

City Briefs

Meeting Planned—Members of Wednesday club of St. Paul's Episcopal church will have a meeting Wednesday evening in the Parish house at 8 o'clock at which time dessert will be served. Hostesses will be Mrs. Hans Norland, Mrs. Joseph Fales, Mrs. D. J. Rees and Olive Wilson. Any member not called is asked to contact Mrs. Norland at 1813. At this time they will be given a card showing given for the club and each member is asked to bring a deck of cards.

Parents and Patrons—The Parents and Patrons club of KUH will meet in the high school auditorium Wednesday at 8 p. m. Selections by the music department will be presented and there will be a social hour in the cafeteria after the business meeting. A not-aquainted program has been outlined by the social committee and refreshments will be served. The executive board will meet at 7:15 p. m.

From School—Bob Nicodemus, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Nicodemus of Roseway drive, accompanied by Bill Kapples of Riverside, Calif., and Jack Bowman of Medford, returned to their studies at the University of Oregon Sunday morning after spending the weekend here. All three are affiliated with Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

Ski Meeting—Beginners' first aid class for ski patrol will meet at the city hall in the council chambers at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday. All those interested in becoming members in the local branch of the National Ski Patrol are cordially invited to be at the meeting.

From North—Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hayman of Portland, parents of Mrs. James Johnston of the Alpha apartments, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Koethe of Pioneer, Wash., returned north Sunday after spending the past week in Klamath Falls. Mrs. Koethe and Mrs. Johnston are sisters.

Return Here—Mr. and Mrs. John S. Orr of the Alameda apartments have returned to Klamath Falls after spending several weeks in California visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Underwood of Berkeley. The Ors arrived home Saturday evening.

On Honor Roll—Three Klamath Falls students won places on the fall semester honor roll at Southern Oregon college of education. They were Dukey Monroe, Lou Bunnell and Harriett Bruner.

Lutheran Aid—The Klamath Lutheran Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Subject, 1410 Oregon avenue, on Tuesday, January 16, at 2 p. m. There will be installation of officers. Members are urged to be present and friends whom are interested are cordially invited to attend.

Card Party—The VFW auxiliary will sponsor a card party on Thursday afternoon, January 18, beginning at 1:45 p. m. at the KC hall. The public is cordially invited to attend. Hostesses for this will be Annie McGilvary, Ethel Prairie, Nettie Galarneau and Ruby Roufs.

Returns to School—Pat Nidorf, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. X. Nidorf of Roseway drive, was able to return to his studies at Sacred Heart academy on Monday morning following a severe attack of influenza.

Townsend Club—Members of Townsend club, No. 1, will meet Tuesday, January 16, at the KC hall at 7:30 p. m. Dancing will follow the meeting with music provided by Roe Kinney's orchestra.

Board Meeting—There will be a meeting of the Parents and Patrons club of Klamath Union high school on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. at the high school. The executive board is scheduled to meet.

On Leave—Harvey Ovgard is home for his 10-day leave from the navy. He is stationed at San Diego. He is visiting his mother, Mrs. Ann Ovgard, 1203 California avenue. After his visit he will return to the navy for one year.

Pinochle Party—The Eagles auxiliary will sponsor a public pinochle party Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Eagles hall.

Drum Corps—The Eagles auxiliary drum corps will practice at Baisiger's Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Members are urged to attend.

MUSCULAR BACKACHE—SORENESS—STIFFNESS PAINS—ACHES
If first good rubbings with soothing, warming Musterole don't bring you glorious relief from those torturing muscular aches and pains—due to cold—by all means see your doctor. But Musterole usually DOES THE WORK.

Musterole gives quick relief because it's MORE than "just a salve." It's a wonderful soothing "counter-irritant" which penetrates the outer layers of the skin to help ease local congestion and pain. Used by millions for over 50 years! 8 strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong, 40%.

MUSTEROLE
Better Than A Mustard Plaster!

Improving—Friends of little Katharine Newman, young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Victor E. Newman of St. Paul's Episcopal church, are happy to learn that she is now able to sit up in a chair after an illness which has confined her to her bed since September 26.

Leave Hospital—Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Weiser and young daughter, Wilda Mae, were able to return to their home at Beatty after receiving treatment at Klamath Valley hospital for injuries received in an automobile accident near Bonanza.

Returns Here—Walter P. Hannon returned Sunday morning from Portland where he was called on business in connection with his starch plant on the Merrill highway several days ago.

Leave for East—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hovey are interested to learn they left Friday from Laguna Beach, Calif., for New York City. They will be gone from the city for several months.

Visiting Here—Marcell Newman, student at Armstrong's in Berkeley, Calif., spent the week-end here visiting her mother, Mrs. James Johnston. Miss Newman was to return south to resume her studies Monday night.

Bring Own Cards—Members of St. Mary's Altar society are holding a card party at the Willard hotel Thursday evening. Those attending were asked to bring their own cards.

Improves—Donald Chilcote, 17, son of Mrs. Sadie Chilcote, 1035 Washington street, was able to return to the family residence after receiving treatment at Klamath Valley hospital where he suffered an attack of pneumonia.

Theft Told—H. B. Groseclose of Belleau City discovered the loss of an army shirt and a Canadian army blanket stolen from his room Monday morning. He advised city police.

To Lakeview—R. T. McDonald of the Portland office of the farm security administration, with Earl Gardner, local supervisor, is in Lakeview for this week on business for their offices.

Returns Home—Mrs. Lou Bidler of the Alpha apartments was able to return to her home Sunday after receiving medical treatment at Klamath Valley hospital.

To Algoma—L. E. Pearson of the Algoma Lumber company returned to his home in Algoma after receiving medical treatment at Klamath Valley hospital.

Mrs. Cister Home—Mrs. Earl Cister and infant son returned to their home, 2235 Radcliffe avenue, from Klamath Valley hospital on Sunday morning.

From Dunsmuir—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tepper of Dunsmuir, Calif., former residents of this city, spent Saturday here visiting friends and shopping.

Hazbins—The Hazbins of the Eagles auxiliary will meet at the home of Sarah Gibson, 2240 White avenue, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Stella Purcell will be hostess.

Theft Told—A Ford V-8 tire and wheel were stolen from E. L. Durant, 1502 Pleasant avenue, according to a report which Durant made to city police Monday.

Reports Theft—Carl C. Steele, 834 East Main street, reported the theft of his Colson bicycle to city police Saturday.

EDITOR OF CHINA PAPER TO SPEAK AT LIONS CLUB

The Lions club will be privileged to hear Dr. Robert Norton of China at their luncheon Tuesday noon at the Willard hotel.

Dr. Norton has spent considerable time in China and is an authority on the war in China. He is the editor of the paper "China Today," a world traveler and an authority on international problems. As this will be the only public address Dr. Norton will make in Klamath Falls, the public is cordially invited to hear him and reservations for the luncheon can be secured by calling the Willard hotel.

GIRL INJURED IN SLIP ON FLOOR

It was the thirteenth for Patricia Brown, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Brown of route one.

On Saturday, January 13, Patricia was visiting at the home of friends when she slipped on the highly polished waxed floor and fell.

Patricia was treated for a fractured left shoulder at Klamath Valley hospital.

You Are Cordially Invited
To a
FREE OPENING LECTURE
Of a Course in Public Speaking and Personal Development

PUBLIC LIBRARY, KLAMATH FALLS

Wednesday, Jan. 17 and Friday, Jan. 19, 7:30 p. m.

At this meeting the class work will be discussed and outlined. Learn to speak with ease—it will unfold opportunities for you.

403 Riverside Myrtle Hibbard, Instructor. Phone 1837-W

GOOD SKIING DRAWS HEAVY PARK TRAVEL

A stream of cars entered Crater Lake national park Sunday as park rangers reported the heaviest travel of the year. A total of 230 cars and 936 persons entered the south and west entrances, some for "the ride," but in the majority for participation in winter sports.

There were a few minor injuries reported by Carlisle Crouch, chief ranger. Bill Cummings, sports editor of The Herald and News, suffered a broken ankle on one of the ski runs.

Maximum temperature was 42 degrees, minimum, 15 degrees. Visibility was excellent and the day "was perfect for sports," Crouch observed.

Roads were in good winter condition and although skiing was "pretty good," Crouch said Monday that the trails from the rim to headquarters were "pretty rough due to heavy use over Sunday."

Accommodations for the week-end were taken in advance and hungry sportsmen were fed in relays at the dining room and ski rest.

Saturday's travel was fairly good, Crouch observed. Rangers reported 36 cars and 129 persons visited the park.

The south entrance which is referred to as the Klamath entrance has had an exceptionally heavy travel. To date the total number of visitors is 17,144; south entrance, 10,155; west entrance, 6989. The records start from October 1, 1939.

OBITUARY

MARCIA MARIE YOUNG
Marcia Marie Young, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Young of this city, passed away Sunday, January 14. Baby Marcia was born in Los Angeles, Calif., 4 months and 14 days ago. Besides her parents she is survived by a sister, Nancy Lee of this city; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eagan of Los Angeles, Calif.; a grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Carter of Crescent Mills, Calif.; two aunts, Ruth Luft of Los Angeles, Calif.; two uncles, Lloyd and Jack Eagan of Los Angeles, Calif. The remains of little Marcia rest in Ward's Klamath Funeral Home, 225 High street, where friends may call. Notice of the funeral arrangements will appear in this paper later.

VITAL STATISTICS

BIRTHS

EDISON—Born at Klamath Valley hospital, Klamath Falls, Ore., January 14, 1940, to Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Edison, 629 South Sixth street, a boy. Weight: 7 pounds 8 ounces.

DEATHS

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

GRANDFATHER WAS QUEER

Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Among the New Books At the City Library

By MRS. EMBERT FOSSUM

Paul Revere Square, by Mrs. Louise Kent. This is a modern love story with the Beacon Hill section of Boston and the hills of Vermont for localities. It is the story of the poor young cousin from the country who inherited family money, and the complications which followed. It is a novel and unashamedly a light novel, and though some of the caricatures may cause a bit of wincing, no fundamental sentiment need cause even a Bostonian shudder. For though some of the characters are exposed by a pen dipped in acid, the rest make a gay and intelligent group whom it is a pleasure to know. The novel is amusing at times, and has some really charming descriptions. In the end selfishness and even light-mindedness are left in the lurch and virtue is rewarded—altogether an agreeable modern story. Mrs. Kent looks on the bright side of Vermont (a state, famous since the last presidential election, for its rugged individualism) and is charitable toward the folkies of Boston.

Life and Times of William Howard Taft, by Henry Pringle. This 2-volume work is a long, full biography of Taft, based on the Taft papers to which the author was allowed unlimited access. In his preface the author describes his work as "authorized but not official." This is an important work, scholarly without being merely erudite. It is a many-sided and highly detailed—too much so for some less exacting minds—and as lively as his subject, who was no fascinator, permits. The habit of down-rightness is, in the last analysis, what makes Taft an appealing subject for a biography. And since the habit seems to be catching, it makes Mr. Pringle's book one of the best political biographies of recent years.

A Sea Island Lady, by Francis Griewood. This long chronicle of a southern family living near Beaufort, South Carolina, begins with the Civil war, and continues through the years to the 1920's. The heroine is a northern girl who marries first a carpet-bagger, and later takes as her second husband Stephen Fenwick, a member of one of Beaufort's most aristocratic families. It must have taken an enormous amount of knowing to have written so straightforwardly and convincingly of many different times, tongues and manners. In many ways this is an amazing performance, this story of love and loss, of death and time and change. For though it is very long, and lacks the racy technique of "Gone With the Wind," it is still an absorbing novel. The war part is especially well done, and so is Emily's first contact with the sea-islands and the real south. Her minister, praying carpet-bagger of a first husband, Aaron Moffett, is shrewdly sketched and so is Stephen Fenwick, the dashing southern gallant, never quite healed from the war. The story is so real and immediate that the illusion of time is almost lost.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

Grandfather Was Queer, by Richard Wright. This book describes the peculiarities of American characters and institutions in the years before the Civil war. The general store, the barber shop, the tavern, and some of the famous wags and eccentrics of that time are brought to life.

'INDIAN' SWASTIKA—French aviators who've adopted this head of a Sioux Indian for their combat squadron are quick to point out that the swastika is Indian, not Nazi. Thus does America influence "styles" at the front.

of those days are considered. This is not an important book. On the contrary, it is probably the most completely unimportant book of the year. Not for God, for country, nor for Yale is any one under any sort of compulsion, moral or legal, to read it. Yet this very fact lends it fascination, for there are so many books we ought to read that to find one in a different category is very pleasantly exciting. And when it is entertaining, as well as unimportant, it becomes well-nigh irresistible.

DOUBLE TROUBLE
ST. LOUIS, (P) — When it rained, it poured for Bus Driver Nick Hummel.

Hummel had a minor accident at a busy street intersection, then started up again and within 10 minutes clipped nine other autos.

He was charged with careless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, not having a chauffeur's license and making a u-turn in a congested district.

LAW-ABIDING ROBBER
PHILADELPHIA, (P) — A customer robbed Taxi Driver Frank O'Neil of $6 and his cab, but O'Neil had a good word for him.

He told police he watched as the man drove the cab away, and that "as far as I could see, he stopped for every traffic light."

MODOC POINT MAN HURT IN WRECK
S. E. Rife, well known resident of Modoc Point and purchasing agent for the Lamm Lumber company, suffered bruises and minor injuries early Sunday morning when his sedan overturned several times on the Dalles-California highway near Modoc Point.

A passing motorist is understood to have brought Rife to Klamath Falls where he received treatment for his hurts. The car was badly damaged.

ANNUAL M. I. A.
Gold and Green BALL

Saturday, January 20 Legion Hall
HERB COCHRAN'S BAND
Semi-Formal

How are YOUR resolutions holding out?

By this time, a lot of the resolutions that were so shining bright on New Year's day are badly bent or broken.

Maybe your resolutions were too lofty for human frailties. We'd like to suggest another resolution that is both easy and profitable to keep.

It's just this: Read the advertisements regularly.

Sounds childishly simple, doesn't it? But it makes sense when you stop to think about it.

You have a certain amount of money to spend for all the things your family needs. It's up to you to get the most out of it. And the advertising pages of this paper can help you.

Here merchants and manufacturers advertise their best values, their lowest prices. They know they can build business only by giving you satisfaction. You know you can depend upon the things they advertise. It works both ways.