the Colorado-Big Thompson project and several others.

"I for one," he declared, "propose to do everything in my power to see that these items are restored to the amounts the reclamation bureau says are required. Not only would these reductions be calamitous to the western irrigation states, but any abrupt curtailment of the present program would entail a terrific loss to the government itself."

The Washington congressman, a member of the house committee on interior department appropriations, pointed out that in the case of Grand Coulee dam approximately $24,000,000 was needed to complete the structure during the next fiscal year.

A 50 per cent cut, he added, would mean that the contractor would have to readjust his entire program, lay off part of his 8000 employes and then obtain an ex-tenstion of time in which to complete the dam.

"In the end," said Leavy, "the cost of the dam to the government probably would be increased by $4,000,000 or $5,000,000."

Californians, among them Representative Buck (D), said the $170,000,000 Central valley project would be similarly affected.

With work just getting underway on all units of the big water conservation project and 5000 men now on the job, any reduction below minimum requirements, they said, necessarily would mean that the program would have to be curtailed.

Subconscious Impulses Get Blame for "Christmas Ties"

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (AP)—There's a reason why people give those "nightmare" neckties for Christmas.

It's the same reason, a psychological one, which impels friends or relatives to give you caramels when they know they'll plague your false teeth, or prompts housewives to give particularly nauseous perfumes to beauties.

Dr. Robert N. McMurray, psychologist on the staff of the Chicago Central YMCA college, said today that "unconscious hostile impulses" were partly to blame for the giving of gifts not always appreciated.

"But these hostile, aggressive impulses, although no longer conscious, have not ceased to strive for satisfaction. Being denied direct expression, they seek a roundabout satisfaction. The result is a compromise. The object of these uncharitable sentiments is not attacked openly—the individual's conscience will not permit this.

"Instead, at Christmas time or at a birthday or a wedding, a gift is chosen, which, while superficially the expression of very noble sentiments, contrives at the same time to attack, injure or frustrate the recipient."

However, Dr. McMurray said, no one should get peeved about such gifts because actually the giver is not conscious of the motivating subconscious impulses and neither is the recipient.

NO CLAIMS

LONDON, Dec. 21 (AP)—An Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) dispatch from Moscow today said that for the second day in succession the Russian war communiqué made no claims of gains in Finland. It reported only "petty skirmishes" and reconnaissance activities.

LEPKE STILL FACES BIG RACKET CHARGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP)—Swarthy Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, 42, who will be sentenced January 2 for conspiracy to violate the narcotics laws, still faced today narcotic and briber charges under which he could be sentenced to a maximum of 164 years in prison and $150,000 in fines.

Judge John C. Knox told William Kleinman, Buchalter's attorney, that "you should know how you are going to plead on those other charges by January 2," but Kleinman did not indicate how his client would plead.

A federal court jury convicted Buchalter of conspiracy last night after hearing the government describe him as "top man" in a $10,000,000 international syndicate which smuggled drugs into the United States illegally from France, Japan, China and other countries in 1935-36-37.

Buchalter, once described by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey as "public enemy No. 1" and "the nation's No. 1 industrial racketeer" did not take the stand to defend himself. His counsel offered brief character testimony and insisted that the jury disregard his reputation as an industrial racketeer.

Max Schmuckler, a co-defendant, was convicted of the same charge, but David Kardonek, the third co-defendant, was acquitted. Maximum penalties of two years in prison and $10,000 fines can be imposed on Buchalter and Schmuckler.

Kardonek and Schmuckler denied participating in the syndicate's operations. The government maintained that attractive women, in the syndicate's pay, had brought forbidden narcotics into this country in trunks, in several instances. Coded cablegrams were used to direct the wide-spread activities.

The object of a nation-wide manhunt last summer with rewards totaling $50,000 on his head, Buchalter surrendered quietly to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover here last August 25. He had been a fugitive two years after running out on a $10,000 bail.

Federal authorities had wanted him on the narcotics and substantive charges, and Dewey had sought him for racketeering in garment and bakery businesses. These are among the charges still pending against Buchalter.

CHECKS FLOWN TO BAKER GUARDSMEN TO KEEP PROMISE

PORTLAND, Dec. 21 (AP)—Major General George A. White, commanding the 41st division, national guard, played Santa Claus yesterday.

He arranged with Major Carlton F. Bond, commanding Pearson field at Vancouver, Wash., to fly pay checks to Baker, Ore., guardsmen.

The checks were lost in the heavy holiday mail shuffle and had to be flown to keep White's promise the men would receive them by December 20.

They were in payment of three weekends of special field training and totaled $742.

In Denmark there is full unanimity that our country, in the midst of war growing out of the present unhappy European conditions, still must cling to her policy of neutrality.—Prime Minister Thorwald Stauning of Denmark.
